ADENOIDS LIKENED TO OLD FLY PAPER

When Full of Bacteria They Should Be Removed, Physician Says

Adenoids can be compared to sticky fly paper, according to Dr. Ralph A. Fenton of the University of Oregon medical school, in an address Tuesday on "Infection" before the institute for physicians and nurses now being held in the senior high school building here.

Adenoids catch bacteria we breathe before they get into the body, according to Dr. Fenton, as fly paper catches flies. But like fly paper full of flies, they serve no purpose when full of bacteria and should be taken out.

The value of correct breathing while swimming was also brought out by Dr. Fenton. If all bathers follow his rule there will be less complaint of sore ears and noses gained while swimming, he said.

Dr. Richard B. Dillehunt, dean of the University medical school, held a clinic yesterday afternoon, at which children were examined to diagnose cases of flat feet, crooked spines and similar ailments.

Attendance was increased yesterday over the first day, with 24 physicians and 17 nurses present. One small valley town has all its physicians, three in number, attending the institute.

This evening a banquet and meeting combined will be held.

During a dust storm at one of the army camps a recruit sought shelter in the cook's tent. "If you put the lid on that camp kettle you would not get so much dust in your soup," said the recruit.

"See here, my lad," said the cook, "your business is to serve your country."

"Yes," replied the recruit, "but not to eat it."

MORE MILES TO THE GALLON

start stride finish

TRACK athletes realize the necessity of "start-stride-finish"—all three—in order to win. They strive to develop perfection in each. The same qualities are necessary to good gasoline. "More miles to the gallon" can result only from a combination of these three—in balanced proportion—[1] satisfactory starting, at all times, [2] full stride of power, [3] mileage—full measure of each without impairment of any. Associated Gasoline has the winning "form," due to its distinctive chain or series of boiling points.
