FAMOUS COMEDIAN WITH KLINE SHOWS

Charley Tyler, Descendant of Billy Kersands, Seen With Minstrel Group.

Several years after the death of Abraham Lincoln a body of his friends and admirers at Springfield, Ill., organized a memorial association for the purpose of erecting a monument to the martyred president and to perpetuate his memory by holding appropriate exercises at his tomb each year upon the anniversary of his death. Several years after, the committee having the annual event in charge made arrangements for the proper observance of the day. That morning, however, just before the parade was to start from a given point a disagreement arose among the musicians that comprised the band, as to the amount that they were to receive for services rendered. Try as they would, nothing could be done by the committee to pacify the musicians in their determination to walk out of the procession, and they did. A colored minstrel show was billed to play at the Springfield Opera house that night, and when their manager was apprised of the circumstances that had deprived the parade of a band, he hastily put the matter up to the members of his company, with the result that every one of them volunteered their services.

Not only that, but the company's quartet rendered several vocal selections at the tomb, all favorites of " Honest Abe" during his lifetime. And they, as they afterwards told of the incident, were only too sorry that they were not able in their humble way to do more for the great humanitarian who had worked so hard and eventually gave his life that the negro slave might become free men.

Billy Kersands was the featured comedian with the company at the time of which we write, and was recognized as one of the best comedians of his race. A direct descendant of his, "Jam-Up" Charley Tyler, is now featured with the Arkansas Minstrels, an aggregation of colored artists now holding sway in their large canvas theatre with the Abner K. Kline shows.

Tyler is conceded to be just as funny, just as versatile, as was Kersands. Oft-times he recalls amusing incidents that transpired during the life of the great emancipator that were handed down in his family from generation to generation. The Abner K. Kline Shows, under the auspices of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, will exhibit one week in Salem, starting Monday, June 21st, at the Fourteenth and B street show grounds.

Spring Is Pigeon Racing Time to This Inland City

MOLINE, Ill.—To the seven thousands residents in this vicinity of Belgian descent, the arrival of spring means that pigeon racing time is here again.

Every Sunday in the summer time some of the four pigeon clubs here conduct races, varying from 18 to 768 miles. Last summer the races were started from eastern cities. This summer the birds will be taken to western cities to begin their homeward races.

Several thousand birds have had practice flights of five to fifty miles.

A winner in a long flight is regarded by the pigeon lovers much as a horseman view the victor at a Kentucky Derby. Some of the pigeons develop a speed as high as a mile a minute, and the average time ranges from forty to forty-five miles an hour. Saturday evening the trucks carrying the birds for short races leave Moline, releasing the pigeons about seven a. m. Sunday. For longer flights they are taken to the starting point by train. The longest flight planned for this year starts at Amarillo, Texas.

BLACK CHERRIES NOW ROLLING IN

The Fresh Shipments May Run Up Towards a Hundred Cars From Salem.

The black cherries for fresh shipments are rolling in now, and it is possible that these may run well up towards a hundred cars. Counting the canneries that are using these varieties, there will likely be more than 100 cars marketed from Salem. The Hunt cannery is using the black kinds.

Young & Wells packed two cars of Lamberts for shipment yesterday, at their warehouse at the Salem end of the Polk county bridge. They were working into the night last night. They have enough Lamberts on the floor now to make up three cars, and they will send all out today, if they can get enough women to help. They need more women, and they are paying 8 cents a box for packing, which they say is the highest price ever paid in Salem. They expect to ship about 25 to 30 cars of Lamberts from Salem.

Denny & Co. packed two cars of Lamberts yesterday, and they were working last night to get partially cleared away for the receipts expected today. The cherry pool, under the direction of O. E. Brooks, packing at the plant of the Pacific Fruit & Produce company, has received already the equivalent of nine cars of Bings, Lamberts and Black Republicans. A. E. Berg, local manager for the company, is assisting. It is expected that thirty cars in all, or more, will be sent out. Some wonderful Lamberts are going now—two cars yesterday. They are being pre-cooled at that plant.

There is a story of a Scotch gentleman who had to dismiss his gardener for dishonesty. For the sake of the man's wife and family, however, he gave him a "character," and framed it in this way: "I hereby certify that A. B. has been my gardener for over two years and that during that time he got more out of the garden than any man I ever employed."

The train came to a stop at a small town in Mississippi, and the kinky head of a gentleman of color protruded from a window. Seated at his side could be seen a brown-skinned maiden.

"Does a cullud puhson by de name of Jim Brown, live heah?" he asked of a station longer.

"Ain't neveh heerd ob no Jim Brown heah, an' ah lived in dis town fo' ten years."
