Poincare, Former French President, Will Attempt to Select New Cabinet

FINANCIAL CRISIS SEEN

Herriot Declaration of Policy Not Acceptable to Parliament, Leader Hands in Resignation

PARIS, July 22.—(By Associated Press.)—The senate early this morning adopted the bill of Minister of Finance De Monzie providing for the transfer to the Bank of France of the remainder of the Morgan loan, as the chamber of deputies had previously passed the bill, it now becomes a law.

PARIS, July 21.—(By Associated Press.)—Raymond Poincare, former president of the republic and former premier, will take up the task of organizing a new cabinet to replace that headed by Eduard Herriot, which failed tonight to receive the support of the chamber of a vote of 290 to 237.

President Doumergue, in deference to the general desire of parliament, the press and public, has decided that the time is ripe for a national ministry representing all, or as many parties as possible, to work for the rehabilitation of the finances of France. He asked M. Poincare to organize such a ministry and this Poincare agreed to do. He will consult with political leaders tomorrow.

The Herriot declaration of policy was not acceptable to parliament and Herriot handed the resignation of his ministry to the president. Notwithstanding the resignation of the cabinet, M. Demonzie, finance minister, continued his efforts for the passage of his bill authorizing the transfer to the bank of France of the balance of the $100,000,000 Morgan loan, amounting to approximately $25,000,000. The chamber adopted this with a clause added by the finance committee permitting a further note issue of an equal amount. This bill has yet to go through the senate.

PARIS, July 21.—(By Associated Press.)—M. Demonzie, the French finance minister, was greatly shocked at the misconception placed on his words in the chamber of deputies this afternoon by an American news agency.

He authorized the Associated Press to deny emphatically that he ever said the Bank of France would suspend payments. He thought he had made it clear that unless the Bank of France was provided with funds by the sale of the remains of the Morgan loan, it would be obliged to stop payments in behalf of the treasury at all its branches in France.

Salem Cab Driver Returns, Drove Trio to Portland

Ernest Teske, Surprised to Find Police Wanting Him, Unable to Aid Officers in Search for Man and Woman Who Took Edith Hurst, Aged 8

Ernest Teske, Salem taxi cab driver, sought by local police since early yesterday morning in connection with the sudden disappearance here of a man and a woman, known as Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Williams, alleged kidnapers, accompanied by a young girl, believed to be Edith Hurst, 8, drove complacently into Salem yesterday afternoon, surprised that he was "wanted," and was questioned by Frank Minto, police chief.

According to the story told by Teske, he was called to a local hotel about 9 o'clock last night. A man, a woman and a girl entered his car, saying they wished to reach Portland at once. He immediately started north, running to Portland.

"LADY ALICE"

TOKIO.—Miss Alice Pettes Adams, a New England woman who has put most of her energies into service with the Japanese government, has been awarded a pension by the Japanese government in recognition of her "Distinguished Public Service." This award is doubly notable; for Miss Pettes is not only the first American to be so recognized but she is the first woman of any nation to receive such an honor from the Japanese government. Several years ago her work was made the basis for the award of a title the English equivalent of which makes her "Lady Alice."

CONNOISSEUR ATLANTIC CITY.—Herbert A. Dodge, speaking before the National Confectionary Salesmen's convention here, stands as authority for the statement that "the kid with the penny is the great American candy buyer and the foundation of the industry." Mr. Dodge supplies this with "Seagrass" as still the big purchaser. The kid is also the most discriminating buyer. He'll walk blocks to get the particular kind of candy he wants. He will accept no substitutes.

JIGGERS THE GRACKLES! MT. VERNON, N. Y.—Every year about this time there descends on this city a veritable plague of grackles. The birds infest all the trees, rout out the more amiable inclined birds, and make a large unhappy racket. As a result the citizens feel inclined to rout the pestiferous birds, come what will. The other evening the firemen spent strenuous hours turning fire hoses on the denser flocks. The birds took wingless flight. The next step is to burn sulphur candles. That may discourage the birds. Finally, if the sentimentalists can be overcome, it may be that the sportsmen of the city will be asked to take down their ancestral shot guns and go after the birds in earnest. A warning is one thing; a whiff of sulphur is another, but shotguns have a fine finality about them. Few grackles recover from well-directed shots of lead. Very few.

The oil supply man charging that his wife became infatuated with the football player, declares that she called him a "wonderful boy" went riding with him on one occasion last June and at another time refused an empty seat next to Grange, and, sitting on his lap, clasped his face in her hands and embraced and kissed him.

PAUL SMITH'S, N. Y., July 21.—(By Associated Press.)—Leaving the summer White House where he had been a guest for 24 hours, Senator Fess, republican, Ohio, indicated today that the administration in the next session of congress would seek to improve agricultural conditions by the legislation along sound economic lines, but would not favor price fixing of crops as advocated by farmers organizations in the west.

Undoubtedly there will be action at the next session, Mr. Fess said, to strengthen measures already taken in behalf of the farmers and it will be along "sound lines" designed to facilitate the marketing problem.

The views of the Ohio senator were given a few hours after the midwest farm conference at Des Moines, Iowa, had been concluded but did not comment on that meeting.

DRUNK DRIVER CONTEST SEEN

Judgment Returned Against Spaulding Following Failure to Plead

WILL APPEAL CASE TODAY

Constitutionality of Ordinance Fixing Bond and Minimum Fine May Be Tested in Circuit Court

A test case of the city ordinance demanding $500 bail for persons released following arrest for driving while intoxicated, and a minimum penalty of $100 fine and 60 days in jail for persons guilty of the charge, is expected to result from A. L. Spaulding's failure to appear to plead before Mark A. Paulsen, police judge, at 10 o'clock yesterday, and the return of judgment against him yesterday afternoon, following a conference between police judge and Fred A. Williams, city attorney.

Spaulding's attorney, Donald W. Miles, filed a demurrer Tuesday, stating that the ordinance calling for posting $500 bail for release on this charge was "unjust and unconstitutional," and that the punishment of $100 fine and 60 days in jail, called for in the ordinance, is "out of proportion to the offense." The demurrer was overruled by order of Mark Paulsen, and yesterday morning at 10 o'clock was set as the time for Spaulding to plead to the charge. Neither Spaulding nor his attorney appeared. Following a conference between Judge Paulsen and Fred A. Williams, city attorney, the judgment was rendered.
