Double Wedding in Gardens at Smart Home Is Outstanding Event of the Month

A very beautiful double wedding was solemnized Sunday evening in the gardens at the H. C. Smart home in Salem when Miss Dorothy Frances Smart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Smart, became the bride of Mr. Harold Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis E. Wright of Portland was married to their son, Mr. Clifford A. Smart.

More than 100 invitations were issued for the wedding. A beautifully designed lattice work, entwined with ivy and myrtle, and unbanked with large palms, lovely baskets of hydrangea, sword ferns and white roses, formed an attractive background for the bride parties.

The rooms of the Smart home were also attractive with lovely baskets of pink and white flowers.

Mr. Leon Jannison, accompanied by Mrs. Jannison gave a beautiful rendition of "All for You," preceding the wedding march from Mendelssohn, played by Mrs. Albert C. Sutter. At the first strains of the processional the company rose to its feet and remained standing during the ceremony.

Miss Constance Smart, maid of honor for her sister, Miss Dorothy Smart, led the double bride party to the altar, followed by the first bride, Miss Dorothy Smart. Following Miss Smart came Miss Kathryn Wright, only attendant of her sister, Miss Frances Wright.

The bride, Miss Dorothy Smart, who approached the altar on the arm of her father, was exquisitely lovely in a gown of white satin crepe, designed with a low waist line and circular skirt with a wide crushed sash of the same material. Her full length veil of white tulle made into a cap effect with a wreath of orange blossoms, is an heirloom in the family of Mrs. Lyman Stead, wife of the superintendent of the Oregon state school for the deaf. She carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses and pink sweet peas. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

Miss Constance Smart was lovely in a gown of orchid georgette, trimmed in crystal beads. She wore a band of orchid tulle around her head and carried an arm bouquet of Ophelia roses, orchid sweet peas and baby breath, tied with a large bow of pale orchid silk maitre.

Miss Kathryn Wright, who attended her sister, was very charming in a gown of pink georgette over cream lace with a crushed sash of pink satin. She carried an arm bouquet of Ophelia roses, pink sweet peas and baby breath. She chose a braided silver band for her hair.

The bride, Miss Frances Wright, who also approached the altar on her father's arm, was beautiful in a gown of satin crepe with straight lines, daintily sheered and trimmed with exquisite hand-made lace. Her full length hand embroidered veil of white tulle was trimmed daintily on either side with tiny wreaths of orange blossoms. The cape effect of her veil was exceedingly attractive. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls, an heirloom of her mother. She carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses, pink sweet peas and and bauvardia.

Mr. Bryan Goodenough of Salem served as best man for Mr. Cook. Mr. Smart chose Mr. James Price of Portland for his attendant. The lines were read promptly at 7 o'clock.

During the ceremony Miss Grace Elisabeth Smith sang in a charming manner, "Not Less Than This."

Just before the ceremony was completed was the beautiful rendition of "Because," by Mr. Leon Jannison.

Mrs. H. C. Smart, mother of Miss Dorothy Smart, and Mr. Clifford Smart was charming in a gown of poudre blue crepe and wore a corsage of bride's roses and sweet peas.

Mrs. Lewis E. Wright of Portland, mother of the bride, Miss Frances Wright, was lovely in a gown of rosewood flat crepe, and her corsage was of bride's roses and bauvardia.

Mrs. Cook, mother of Mr. Harold Cook, was becomingly gowned in black lace, and wore a corsage of bride's roses and pastel shaded sweet peas.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held. The long table was beautifully decorated with baskets of pink and white flowers, and illumined with rose tapers in silver candelabras. Mrs. Elva Suter cut ices, while Mrs. Joy Turner Moses presided at the coffee urn. Miss Annabelle Laurence served punch. Assisting in the serving were Miss Kathryn Wright, Miss Constance Smart and Miss Mildred Abbott.

Both brides received many beautiful gifts, including particularly lovely pieces in silver, linen and electric contrivances.

For her going away suit Mrs. Smart chose a stunning novelty sport dress of silk georgette, with a white sport hat, while Mrs. Cook had a chic sport suit of gray tweed and a lovely green felt hat to harmonize.

Mrs. Smart is a native of Milwaukee, Wis., and moved to Portland with her parents a short time ago. She was a graduate of the high school of Milwaukee with the class of 1922 and has been employed as a stenographer since that time.

Mrs. Smart graduated from Salem high school and is now an architectural draftsman. Both Mr. and Mrs. Cook are graduates of Salem high school. Mrs. Cook with the class of '22 and Mr. Cook with the class of '17. Mrs. Cook since that time has been employed in the office at the Oregon state school for the deaf, while Mr. Cook is assistant attorney general for the state of Oregon. Both Mr. Smart and Mr. Cook are ex-service men.

After a fortnight at Crater lake Mr. and Mrs. Smart will be at home in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook left immediately for Neakowin where they will spend a week. They are building a home on Riverside Drive and will be at home to their friends there early in the fall.

Fortnight at Cascadia

Dr. and Mrs. Phil Newmyer are spending a two weeks vacation in Cascadia. Dr. and Mrs. Newmyer left for the resort last Friday.

Howard Woodworth Celebrates Third Birthday

An exceedingly delightful affair was the picnic party on Saturday afternoon in Painter's woods, at which Howard Woodworth, the small son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Woodworth, celebrated his third birthday. The little folk played in the grove and listened to the stories which their elders told them. The delicious refreshments included miniature French pasties which Mrs. Clinton, Howard's grandmother, brought from Portland for the party.

In the guest group were Mrs. Clinton and Miss Eleanor Clinton, both of Portland, Dr. and Mrs. S. B. Laughlin and children, Mary, John and William, Mrs. Brown and small daughter, Doris Jean, Betty Worth, Prof. and Mrs. Williston and small son, Horace III, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Woodworth and children, Beatrice, Louis Jr., and the honor guest, Howard.

