

Last Year's Average of One New Home a Day to be Surpassed in 1926

Plan Number 442
Economy and Comfort in Four Rooms

This attractive four-room shingled cottage may be built at moderate cost and will afford the maximum of comfort to the small family. The exterior is attractive and its beauty may be greatly enhanced by a few simple plantings of shrubbery and flowering plants. The small porch with its arched entrance, ornamental shutters and flower boxes beneath the front window, together with the brick trim along the paved terrace, combine with the well built chimney to give distinction to the design.

The living room is of ample size and may, if occasion requires, be used as a dining room. For ordinary use the small breakfast table in the kitchen will answer the purpose quite as well. The coat closet off the living room will prove a convenience.

Two good sized chambers connected by a small hallway complete the layout. The bathroom is favorably situated. Both bedrooms have cross ventilation and each has appropriate closet space.

CHAMBERS UPPER FLOOR IS FINISHED

Plastering Work Downstairs Being Pushed, to Be Completed Soon.

The double holiday last week hampered the work of the men working on the new Chambers & Chambers Furniture company building on North High street, according to a statement made by Carl Engstrom, contractor. The work is going on as well as could be expected, however, according to his statement, and no hitch is marring it.

The upstairs floor was finished Saturday. The plastering work downstairs in the building is being done now and is expected to be entirely completed within a few days. Windows are being installed upstairs, and in a few more days they will all be in there. Work of installing the windows downstairs will begin as soon as this is done and the plastering will permit it.

The "roughing in" for the plumbing is all completed, which means that all the pipes and steam lines which are hidden from view have been completed. The fixtures, such as faucets and sinks, cannot be put in until the woodwork is completed sufficiently to permit it.

The wiring is not yet completed for the same reason, although a large part of it has already been done. The heating fixtures have also waiting on the woodwork for their final installation.

The woodwork will be finished by August 1, when the contract calls for its completion, according to Mr. Engstrom. Work on installing the wainscoting, doors, baseboards, and other equipment has already been started.

The exact date when the new building will be put into use is not yet known, but the Capitol Business College expects to move into its new plant upstairs September 1.

BLIGH CONCRETE BEING POURED IN

Lathing of Office Section Begins Tomorrow, Plastering Soon.

Concrete is being poured up to the roof joists on the theater part of the new Bligh theater at State and High streets, according to a statement given out by Frank D. Bligh, owner. The store and office section of the building are being waterprooed outside in preparation for laying of brick and terra cotta which will be done this week.

Lathing of the store and office section will begin tomorrow. The plastering of it will start in some time near the last of the week. The last of the week will also see the putting in of the steel roof joists on the theater part of the building.

The concrete floor in the balcony has been completed. The floor in the basement will be put in this week some time.

The boiler for the heating system has arrived on the ground, but will not be put in for some time yet. It has to wait until the cement floor has set enough to permit installation.

Forms will be taken off the cement this week, and the problem of disposing of the wood from them confronts Mr. Bligh. He states that there will be a large quantity of wood that anybody can have for the trouble of carting it away.

American Industry Joins in Cooperative Research

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press)—American industries are estimated by officials of the bureau of standards to be spending half a million dollars a year in cooperative researches with the bureau to promote higher standards of products.

Under the research associate plan, adopted shortly after the war when the increasing demand for highly trained technical men threatened depletion of the bureau staff, a manufacturer places a graduate physicist, chemist or engineer, at the bureau for one or more years to carry on, with government experts, an investigation of a particular industry.

"This plan," says Dr. George K. Burgess, bureau director, "has proved valuable, both in the training of additional research specialists by association with the bureau staff and in maintaining the research output of the bureau in lines which are of special industrial importance."

The cooperative method, however, is looked upon as somewhat more certain of practical results since both the views of the government and private industrial experts are woven into the tests.

Partition Has Been Installed in Old Museum Making New Room.

The registrar's office at Willamette university presents a picture of working under difficulties these days, as the work of remodeling it and enlarging the quarters has begun.

The room just west of the present registrar's office has been cut in the partition between these two rooms. The office equipment of the registrar has been rearranged as a result of this work.

A partition has been installed in the old museum to make it over into two rooms. The partition runs north and south through the room. Plastering of it was completed Saturday.

Other work of office remodeling and moving of the museum exhibit to their new quarters will be done as soon as the present work is completed. No definite time for completion has been set.

