Mrs. Harve Commons of Mt. Angel has been visiting old friends here the past week.

Pratum

There was a general opinion in this community that flax was hard on land. This has been entirely ascertained by the yield of wheat on soil that produced a heavy crop of flax last year. Wheat grown on flax land produced a crop almost if not altogether as heavy as wheat grown on corn or potato ground.

A number of families who are touring in three automobiles from Nebraska, due to arrive here over a week ago, have so far failed to make their appearance.

Miriam Beesely and Grace Kleen were Portland visitors last Tuesday.

Mrs. Chas. Smith and her three children from West Linn were here Sunday.

A solo by Miss Evelyn Emery at the Sunday morning service was very much appreciated.

Miss Miriam Beesely called on Miss Anna Perarovich at Chemawa last Sunday.

Grace Kleen is staying with her grandmother in Clackamas county this week.

Lowell Lambert had his straw stack burned while threshing last Saturday. A spark from the engine started the fire. No grain was lost.

CHAPLIN PORTRAYS GREAT LONELINESS

But He Makes Comedy of It All in His New Film, "The Gold Rush"

Were you ever out in the great alone When the moon was awful clear And the icy mountains hemmed you in With a silence you 'most could hear.

Then you have a hunch what it means to be alone in a crowd, a among strange people where every stranger in a strange land—among people where every man is for himself. If you don't know what this feels like, then see Charlie Chaplin in his great comedy, "The Gold Rush," a United Artists corporation release, now playing at the Oregon theater.

See the little tramp, a disappointed prospector, amble into the dance hall, seeking, searching for a little companionship—surrounded by the merry makers, but with never a sign of welcome from anyone. Then left along while the crowd of lucky ones go on with the dance.

Until a smile from "the girl" seems to kindle a spark, and as he steps forward to the greeting—finds that it is for someone else. This, and many other little touches of life's ironies is what makes "The Gold Rush" the great picture it has been acclaimed by press and public.

STRENUOUS PLAY WARNING ISSUED

Board of Health Cautions Against Extreme Week-End Exertion

The following warning against too strenuous week-end recreation has been sent out by the Oregon state board of health:

"This is the season when on Friday nights or on Saturday noons one sees the road filled with motor cars, and trains and buses packed with happy people all going away from town for the week-end. On Sunday night or Monday morning the same people come trooping back to the town, many of them haggard and worn. The 'call of the wild' is irresistible to most people and is one which all of us, who are engaged by our desks in the cities, can well afford to heed for a day or two each week. But why not be sensible about it? Just because you are going to the seashore, or to the woods, is no reason for overdoing it.

"Although exposure to the sun is recognized as a measure of great value in treating some diseases, going to the beach and lying on the sand for the main purpose of getting sunburned is foolhardy. The effects of sunburn, aside from disabling a person, at times results in conditions dangerous to health. Acquire your sunburn and tan gradually and by the end of the summer you will be just as brown and will not have been laid up for a few days with a severe burn nor will you have run any risks to your general health.

"Many people take long trips over the week-end, camping out at night. This may be a recreation, but often it is hard work. If you are soft, don't try to do too much. If you intend to camp out at night, be sure to provide the necessary equipment. Don't carry a lot of needless truck. After you have discarded everything that isn't essential, go over your pack again and thoroughly check the necessary articles.

"At all times be careful of the water you drink. Remember that clear, sparkling, running water is not always safe. Often it is dangerous. The safest policy is to boil all drinking water unless you know it is of good, sanitary quality.

"Many of us city-living individuals are unable to stand the strenuous life of the open air and the sunshine until we have become little accustomed to it. A hot-house plant cannot survive the ordeal to which nature puts the hardy perennial. Most of us have gone through a gradual hardening process. Use up your reserve by getting the most out of your week-end. Sleeping out of doors, moderate hiking and roughness will do much to improve your general health and make life worth while.

Mrs. Jack Alden was such a woman

PEOPLE were jealous of her invitations. Her little informal afternoons were as eagerly sought as big, formal evenings.

Hers was the secret of entertaining well—of saying and doing and serving just the right thing always.

Those fortunate women who may be called perfect hostesses are becoming more and more numerous every day. You no longer find them only in the ranks of wealth—but every day in every society.

Advertising keeps these women ahead of the commonplace. The advertisements tell them what is new—what is most delightful to serve and what to do. Above all, the advertisements tell how to accomplish much on little money—how to buy wisely and profitably.

Advertisements are a directory of the better things in life. Read them to know where and what to buy.
