

HEALTH UNIT WINS DOCTOR'S PRAISE

W. F. Draper Tells of the Growth of Disease Prevention Work

Value of the rural and small town public health work in preventing disease and epidemics was pointed out by Dr. W. F. Draper, assistant surgeon general of the United States public health service, in an address before the Rotary club at its weekly luncheon yesterday in the Marion hotel.

Dr. Draper is in Salem to attend the institute of doctors and nurses being held this week in the Salem high school building.

The history of rural public health work was outlined by Dr. Draper from its beginning at Yakima, Wash., in 1911 until the present time, when there are public health departments in 398 counties in the United States.

Although public health departments have been established in large cities for many years, they were not considered practicable in rural communities until after 1911. In this year a serious typhoid epidemic broke out in Yakima, Wash., and a doctor was sent from the United States public health service to investigate.

His success was so marked that the government was encouraged to establish successful departments in other countries.

Owing to the fact that practically all the food eaten by people either in city or country is grown or produced in rural districts, proper sanitary conditions in such districts affect everyone, Dr. Draper pointed out.

Much of the money now spent on insane hospitals, tuberculosis sanitariums, and similar institutions could be saved by proper measures to prevent disease, such as medical examinations of school pupils, Mr. Draper pointed out.

Hookworm disease in the south, a typhoid epidemic in the middle west due to oysters grown in polluted water, and similar instances were given as examples of disease that can be prevented.

Dr. Draper was introduced by Dr. Walter Brown, head of the Marion county child health demonstration. Mrs. Earl Percy sang two solos, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Oberer. Grover Hillman of the Cherry City Bakery was presented as a new member of the Rotary club.

The work of the Marion county child health demonstration was complimented by Dr. Draper because of its value in prevention of disease.

Grace McCord Visits Silvertown Classmate

SILVERTOWN, Ore., July 28.—(Special.)—Mrs. Grace McCord of Portland was a week-end visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Habbitt. Mrs. Habbitt and Mrs. McCord were schoolmates and later taught at the same school.

Acid Stomach "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" Better than Soda

Hereafter, instead of soda take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges the souring waste from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda. Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent bottles, any drugstore.—Adv.

POWERFUL DRAMA IS DRAWING BIG CROWD

Picture at The Elsinore Is Gripping Portrayal of Criminal Courts

Justice, as it is dispensed in the criminal courts, comes in for a sound spanking, and the reliability of circumstantial evidence receives a knockout blow in Victor Fleming's thrilling romance drama, "The Blind Goddess," which is now playing at the Elsinore theatre.

This picture version of Arthur Train's exciting novel of the same name is a strong dramatic vehicle with a murder-mystery for its plot basis and with kaleidoscopic New York for its colorful locale. The romance of young love, the pathos of self-sacrificing mother-love, the sinister side of politics, the smart social atmosphere of Fifth Avenue, the blundering efforts of the law, symbolized by "the blind goddess"—all these are elements in the story that grips the interest, stirs the emotions and serves to provide an hour of rare entertainment.

Victor Fleming has not only made a workmanlike job of the direction but he has provided a cast whose individual performances and collective acting emphasize and intensify the emotional power and dramatic sweep of the story.

Jack Holt, as the young lawyer who dares to sacrifice the girl he loves to remain true to his ideal of duty, plays in his usually capable fashion. Esther Ralston, the personification of feminine loveliness, gives an excellent account of herself in a role that makes heavy demands on her histrionic ability. Ernest Torrence proves he can handle comedy and drama with equal deftness; and Louise Dresser adds to her laurels with her compelling portrayal of the pitiful mother.

After many long years they met again, the old tragedian and the dear old lady who was once a love-lily Rosalind. And since they had been sweethearts once, he embraced her. Then he started back. "Woman," he cried, "what's that noise you're making?" She trembled at the anger in his voice. "It's only asthma," she faltered. With a slight of relief he turned and mopped his brow. "Heavens!" he murmured. "I thought you were hissing me."

PREVENT GOITER PHYSICIAN URGES

Danger of Trouble Can Be Eliminated by Use of Iodine, He Says

Goiter and its prevention was the topic of Dr. W. F. Draper, assistant surgeon general of the United States public health service, in an address before the institute of physicians and nurses in the Salem high school building yesterday. This topic is considered of special interest in this locality, one of the principal goiter regions of the United States.

Goiter is caused by a lack of iodine in the thyroid, a ductless gland, according to Dr. Draper. Soil, in this region, lacks iodine, the element having been seeped out by rain, due to the solubility of iodine salts.

Because a person, at the age of 20, free from enlargement of this gland, has little danger of trouble, it is considered important by Dr. Draper that lack of iodine be made up by artificial means while the child is young. Iodized salt, iodine tablets and fish supply the needed element.

Dr. T. Homer Coffin of the University of Oregon medical school held a clinic yesterday dealing with heart conditions of children. He examined four small children. Dr. J. B. Bilderbach, also of the university medical school, examined children to illustrate methods of infant feeding. He made a plea that mothers breast feed their children rather than raise them on a bottle.

