

LAST MOTH SPRAY IS DUE THIS WEEK

Don C. Monts, OAC, Advises Application to Kill Late Worms

In order to combat the late worms, fruit growers in the Willamette valley are advised by Don C. Monts, OAC entomologist, to apply the last codling moth cover spray this week.

BANK DEPOSITS RECORD SHOWS $2,000,000 PEAK

Increase of $1,694,269.65. During the accumulation of these additional reserves it is well to observe that the loans and discounts during the same period were increased more than $16,000,000; the investment in government, municipal and other bonds increased more than $5,000,000 and through the same period of time redemptions, bills payable and other obligations for borrowed money were decreased from $5,605,000 on June 30, 1925, down to $3,350,000 on June 30, 1926, or a decrease covering that period of approximately $2,255,000.

"The increase of bank deposits since June 30, 1925, is shown principally under the following items:

- "Deposits by banks and bankers gained, $3,800,000.
"Individual deposits, subject to check, $6,300,000.
"Time and savings deposits, approximately $8,000,000.

"It is very pleasing to observe that the increase in time and savings deposits has been continuous for the past six years. On November 17, 1919 time and savings deposits aggregated $73,800. On June 30, 1926, they were $115,000,000, showing an increase within that period of time of more than $42,000,000.

"The number of savings deposits increased from 1,700 in 1919 to 1,700 in 1926, showing an increase within that period of time of more than $42,000,000.

PICK LIFE WORK, THEN STUDY HARD

Reed College President Urges Students to Select Fixed Goal

"No person should attend college without making two investigations," according to Dr. Norman Coleman, president of Reed college, in an address before the Salem Kiwanis club yesterday noon.

"The first colleges in this country were like the ones in the old countries of Europe. They were for the upper, wealthy classes. They prepared the students for the four learned professions. The graduate found himself in the fix of Nathaniel Hawthorne, who said he did not wish to be a physician, lawyer or minister, or live off the ill, misfortunes and sins of men, so he had only one choice of profession left, that of writing."

The colleges now have become diversified, according to Dr. Coleman. There are many different kinds of colleges and many different courses in each college, so that the student starting out is apt to find himself lost in the maze.

UTILITY RATES CALLED UNFAIR, AIRING COMING

Investigation of the telephone situation reveals some most extraordinary facts. Practically all of the capital stock of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company is owned by the American Telephone & Telegraph company of New York. The latter company leases to its own child the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company, many appliances and instruments at rentals agreed upon between the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company and the New York company which controls it.

"The public service commission should be reconstructed. It would be far better to abolish the commission than to let it continue in its present form. I trust that no appropriation will be made for such continuation." Later, in the same session, in a special message, I again reviewed the subject in this manner: "In this connection I wish to say that the public service commission has often appeared to me as being a servant of the public service utilities rather than of the public. In fixing rates of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company, for example, the commission has allowed an excessive valuation on this property and then made rates high enough to earn dividends upon such excessive amount, after also allowing excessive costs of operation."

"I am now determined to file complaint with the public service commission of this state for the purpose of thoroughly sifting and airing the matter of utility rates, charges and conditions of service, with a view of securing, if possible, some measure of relief to the public. I trust that you will be able to act as my counsel in these matters."

Members of the public service commission were not in Salem yesterday and could not be questioned in connection with any action they may take should the governor file complaint against the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company.

Telegraph company also owns practically all of the capital stock of the Western Electric company, which in turn sells substantially all of the supplies and materials purchased by the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company at prices, of course, fixed between the two companies, both of which are owned and controlled by the parent company, the American Telephone & Telegraph company.

"This latter company pays large dividends to its stockholders, and in addition puts aside a handsome surplus each year out of the earnings of its various subsidiary companies, including the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company in this state.

"In other words, the American Telephone & Telegraph company has a great many children, two of whom are the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company and the Western Electric company, and both of which, at the expense of the public, are making contributions to the parent company which enables it to pay enormous profits and dividends to its stockholders.

"Ever since taking the office of governor I have been endeavoring in some way or another to get some relief for the public from these conditions. Because of the very unsatisfactory manner in which public utilities were and are regulated, and the fact that, as appeared to me, these utilities were practically allowed to fix their own valuations and rates and their own business conditions of service, I said in my message to the last legislature:

"The public service commission should be reconstructed. It would be far better to abolish the commission than to let it continue in its present form. I trust that no appropriation will be made for such continuation." Later, in the same session, in a special message, I again reviewed the subject in this manner:

"In this connection I wish to say that the public service commission has often appeared to me as being a servant of the public service utilities rather than of the public. In fixing rates of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company, for example, the commission has allowed an excessive valuation on this property and then made rates high enough to earn dividends upon such excessive amount, after also allowing excessive costs of operation."

"The legislature, however, provided funds for the continuance of the commission. However, no investigations have been made regarding the reasons why exorbitant rates are still being collected by the public utilities in this state.

"I am now determined to file complaint with the public service commission of this state for the purpose of thoroughly sifting and airing the matter of utility rates, charges and conditions of service, with a view of securing, if possible, some measure of relief to the public. I trust that you will be able to act as my counsel in these matters."

"The movements of freight are very large, it was pointed out, and the volume of manufacturing as a whole is good. While the textile industry experienced a slump, it was asserted that this industry is now showing signs of recovering. In the agricultural west, except for the Dakotas and Nebraska, it was continued, conditions are good, the few exceptions being due to drought with consequent poor crop conditions.

"During the past three years, it was asserted, there has been a gradual recovery from the deflation of the immediate war period with the railroads on the way to complete recovery from the war strain and their purchasing power going far to stimulate all business in the country.

Commodity prices have meanwhile decreased to a point lower than three years ago, although they are not as low as in the middle of the deflation period, while wages have not decreased but rather shown some increases over three years ago.

Reduction of taxes, accomplished by two cuts during his administration, Mr. Coolidge believes, has gone far to encourage a healthy business and financial condition in the country. At the same time the steady retirement of the huge public debt and the policy of keeping government expenditures to as low a figure as possible have been of service in the same direction.

In the field of foreign affairs, the president points to the assistance given by this country through the Dawes' commission in the settlement of the German reparations questions, as of outstanding importance. In addition there was mentioned today the senate action for American adherence to the permanent court of international justice, the ratification by the senate of a great many treaties with foreign countries, the re-establishment of relations with Mexico, and in general the accomplishment of some progress in directions leading to further reductions by international agreements in armaments.
