

REALTORS HONOR OREGON CAPITAL

Victoria Wins Convention When Eugene-Salem Unite for State

In the selection of W. G. Kreuger as one of the directors of the Northwest Pacific Real Estate association, Salem was especially honored, according to Leo M. Childs, president of the Marion-Polk County Realty association. Mr. Kreuger attended the recent session of the association at La Grande, with Eugene Grabenhorst and Leo M. Childs.

Salem was a contender for the 1927 convention with Eugene, but when Victoria, B. C., entered the race for the next meeting, the Salem delegates agreed to withdraw and support Eugene, rather than have two Oregon cities competing, with the agreement that Eugene would support Salem in 1928 or 1929 for the big convention.

The lure of Canada was too strong for the Oregon city, according to Eugene Grabenhorst, and Victoria, B. C., won out for the 1927 meeting.

According to the Salem delegation at La Grande, Salem received most favorable mention in the convention as not only the linen city of the west, but as one of the most progressive cities in the entire northwest.

Efforts will be made by the Marion-Polk Realtors association to have a 10 per cent representation at the Victoria, B. C., meeting next summer, in order that Salem may be in the running for the annual meeting of the Northwest Pacific Real Estate association meeting in 1928 or 1929.

ACCIDENT REPORTS CALLED IMPORTANT

C. H. Gram and W. A. Marshall Return From First Conference

C. H. Gram, state labor commissioner, and William A. Marshall of the state industrial accident commission, returned here yesterday from Washington where they attended a national conference called by the secretary of labor for discussion of industrial problems.

The causes of accidents in industry and their prevention were considered. The conference particularly stressed the need in every state of preparing statistics concerning industrial accidents according to a code satisfactory to the government.

The state of Oregon was represented by Mr. Gram on the committee on resolutions while Mr. Marshall was appointed on a technical committee. This conference was the first national gathering to consider the subject of industrial accidents where all interests were represented.

Included at the conference were representatives of the largest industrial concerns in the country, railroads, insurance corporations, national safety councils, safety engineers, statisticians, federal and state officials and national labor organizations.

OWEN BANK FRAUD REHEARING DENIED

Supreme Court Passes Up Petition of Man Sentenced to Three Years

The state supreme court yesterday denied a petition for rehearing of the case of C. H. Owen, who is under three years penitentiary sentence for aiding and abetting in the misapplication of funds of the Jacksonville state bank.

The specific charge against Owen was that while in San Francisco he drew a check and collected from the bank the amount of $100, at a time when he had no funds or collateral in the institution. Testimony was offered at the trial showing that Owen's overdrafts in the bank aggregated more than $20,000.

It was said that Owen has left the state.

Other persons involved in wrecking the Jacksonville state bank included W. H. Johnson, cashier, and Chester Kubil of Eugene. Johnson was convicted of misapplication of the bank's funds and was sentenced to serve a term of 10 years in the penitentiary. He was pardoned by Governor Pierce after serving four years.