There will be a surprise program of comedy stunts. A number of distinguished visitors have been invited for the evening.

Members are asked to bring box lunches, while coffee and a hot dish will be the donation of the hostess. Members will be permitted to bring guests.

House Party at Rockaway

A group of girls who plan to enter OAC in September were the honor guests at an enjoyable house party at Rockaway over the week-end. The affair was sponsored by Miss Ruby Drager and Miss Doris Loveland, Salem members of the Alpha Delta chapter of the Alpha Xi Delta sorority, together with Miss Danta Robbins, also a member of the sorority, at whose beach cottage the party was held.

The honor guests motoring to the coast for the occasion included Miss Marguerite Bailey, Miss Hazel George, Miss Pauline Marnach and Miss Betty Hummel.

Dinner at Rutherford Home

Mrs. W. A. Rutherford entertained at an attractive dinner at 6 o'clock last night honoring Mr. and Mrs. August P. Risser of Dallas and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Peterson and 4 year old son, Billy, of Grand Island, Neb.

Mr. and Mrs. Peterson spent two weeks in Los Angeles, Cal., with Mr. Peterson's parents. They also plan to return home by this route. Mr. Peterson will leave today, while Mrs. Peterson and son plan to spend several weeks with Mrs. Rutherford and her sister, Mrs. Risser, of Dallas.

Church Plans Program

A delightful program is being arranged by a group of young people of Leslie church, to be given on the evening of Wednesday, July 28, in the church auditorium.

Clever songs by quartets and choruses, vocal and piano solos, and readings will make up the program. A special feature will be an interesting band playing a repertoire of familiar pieces.

about 40 guests. Rev. Clarence Reynolds, pastor of the Christian church of Corvallis, officiated, the ring ceremony being used. Miss Miller was attended by Miss Laura Wright of Salem, and Karl Wenger, also of Salem, served as best man.

The ceremony was performed in an arbor made up of the overhanging branches of a large tree, with greenery and colorful flowers entwined. A lover's knot crowned the arbor. Preceding the ceremony Miss Reba Powers of Monmouth sang "I Love You Truly." The wedding march was played by an orchestra consisting of Mrs. Alice Wenger, guitar, Miss Maxine Ulrich, banjo, Miss Treval Powers, mandolin and Treval Powers, violin.

The bride wore a sport dress of rosewood crepe de chine, and carried a shower bouquet of gladioli. Her attendant, Miss Wright, wore a sport dress of yellow and black and carried a bouquet of Shasta daisies.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to the guests on the river bank, where the large fires had been built on which the meal was cooked.

The bride and groom left for a wedding trip which will take them to points along the McKenzie highway, Crater lake and the Oregon caves. They will make their home in San Francisco.

Mr. Cave was well known in Salem, having attended the Salem high school here, and having been employed by the Roth Grocery company for some time. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cave who reside on North Church street, Salem.

LIVING and LOVING

WHY "CRABBED AGE"? "Crabbed age and youth cannot live together." True. All the world admits that Will Shakespeare knew whereof he spoke. But—

Why need age be "crabbed"? This is the question which eternally troubles the younger generation who can't get along with their elders and don't want to get along without them.

Age needn't be crabbed, of course. Nor is it with those travelers on the Sunset Trail who have retained their sense of direction and abided by the rules of the road.

Yet (however sad, 'tis true) some of our Very Best People fail to learn the gentle art of growing old, and through their ignorance lay up a store of unhappiness for themselves and for the folks who are dearer to them than their own lives.

It is easy enough to be pleasant when one is very young and there is the chance of a new love, a fresh interest being ushered in at almost any dawn.

It isn't so very difficult to be agreeable when we are in our prime, assured of the devotion of our mate, speaking with the voice of authority to our children, receiving the respect of our neighbors, reaping the full harvest we have sown.

It is when the harvest days are over that the hard times come. When the nights are filled with longing for loved ones gone, and leisure infests the days in which we watch others carrying on familiar activities an inexorable Fate has forced us to relinquish—this is when it becomes increasingly difficult to keep the spirit and the smile sunny. Well may our prayer be:

"From crabbed age deliver us!" Pleasant youth or popular prime will not insure against it. Only ceaseless efforts, in good time begun, will make us the kind of old person we really want to be, will relieve us of the perversities and petty selfishness that follow in the wake of Time.

"It is more comforting to have the scripture of your heart inter-their meaning. According to her, now is as good a time as any to say to ourself concerning our future:

"I will not give up my home if I possibly can keep it! I know when I eliminate myself from my own familiar life I become a foreigner in a world made by younger people whose ideals and standards neither fit my virtues nor my perversities.

"If live in somebody else's house I must, I will hold my tongue, leaving all within that house to go their own gait without criticism from me, but holding fast to my own decencies."

These are not quite Mrs. Harris' own words, but they are her convictions.

LIVES ON FARM IN OKLAHOMA

Happy Woman Praises Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

In a sunny pasture in Oklahoma, a herd of sleek cows was grazing. They made a pretty picture.

But the thin woman in the blue checked apron looked as she looked at them. She was tired of cows, tired of her tedious work in the dairy. She was tired of cooking for a household of boarders, besides caring for her own family. The burdens of life seemed too heavy for her failing health. She had lost confidence in herself.

One day she began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and her general health began to improve. She took it faithfully. Now she can do her work without any trouble, sleeps well and is no longer blue and tired.

This woman, Mrs. Cora Short, R. 3, Box 396, Oklahoma City, Okla., writes: "Everybody now says: 'Mrs. Short, what are you doing to yourself?' I weigh 135 and my weight before I took it was 115. I have taken seven bottles of the Vegetable Compound."