Miss Sara J. Place, superintendent of the infant welfare society of Chicago, gave an address. A banquet was held in the Hotel Marion last night. About 17 doctors and 35 nurses were present at the sessions yesterday.

TURNER CONVENTION DRAWING ATTENTION

Advance Registrations Indicate Endeavor Meeting Is Popular

Advance registrations for the seventh Oregon Christian Endeavor Leadership Training conference to be held at Turner August 29-Sept. 6, indicate a splendid attendance by young people from many parts of the state.

Preparations for the conference are in the hands of a committee consisting of Miss Mary Guiley of Eugene, chairman; Rev. Mr. Walter L. Myers of Eugene, dean; Mr. Dallas C. Rice of Portland, business manager and treasurer; Miss Viola Ogden of Portland, secretary and registrar; and Mr. E. D. Geiger of Portland, publicity manager.

Morning classes will include: Bible study given by the Rev. James Aiken Smith, well known Presbyterian minister; song leading by Rev. Mr. Ross Guiley of Eugene; society publicity by Mrs. Ross Guiley; union work by Mr. Dallas C. Rice; "Expert Endeavor" by Miss Viola Ogden; society recreation by Rev. Mr. Myers; missions by Miss Ilukka Anderson of La Grande; Intermediate leadership by Mrs. Dallas C. Rice; and general assembly addresses by Rev. Mr. Paul C. Brown of Los Angeles, Pacific Coast Secretary of Christian Endeavor.

During the afternoons there will be informal fellowship and recreation including swimming, volleyball, base ball, and other games, under the direction of the Rev. Ross Guiley.

Each evening there will be an inspirational address and an outdoor bon fire meeting, the latter being led by Mr. Brown, and said to be the best feature of the conference by many of the delegates each year.

Reports of the recent World's Christian Endeavor convention in London will be given by Mr. Brown and by Miss Elaine Cooper of Portland, both of whom are expected to return by that time.

Turner is on the main line of the Southern Pacific, 10 miles south of Salem. Christian Endeavor members and leaders and friends are expected from many parts of the state. Registrations are being received at 303 Abington Bldg., Portland, and information is being sent out from there to all who are interested.

STATE INCOME TAX PROTEST ENTERED

Defendants Claim Collection Should Be on Total Cash Received

Suit was filed in circuit court here yesterday by the Pacific Outfitting company and the Eastern Outfitting company, with branch stores in Portland, to restrain the state tax commission from collecting state income tax for the year 1923 aggregating 7,800. Of this amount the state alleges that the Eastern Outfitting company owes $5,600 and the Pacific Outfitting company $2,200.

The state tax commission has demanded that the plaintiffs in the suit pay income tax for the year 1923 on the basis of sales in Oregon for that year and not on actual cash received for goods delivered subject to installment payments.

The plaintiffs contend that they are subject to pay income tax only on actual cash received during 1923, which was virtually wiped out by deductions claimed by the two corporations.

VAULTS TO DEFY WORK OF CROOKS

Latest Protective Features to Be Used in Ladd & Bush Rooms

The latest protective features will be included in the new vaults for the Ladd and Bush bank, the contract having been awarded to the Mosler Safe company of Ohio. The safety deposit boxes will be located on the main floor.

The vaults will be in two sections, one in the basement and one on the floor above. Doors will be made of steel, 16 inches thick. They will be enclosed in concrete 27 inches thick with inch and a half bars for reinforcement. A network of electrical wiring for the alarm will be included, with glass knobs to prevent accidental alarms.

There will be nearly 4,400 safety deposit boxes in the vault. They will be in a steel lined room 27 by 15 1/2 feet in size with electrical protective equipment. The coin vault, lined with manganese steel, will also have electrical protection.

A bronze door will be installed on the Commercial street side of the building, into which customers can deposit their money at night. They will be given keys to the door and deposit boxes specially equipped into which they can put their money before throwing it through the door. A steel tube will lead from the door to a safe in the basement, where the bars are stored. Deposits here will be protected by insurance.

COLLINS FUNERAL IS SET FOR TODAY

Pioneer of 1846 Will Be Laid to Final Rest at Service Today

The funeral services of Francis Collins, of Dallas, who died there Tuesday at the age of 92, will be held from the Dallas chapel at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Mr. Collins was one of the oldest pioneers in Polk county.

Mr. Collins crossed the plains in 1846 having been born in Missouri in 1834. His family located in the Suver district, where he married a daughter of Col. Cornelius Gilliam in 1859. He afterward lived near Arlie, moving to Dallas 40 years ago.

He is survived by two daughters Mrs. H. L. Fenton and Mrs. Toner both of Dallas, an adopted son, George Blake of Reedsport, and a sister, Mrs. Elvin Carter of Washington.

Lemon Juice Whitens Skin

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whooping skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion, also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.—Adv.
