MYSTERY CASE IS DEFYING SOLUTION

Body could locate the trail of her kidnappers. Experts said that the clothes she wore showed little signs of the 17-mile hike she told of across the Mexican sands under a desert sun.

Kenneth Ormiston, her ex-radio operator at Angelus temple, whose name had been linked with the mystery, appeared, said he knew nothing of the matter, and disavowed. He disappeared so effectively that police and sheriff's officers with renewed interest in his testimony have failed in a wide-spread search to re-locate him.

Last night there came to light a telegram sent from Oakland three days after Mrs. McPherson disappeared, to Angelus temple, saying "your daughter is O. K." It was addressed to "Mother" McPherson. Mrs. Kennedy is known as "Mother Kennedy."

A telegraph company employe who received the message said that the man who wrote it tallied with the description of Ormiston. Hand-writing experts express the belief that Ormiston did write it and one, Milton Carlson, has been subpoenaed to testify along that line before the grand jury. Mrs. Kennedy says it was the "work of a nut."

WOMAN COULD NOT SLEEP

Her Mother-in-Law Knew A Remedy

Mrs. Belle Thompson, of Georgia, was in a very weak and run-down condition for four years. She had great difficulty in getting to sleep at night and even then did not sleep soundly. She would wake up again and again. Besides this her appetite was poor. "My mother-in-law told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash," she writes. "I took six bottles of the Vegetable Compound and I was not the same woman at all. I could sleep and would get up in the morning singing and feeling fine. I am the mother of three children and always after the babies came I had to take treatments, but I can truly say that this last time I have only used the Sanative Wash. It does me more good than the treatments. It keeps me on my feet to care for my children and I do most of my work. I feel it my duty to let you know how both of the medicines have helped me." "Potter and His Clay" Chautauqua Bill Today

Immanuel Male Quartet Draws Repeated Applause on Wednesday Evening; Mason Jubilee Singers Will Perform for Audiences Tonight

A crowd that taxed the big brown Chautauqua tent to its capacity heard the Immanuel Male Quartet last night. The crowd appeared charmed by the quartet's performance, as it listened silently and applauded loudly at the end of each number, so that repeated encores were given.

The quartet also sang at the afternoon's show. Dr. Sudindra Bose, an authority on political economy and Oriental conditions, spoke on "The Awakened Orient."

Dr. Bose, a well educated man, shows that western learning is easily within the grasp of the intelligent people of the Orient.

The Immanuel quartet is a versatile group, having a wide range of songs among those it gives at each performance. Humorous selections, negro spiritual songs, ballads, religious music, classical numbers, and others are included in the program. Besides this, several solos and numbers on the saxophone were given. The men showed that their ability on this instrument is not short of their singing.

This afternoon and evening the Mason Jubilee Singers, among the best known performers of the kind in the country, will perform. Some of the best singers of their race are said to be included in this group.

J. Smith Damron will give a demonstration of "The Potter and His Clay" this evening, in addition to the singers. He uses a potter's wheel of the old fashioned hand variety, and gives a clear explanation of the whole art of pottery making. His demonstration is said to be of fascinating interest to children as well as adults.

This morning the juniors will have a lunch on the state house lawn. They are asked to bring their lunches with them at 9 o'clock in the morning. They will have a costume parade at 6 o'clock in the evening, with prizes awarded for various costumes. All are asked to be present at 5:30 in the afternoon with their costumes. Billy Sunday will be here for his Chautauqua appearance Saturday night, it was definitely announced last night. Talks were given by Mr. Harris, who is local manager of the Chautauqua, and Dr. H. C. Epley. Mr. Harris told of the necessity of selling season tickets for next year in order to get the Chautauqua back again. Dr. Epley mentioned Salem's need of an auditorium, and suggested the Chautauqua platform next year as a logical place to start the movement for one.

A. M. Sherwood, director of the Chautauqua, announced the program for the following day.

land next year. He will in a few days plow up the fields and sow them to vetch, and turn this under for green manure. His land is also "under the ditch," the West Stayton ditch, and he can use irrigation. His 40 acres of peppermint is under irrigation now. First year crop. Shows up fine.

From the Vick farm the party proceeded to the P. E. Thomasson place, where there was another pulling demonstration, by one of the oldest pullers, showing good work. All the pulling demonstrations showed the same kind of efficiency. The Thomasson flax is all from an original peck of seed, that has been increased year by year, until there will be several hundred bushels of it for the crops of next year. It was furnished by the United States department of agriculture. It is disease resistant, yields a long straw, and a large amount of fiber per ton of straw. It is a great asset to this district—something that no other district in the world has.

At the Noon Hour The ladies of the Aumsville district had prepared a wonderful spread under the trees on the Thomasson lawn. The Salem Chamber of Commerce had sent all the dishes, some of the help, and ice cream and loganberry punch, etc. The tables fairly groaned with delicious viands. There were tables for 125, and they were filled once, and nearly filled again.

