Jean MacKenzie Becomes Bride of Dr. A. N. Pearson at Church Ceremony

The wedding of Miss Jean MacKenzie, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. MacKenzie, to Dr. A. N. Pearson of Kelso, Wash., was solemnized in a beautiful and impressive manner at 2:30 o'clock Sunday, June 20, at the First Congregational church. Dr. W. C. Kantner, using the single ring service, was the officiating clergyman.

The altar of the church was converted into a veritable garden bowery with latices intertwined with Dorothy Perkins roses and clusters of hydrangea, arranged with a bank of snapdragons, ocean spray and Canterbury bells in tall floor baskets and hanging baskets. A basket of lovely salmon pink snapdragons, with ferns, suspended from the chandelier above the altar gave a crowning touch to the bowery. The choir balcony was also appropriately decorated with baskets of summer flowers. The decorations were arranged by Miss Olga Chapman.

Before the entrance of the bridal party Miss Minnie Pearson of Portland, sister of the groom, sang "Because." A girls' quartet from Kelso, Wash., trained by the bride, gave an exceptionally beautiful rendition of "At Dawning." The personal of the quartet, each girl gowned in white, included Miss Alvin Carroll, Miss Irene Johnson, Miss Helen Sears, Miss Frances Sillier, and the accompanist, Miss Jean Gray. Mrs. Frank Zinn, church organist, presided at the organ for the wedding marches.

The bride made a charming picture as she approached the altar on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. Her wedding gown was a becoming mode of white satin back crepe worn with a full length veil, bound with lace and worn with a coronet of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was a lovely shower of Ophelia roses and sweet peas.

Mrs. E. B. MacKenzie of Seattle, a sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. Her gown was a lovely creation of apricot satin back crepe. Her bouquet was of sweet peas and snapdragons. She wore a rose picture hat.

Miss Elga Pearson of Portland, a sister of the groom, and Miss Gladys Benson of Eugene were the bridesmaids. Miss Pearson wore gold messaline and Miss Benson orchid taffeta. They, as well as the matron of honor, carried beautiful arm bouquets of snapdragons and sweet peas.

Little Miss Doris MacKenzie of Seattle, a niece of the bride, was ring bearer. She made an attractive picture in green organza. The ring was carried in a rose in the heart of a Colonial bouquet with a ribbon shower of sweet peas.

Joe Pearson of Pasco, Cal., came north to serve as best man for his brother. The hosts included E. B. MacKenzie of Seattle and Carl Anderson of Lewiston, Idaho.

Dr. Pearson, a prominent dentist of Kelso, is the son of Mrs. Johanna Pearson of Portland. Immediately after the ceremony, a reception for the wedding party and relatives was held at the MacKenzie home. Mrs. E. Welch and the Misses Elizabeth and Nona Welch were in charge of the refreshments.

Later in the afternoon Dr. and Mrs. Pearson left by motor for Nimrod Inn, up the MacKenzie. After August 1 they will be at home to their many friends at Days terraces, Kelso.

For the past two years Mrs. Pearson, who is a particularly accomplished young woman, has been a member of the high school faculty at Kelso. She is a graduate of the University of Oregon. Both Dr. and Mrs. Pearson are highly esteemed by a host of friends.

Among the out of town guests in attendance at the wedding were Johanna Pearson of Portland, the mother of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fitz and Mrs. K. P. Bonville of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho; Mrs. Elmer Campbell of Westboro, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Anderson and two sons of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. brides was Miss Ruth Eleanor Buchanan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred Buchanan, who was married to R. Ralph Clark of La Grande in the presence of a large assemblage Wednesday afternoon at the First Presbyterian church. The Rev. A. E. MacLeod performed the ceremony before a chancel of summer blossoms and palms. Church lights shed a soft glow on the bridal party and lent an air of solemnity to the occasion. The altar embankment was of arrowwood in tall floor baskets and dainty white blossoms alternated with pink hydrangeas and was particularly beautiful and artistic.

Just at the hour, 2:30, Organ Richard of Irish Bend sang "O Promise Me," with Miss Ruth Clark at the organ, and was followed immediately by Mrs. William Burgoyne who sang "At Dawning." As the deep tones of the organ swelled into Mendelssohn's wedding march the members of the bridal party appeared. Rev. MacLeod was followed by the bridegroom and his best man, Vernon Jenkins of Giescate, Cal., a fraternity brother. As they took their places before the floral embankment, the bride and her attendants entered and approached the altar. Little Ruth Burgoyne, in a frock of peach tone, and Heather MacLeod, in blue, were petite flower girls and carried baskets of petals to strew in the path of the bride. Miss Helena Scott, cousin of the bride, was her maid of honor. Miss Scott wore a dainty gown of lavender organza trimmed in shades of orchid, with hat to match, and carried an arrangement of roses and sweet peas in the pastel shades.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was never lovelier. Her wedding gown of white satin, with circular skirt, was cut on simple lines with a silver flower as its only ornament. The veil of white net, edged with rich lace, was vastly becoming to her brunette beauty. It was held at the sides with tiny wreaths of orange blossoms and was arranged in cap effect. She carried a shower arrangement of butterfly rosebuds, orchids and lilies of the valley.

The ushers included Maurice Buchanan, brother of the bride, and James Buchanan and Wilmer Smith, her cousins.

A profusion of blue, pink and white old fashioned flowers and Canterbury bells in baskets decorated the reception rooms in the home of Rev. and Mrs. MacLeod, forming a lovely background for the wedding party, their relatives and a few friends. Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clark, the bridegroom's parents, received with the bridal party. Mrs. R. L. Weatherford and Miss Sarah Currier presided in the dining room where a low basket of pink rosebuds and smilax added an exquisite touch to the table. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Arthur Buchanan, Mrs. Robert L. Glass, Miss Zelma Shattuck, Miss Frances Smith, Miss Malinda Smith and Miss Alice Leah Buchanan.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark left after the reception to motor to Waikawa lake on their wedding trip. They are to be at home in La Grande.

Mrs. Clark is the older daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred Buchanan and one of Corvallis' most charming young women. She is a graduate of Oregon Agricultural college conservatory of music, class of '24, and possesses unusual musical talent. She is a member of Alpha Xi Delta sorority.