Commonwealth Conference to Discuss State Rights

IOWA CITY. — Extension of federal authority through federal aid and subsidies in education, highway improvement, forest fire prevention and social welfare has revived the doctrine of state rights, not as a theory of nullification but as a protest against the encroachment of the federal government upon states as areas of local self-government, asserts Benjamin F. Shambaugh, chairman of the fourth annual commonwealth conference.

The conference, which meets at the University of Iowa, June 28 to 30, will discuss problems arising from presented inquiries as follows:

"Are states in danger of surrendering the management of their own affairs through federal favor and coercion?"

"Is an ever increasing centralization of power in the federal government inevitable?"

"Can the extension of federal aid be justified as a practical compromise between the principal of local self government and the principle of centralized government?"

"Are states now actually engaged in nullification of federal laws?"

BLACKBOARD ORDER FOR ROOMS SENT

Plastering of Third Floor of High School Building Progresses.

Blackboards have been ordered for the six classrooms to be installed on the second floor west end of the Salem high school building. Work of plastering them has been finished. The blackboards are expected to arrive by the middle of the week.

Plastering work on the third floor of the building has not yet been completed. When finished, the remodelled portion of this floor will be used for a music room. Plastering will begin Monday and end Wednesday on this part of the building.

The material for building the stairways will be here some time this week. It is now being prepared in the sawmill. It will be installed as soon as it arrives to give a completed stairway.

The flooring is already in, except for the hallway on the second floor to connect with the high school auditorium behind the stage. This hallway can be used as an exit in case of fire.

The heating fixtures are being installed now in the new part of the building and are expected to be finished soon. The wiring of the new part was finished Friday afternoon.

SPAIN FORCED BY REVOLT; PROSPECTS ALARMING

"Butcher" Weyler Involved
General "Butcher" Weyler, of Spanish War fame, was among the distinguished members of the military system who were put under arrest when the alleged plot was discovered. The causes for the unrest are varied. Some say, vaguely, that it finds its roots in economic conditions—with taxes and the like as prime factors. Others point to the indignation aroused over the government's substitution of the Merit system as opposed to the seniority system in determining the rank of military officers. The national organization of Army officers has officially protested against this new method. Its use was indicated in view of the great number of promotions deemed in order at the successful termination of the war in Morocco.

The Antefoco, a cultural and literary society, a bulwark of conservative opinion, has been accused by the government of fomenting rebellion. Many of its members have been imprisoned.

The results of the present situation may be far-reaching and serious. The Dictatorate will undoubtedly become more strict and arbitrary. Civil War, as such, may not be threatened but the long rumored division between the north and south may be made a possibility.

Specific Highway near Steiger's farm, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Callahan and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Callahan, of Portland, enroute for Salem, narrowly escaped death.

As the first attempt in investigating the possibility of establishing a public market in Salem, where producers of food stuffs will sell directly to consumers of food stuffs, Watson Townsend, chairman of the mayor's committee conducting the study, is anxious to learn how many farmers in this locality would be interested in such a market place if established. Those favoring the market are asked to communicate with this paper.

WHY ALL GOOD CATS WASH THEIR FACES

they would have to hurry, Jimmie had forgotten to wash his hands and face.
Daddy Barron said: "Young man, you can't go to town to meet Uncle Billie with such dirty hands and face. You will just have to go and wash, and be quick about it."

Jimmie ran away to wash. When he was gone his father looked at his watch and said, "We are late, mother. We just can't wait for the boy. Maybe it will teach him a lesson. We must go at once." So they drove off, leaving Jimmie behind. He felt very badly about missing the ride, and even more sorry not to be able to go to meet Uncle Billie. But after that Jimmie seldom forgot to wash his hands and face whenever they needed washing. He never forgot the time he missed going to meet Uncle Billie.

Ozone and Not Dan Cupid Is Spring's Love Tonic

LONDON—(Associated Press) Cupid has nothing to do with the epidemic of lofemaking which comes with spring.

It is ozone, and not the god of love, so British scientists told the Royal society, which fires poets and lovers at the passing of winter.

There is no sense in psycho-analyzing frisky youth to determine why it acts differently in the spring as these scientists said in the spring months there is the maximum amount of ozone in the air, with the result that lambs frisk and all nature has more energy than in any other season.
