in Silverton, Continuing
His Visit

SILVERTON, Ore., July 15.— (Special.)—Andrew Boyeson, the uncle of L. H. Meyer, after having packed his trunk preparatory to leaving for his home in North Dakota, is now unpacking and will remain for sometime longer.
Mr. Boyeson has been visiting at the home of his nephew for a few weeks and had planned to return to his home this week.
Thursday he received a letter from his daughter telling him to remain longer because of the heat in the middle western state.
During his visit here Mr. and Mrs. Meyer have taken a number of trips to show their visitor the Oregon country. Among these were trips around the Mount Hood loop and to the coast.

American Legion Auxiliary of Silverton. Martin Doerfler was solo-

FEATURE PROGRAM
NOW AT ELSINDRE

Five Acts of Vaudeville and Picture Combined in Exceptional Bill

As the headliner at the Elsinore theater today in a feature program of vaudeville and moving pictures, Rosemary Dering, the wonder girl who has recently been selected as Red Grange's leading lady for his contested motion picture, is most unique in her style of dancing, assisted by her most able partner, Noel. Rosemary herself shares honors with the leading dancers of America. Rosemary Dering and Noel McDaniels head the vaudeville act in a most delicious and original series of dances, some of the Russian school and others of the fantastic variety, all very satisfactory from an audience standpoint. "Oriental and Modern Fantasy" suggests a very fanciful bit of artistry.

Other feature acts on the program include Fred C. Hagan and company in "The Bear Cat," by Willard Mack. It is a story of a marriage. It is a story of his worries, all done in a comedy that is a sheer delight.

The three Melody Girls in a variety of harmony numbers and solos is an exceptionally good act.
They wear exquisite gowns and carry an effective scenic stage setting that lends the proper atmosphere to an altogether pretty act.
Hijlan's wonder birds offer an interesting bit of entertainment, and show the wonderful possibilities of the cockatoo when trained.

Tim Marks, billed as "The Versatile Chap" and called "California's Favorite Son," is the equivalent of five feature acts rolled into one. He does everything there is to do.
"Don't," a whirlwind moving picture comedy, a snappy successor to "Excuse Me," will also be seen at the Elsinore, together with the Association vaudeville program.

ROUND-UP FILM IS NOW AT THE OREGON

Norman Kerry Is Cast in Leading Role; Pendleton
Scene of Picture

A galaxy of famous screen stars twinkles through the many interesting scenes of "Under Western Skies," an Edward Sedgwick-Universal-Jewel production which comes to the Oregon theater today.
Norman Kerry is cast in the leading male role, and it is a most unusual role for him. He plays the blase son of a wealthy banker, Kerry then changes to the role of a rancher, and rides with the best of the cow punchers of the great Pendleton round-up. Anne Cor-wall plays the part of Ella Parkhurst, the character impersonated by Charles K. French. Parkhurst is an eastern Oregon rancher and Ella is a fitting representative of the girlhood of that state.
Ward Crane, as Otto Stern, a banker of Pendleton, Or., is the "heavy" of the picture and puts into it all that finesse that has won for him the title of the screen's greatest villain. Kathleen Key has been cast in the part of Mille Lewis, who for a time is Stern's accomplice. Eddit Gribbon, movie fans' favorite burglar, makes the comedy along with Harry Todd. George Fawcett impersonates the character of James Erskine wealthy New York banker, who heads a group of bankers seeking to obtain control of the wheat lands.