CORNHUSES VISIT, PLAN EAST TRIP

While in East Will Manage Farm Recently Purchased There

SILVERTON, Ore., July 14.—(Special)—Mr. and Mrs. Amos Corhouse and daughter, Marie, left this week for the Puget Sound country where they will visit for a short time before returning to Silvertown to prepare for their trip east. They will also visit at Eugene before leaving for Minnesota where they expect to make their home.

Mr. Corhouse has been very active in Silvertown circles, having been a member of the city council for a number of years. He confides to friends that they must not be too surprised should they see him return to Silvertown. While in the east he will manage a farm which he recently purchased there.

The Corhouses expect to leave for their new home during the first part of August. Others going at the same time are William Thompson who will be employed in the east by Mr. Corhouse, and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Dybbetter, prominent Brush Creek farmers.

Swimming Races Feature Opening of New Y Tank

Tom Gawley With Twelve Swimmers From Portland Put on Demonstration Before Backed Audience, Schedule of Classes Announced

Hordes of small boys splashed, dived, and swam in the new YMCA swimming tank at its formal opening last night, displacing so much water that some of the spectators expressed wonder that they didn't start a flood.

A number of races were held for the boys, who were classified according to size. Oscar Gingrich won the one length race for small boys, and Mack Sardos second and David Walp third. Claude Martin won the same race for the medium sized boys, with Horace Stewart second and Archie Bruksal third. Richard Strausbraugh won the length race for the larger boys, with Lou Stewart second and Ike Kafoury third.

Paul Kafoury won the backward race for the small boys, with David Walp second and Mack Sardos third. Clarence Martin placed first in the backward race for the middle sized boys, with Tom Stevens second, and Carl Johnson third. Richard Strausbraugh was winner in the backward race for large boys, with Leo Seely second and Ike Kafoury third. In this event the boys lay on their back on the water and propelled themselves the length of the tank.

Twelve boys from Portland under the leadership of Tom Gawley of the YMCA put on exhibitions of life saving, the tandem crawl and diving. The life saving display consisted of the tired swimmer carry, wrist hold and break, and front strangle and break, besides pulling the patient from the water and different methods of artificial resuscitation.

flax growing and linen making here. He called upon Governor Pierce, secretary of State Sam Kozier, P. E. Thomasson, and a number of others, all responding with encouraging words.

After the dinner, the crowd inspected the penitentiary flax plant, the Miles linen mills, and Salem's second linen mill in course of construction.

It was a most successful tour. It gave a chance for comparisons to those who attended a similar tour and dinner at the same farm home two years ago. The progress in that time has been wonderful. Some of the biggest men in financial circles in the northwest expressed themselves as hoping this may be an annual event.

Provides $100,000 for Farmers The state emergency board yesterday authorized a deficiency appropriation in the amount of $100,000 to be used for the purchase of flax straw in connection with the operation of the state flax plant at the Oregon state penitentiary.

It was agreed by Governor Pierce and other prison officials that the receipts from the sale of finished flax products would be credited to the general fund of the state as fast as they are received as an offset against the deficiency certificates.

The board also authorized a

ORPHAN BOYS WILL GIVE CONCERT HERE

Father Flanagan's Boys From Omaha to Be Heard Here Friday, July 16

Thirteen talented youths who range in age from nine to 14 years, more familiarly known as Father Flanagan's boys of Omaha, Neb., will be heard in Salem Friday, July 16, in the St. Joseph's auditorium on Chemekeka street. Their program consists of band selections, a playlet, dancing and solo numbers. They come to Salem under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus council of this city.

The entire troupe, from the band leader, Lefty Ryan, 13, down to nine-year-old Eddie Powers, the youngest member, displays phenomenal talent and their performances give evidence of skilled and careful training, reports from other cities indicate.

Shows similar to the one to be presented in Salem by the orphan boys have been given in various sections of the northwest and midwest for the purpose of advertising Father Flanagan's home in Omaha, which now boasts an enrollment of 280 boys, taken from all walks of life.

Two shows will be given, one in the afternoon at 4 o'clock for children, and the other at 8 o'clock. No admission will be charged.

SILVERTON GRAIN BEING HARVESTED

Heavy Crop Reported From Many Sections, Clover Seed Damaged

SILVERTON, July 14.—(Special)—Harvesting of grain is well under way at Silvertown now. The majority of the fields are already in shocks while the remainder will be there within a few days. As a whole the crop is reported to be quite heavy. This is not, however, true of the spring grain, as because of lack of rain, will yield very poorly. Threshing will begin in the Silvertown farming district next week.

The clover seed crop is reported as being considerably damaged by the hot weather and winds of late week.

Acid Stomach "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" Better than Soda Hereafter, instead of soda take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly. For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges the souring waste from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda. Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent bottles, any drugstore.—Adv.
