

AUTO CLUB MEMBER ATTEND CONVENTION

300 Delegates Formulate Program to Promote Motoring Progress

WASHINGTON, June 26.—The troubles of Mr. Average Car Owner and the assurance that must be taken to protect him in his pocket and in the continued enjoyment of his rights on the highways furnished the main theme of discussion at the annual convention of the American Automobile association held recently at Chicago.

With more than three hundred delegates from every section of the country on hand to formulate a program for the coming year, the meeting was the largest of its kind in the history of the country. Following an extensive discussion of the more acute problems confronting the car owners, a series of resolutions were adopted and these will be made the basis for a "Bill of Rights" for the car owners everywhere and a vigorous campaign to enforce them prosecuted.

One of the first resolutions on which the convention went on record was a ringing declaration urging state governors and state legal officials to use all their influence to do away with the "fee system of arrests" on the highways as manifested in the operations of speed traps and roadside courts. At the same time highway officials were urged to keep the main highways as free as possible from detours and keep the public informed of their closing and opening.

Among the other resolutions adopted were declarations to the following effect:

First, opposing the principle of compulsory automobile liability insurance as not being in the interest of safety and as calculated to place an unfair burden on the class of responsible car owners.

Second, opposing the suggestion put forward at the time of the last motor conference for changing the tail light of automobiles from red to yellow and urging instead of making this dangerous innovation, the railroads of the country be asked to adopt new, distinctive and uniform signals at grade crossings.

Third, urging that congress enact a law for the regulation of motor vehicle common carriers and that such legislation be general in application and make provision to protect the public both as to indemnification and rates.

Fourth, demanding that the removal of the war excise taxes levied by the federal government be repealed as quickly as possible and that the government get out of this field of taxation.

Fifth, strongly opposed to use of special taxes levied on car owners for other than road purposes.

Sixth, commending a fair and impartial investigation by the federal trade commission of gasoline prices.

Seventh, condemning the practice of granting concessions indiscriminately to the detriment of old public parks and calculated to destroy the beauty spots of America, if not checked.

One of the features of the convention was the address of Thos. P. Henry of Detroit, who warned the delegates that one of the main functions of motor clubs is to develop safety measures for their communities. Mr. Henry advocated an inter-club safety council which would act as a clearing house for the development of a safety program for the 800 clubs affiliated under the A. A. A. emblem.

"The motor club is the only civic agency that is competent to assume leadership in traffic safety, insofar as the automobile is concerned," Mr. Henry declared.

President Henry also stressed the importance of classification of the field of motor vehicles taxation in order that car owners may know what agencies are taxing them and for what purpose they are being taxed.

"As it is," he said, "the car owner may be paying as many as eight special taxes and a ninth may be imposed tomorrow. I cannot imagine anything that would help the car owners so much as the adoption by the country as a whole of the principles laid down by the motor vehicle conference committee."
