U. S. FOREIGN TRADE IS SECURE SAYS COOLIDGE. (Continued from page 1.)

ment matters, the conduct of foreign relations, it was emphasized, is in the hands of the state department and the president.

Referring to some published reports that Governor General Wood of the Philippine Islands was resigning his post, it was said, that President Coolidge could not see the slightest foundation for them.

Mrs. Coolidge this forenoon inspected the marine barracks, situated in the woods a mile from White Pine camp.

An illustration of the wilderness in which the president is spending his vacation was offered last night when hounds treed a wild animal in the thick forest around Lake Osgood, from White Pine camp. From its screams the guides assumed it was either a black bear or a lynx, which are fairly numerous hereabouts. The dogs and the prowler made such a disturbance that the White House colliers, Prudence Prim and Rob Roy, were aroused and joined the chorus. The president, however, was said to have shown no concern and the noise finally subsided.

TRICKY CUTTING. The new skirts though narrow in appearance have all the width necessary and are cut so that one walks with perfect ease.
