

HEALTH UNIT GETS VARIETY OF GIFTS

Director Tells of Visit to Eastern States in Interest of Work

Eastern people are greatly interested in the nursing work being done in Marion county and the way this work has developed, according to Elinor E. Thomson, director of the nursing service of the Marion county child health demonstration.

Miss Thomson has just recently returned from the east. In speaking at a meeting of the county nursing committee, Miss Thomson said that not only were eastern people interested in the nursing work being done in Marion county, but that many communities in the east were incorporating in their work plans similar to those of Marion county including bedside service, training of nursing students in public health work and instructive health work being done in homes.

At the meeting of the county nursing committee, held June 9, Dr. E. L. Brunk who has just taken up the dental program in the county under the auspices of the Marion county child health demonstration, stated that he is now ready to make dental examinations of the teeth of children in all communities, free of charge.

Dr. Brunk said that within a few days, dates would be announced for the several health centers in the county, when those free examinations would be held.

Mrs. R. E. Kleinsorge, president of the Marion county nursing committee reported expenditures from the several health centers in the county, as follows:

Mt. Angel, month of May, $48.-82 for scales and materials for making examination tables. Salem reported expenditures for May of $68.81 in nursing service for milk to families, materials for tuberculosis patients and medicine for diabetic patients. Hubbard health center during May, spent $103.10 which covers all its health equipment including scales, tables and tent of rooms.

Silverton health center for the month of May, reported expenditures of $21.20 for health center equipment and material for night-gales and laundry service. Also the donation of two scales.

Of interest to workers in nursing service, was the talk by Mrs. A. Russell, who has charge of nutrition work among the kindergartens of Hawaii. She said that herri-herri was the greatest problem in Hawaii, due to the lack of green vegetables, butter and milk.

At the meeting of the county nursing committee, representatives were present from Hubbard, Mt. Angel, Salem, Silverton, Mill City, Orvinal, Evans Valley and Sunny-side.

Student nurses from the University of Oregon were also present. The Marion county health demonstration was represented by Elnora Thomson, director of nursing service, and Amelia Feary, assistant director.

Baseball Same to New Yorkers as in "Podunk"

NEW YORK—New York takes its baseball just like Bankville, Missouri, only in larger doses and, perhaps, a little more seriously.

All the rivalry, emotions, arguments, slang and war whoops found in the country towns are multiplied a thousand or more times in Gotham.

Blankville has its baseball heroes. So has New York. Umpires here get as little praise and as much batting as does the lone Blankville arbiter.

When the Yankees, Giants and Robins are winning, each attracts large crowds. When they are in a slump, each has a congregation of loyal followers that refuses to desert the grand stand and bleachers. The same holds true in Blankville.

New York's baseball crowds, however, are far more cosmopolitan. The Japanese, Chinese, Italians, Germans, Slavs, Frenchmen, Englishmen, South Americans and other foreigners soon become addicts of the national pastime.

At almost any game, one can look over rows and rows of faces without seeing a native American. Of all the fans, the Japanese and Chinese are less given to manifestations. They smile and talk over the plays between themselves.

The negroes probably are the most enthusiastic and loudest in their cheers.

Vacation Time

Here you will find a reliable guide to Tillamook and Lincoln county beach resorts. Distances, road conditions and full information is given here in news and ad form.

Surf Bathing, Fishing, Hunting, Claming, Mountain Climbing, Boating

LEAVING Salem from corner of Commercial and Chemeketa street and crossing the bridge that spans the Willamette river; entering Polk county, Rickreall is 10 miles from Salem.

From Rickreall take the west side Pacific highway and travel north to Amity. This road is all paved with the exception of a quarter mile where the road crosses the Southern Pacific electric line. Amity is 23.4 miles from Salem. At Amity you have your choice of traveling 14 miles by pavement or 8.5 miles by gravel road to Bellevue. If you wish the pavement route, head straight north on the highway from Amity for 6 miles where a paved road forks to the left. Distance from Salem 29.5 miles. From here you travel west for 8 miles to Bellevue. If you wish to take the shorter but gravel road from Amity, turn west and you will find a fair gravel road which will lead you to Bellevue, which is just 30 miles from Salem. This is the more direct route and all distances from Salem to the coast will be figured by this route. From Bellevue to Sheridan a distance of 4.4 miles there is excellent pavement. On entering Sheridan you cannot but help note the sign: "You Name It—We Grow It." Sheridan is 34.4 miles from Salem.

At Sheridan you leave the pavement but there is an excellent gravel road to Willamina, a distance of nearly 5 miles. Willamina registers 39.3 miles by the speedometer from Salem.

Cross the Willamina river and after traveling about 5 1/2 miles you will come to a fork in the road. The main highway turns to the right here but those wishing to see New Grande Ronde should take the road straight ahead which joins the highway again in 3 miles and makes the total distance from Salem 44.3 miles. This fork of the road you will arrive at Grande Ronde which is 47.9 miles from Salem.

Going north from Grande Ronde 1 1/2 miles you will again be on the highway. This place is the Old Grande Ronde and is 49.3 miles from Salem.
