Oregon Women in Attendance at National B. and P. Convention

Oregon is represented by a large quota of delegates at the eighth annual convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs which opened in Des Moines, Iowa, Tuesday and continues through to July 18. Mrs. Louise Hacker Turner, retiring president, Miss Margaret A. Fleming, newly elected president, and Miss Martha M. Gasch, corresponding secretary of the Oregon federation, left Thursday for the convention city. There they will be joined by other Oregon delegates who are already in the past—Miss Cecelia M. Beyer of Astoria, elected second vice president of the state federation at the recent state convention; Mrs. Clara E. Pomeroy of Salem, educational and personnel research director for the state federation; Miss Jessie Armstrong and Della Bryant of the Coos Bay club; Mrs. Clara F. Healey of Salem, and Mrs. C. J. Cotton of Coquille.

It is anticipated that some 5,000 women representing 775 organizations of women actively engaged in business or the professions, will attend the Des Moines convention. They will come into Des Moines on railroad systems and will meet at the Hotel Savoy III which has been designated convention headquarters. The convention this year will concern itself with the shaping of future national policies touching women in business, and the carrying out of the federation slogan, "Better business women for a better business world." It is hoped to have a membership of 100,000 by 1930, and in all probability a drive for membership will be inaugurated.

In summarizing the activities of convention week, the Oregonian continues as follows:

Another important angle of the work of the convention will deal with the raising of educational standards for girls and women in business. Plans will be made to cooperate extensively with school systems in all the states in an effort to urge at least a high school education for every girl in business and to enlarge the opportunities for business women for advanced education and special vocational work in summer and extension schools. Programs will also be outlined which will enable every business women's club to work toward the abolition of illiteracy.

A pre-convention meeting of the national executive council has been called, Mrs. Turner, as retiring state president, will represent Oregon at this session.

The national executive council will meet Saturday morning, July 17. This will be the newly elected national officers; also the recently elected state presidents. Miss Fleming will represent Oregon at this meeting.

Among the prominent speakers invited to talk at the convention will be Mrs. Ida Clyde Clarke of New York, distinguished journalist, who will speak Monday night at the Coliseum, and Thyra Ames, dean of women at the University of Pittsburgh, who will deliver a series of talks each morning.

Four Oregon clubs which have organized and joined the federation during the past year will be granted charters at this time: Coquille, Silverton, Baker and Albany. Mrs. Cotton will receive the charter of her club, Coquille, the others to be received by the state president, in the absence of representatives from those clubs. A large reception is planned at the state capitol building. At this time the governor of Iowa and the state officials will greet the convention guests. Several excursions and post-convention trips have been planned.

FALLS CITY GETS READY FOR MEETING

Preparing for Big Epworth League Institute, to Begin August 12th

An adjourned meeting of the city council was held on Monday night. Routine business was disposed of, after which the water situation was discussed. From reports of the water superintendent we would judge that the city has no serious shortage of water if the supply is conserved. There have been many wastes, some due to wilful waste of the water by the users, others due to leaking mains and leaks at the reservoir which permit seepage. The present restrictions as to sprinkling will continue to apply to all who have paid for the season for hose permit, but a more liberal arrangement will probably be made by the water superintendent with those who are paying a monthly rental of fifty cents per lot for irrigation purposes. It is absolutely necessary to use care in the use of water, with plenty for necessary use but none to waste. The pressure necessary for adequate fire protection must be maintained, and both Mr. McKown and City Marshall Zimmerman desire the hearty cooperation of every water user. Leaking faucets both inside and outside the house should be fixed. New washers don't cost much and save lots of water.

The park committee was authorized to arrange for additional lighting on the street to the city park for the duration of the Epworth League institute.

The street committee reported on street improvements, which included oiling on Main street, and considerable graveling. They will probably secure more gravel or crushed rock this week, and will continue the improvements authorized.

Rev. H. H. Miles was present and reported on improvements being made by the Epworth League institute. The walk from the inside and outside the house park to the river is completed, except a street crossing, which the city will provide, probably using gravel. Many other improvements are planned. It is hoped to complete the work by August 1st, as the institute sessions begin August 2nd, lasting one week.

The Jobs Party Returns

Mrs. F. H. Jobs, Miss Pauline Jobs, Miss Ina Graham and Henrietta Jobs arrived home last Thursday night from a three weeks trip to southern Oregon and northern California points. They made the entire trip with a well equipped camping outfit, stopping wherever and whenever they pleased, and secured many fine pictures.

land and then to Crater Lake, while a hard trip, was well worth while.

One of the most interesting side trips was a visit to the lava fields and ice caves of Modoc county, California. On this trip they had the company of an old friend of Mrs. Jobs and family, who had made the trip before, so knew just where to take them.

The drive to the Oregon caves was a wonderful experience, the scenery grand, and the caves themselves interesting, but a wearing trip, taking about three hours.

Gopher Tails in Imperial Valley Worth a Dime Each

EL CENTRO, Cal.—(AP.)—A new use for gopher tails, in which gophers have no interest, has been found in the Imperial Valley.

The tails are becoming legal tender in many valley towns where a bounty of ten cents a tail is paid by the county horticultural commission.

One man, a storekeeper near High Line, brought in 2350 tails in one bundle. He said he had taken them in trade over his counter. Since the gopher extermination campaign began in the valley last June, more than 250,000 gophers have been killed and the "scalps" presented for cash.

LAST OF '26 HOP CROP PURCHASED

Oregon Crop for Year Aggregated 75,000 Bales, Setting Record

With recent sales of 779 bales of hops here the 1925 crop has passed from the hands of the growers with the exception of 62 bales held by an Albany producer. The Oregon crop for 1925 aggregated 75,000 bales and was the largest since prohibition went into effect a number of years ago.

The last two sales of hops reported here brought approximately 30 cents a pound. One lot owned by T. B. Jones contained 256 bales while another lot of 233 bales was owned by Romeo Gouley. The hops were purchased by Roberts & Linn.

Roberts & Linn have also purchased during the past few days approximately 1000 bales of hops from London dealers operating in the Willamette valley.
