

Salem Society News

By AUDRED BUNCH :: Phone 106

Interesting Musical Event

For Out of Town Guest
Miss Betty Harris of Memphis, Tenn., was the inspiration for a very interesting and exceedingly unusual affair at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Peary Wednesday evening. A group of talented musicians and readers were bidden to the affair, as Miss Harris is exceptionally accomplished along musical lines. Each guest contributed an impromptu number during the evening, resulting in an extraordinarily interesting program.

At a late hour supper was served in a charming manner. The table was centered with summer roses and gladioli and was lighted by narrow blue tapers in colonial candlesticks.

Guests for the evening included Miss Ruth Bedford, Miss Betty Bedford, Miss Edith Mae Jenks, Miss Claudia Lewis, Mrs. E. Reigelman Jordan, Mrs. C. R. Muston, W. T. Jenks, Judge O. P. Coshaw, Perry Reigelman, Dr. H. K. Stockwell, Dan Langenberg, E. T. B. Hill and Mr. and Mrs. Peary.

Missionary Society Meet

The Woman's Missionary society of the Bungalow Christian church held their monthly business meeting in the church parlors yesterday afternoon.

Portland Visitors Honored

Members of the Willamette chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, entertained at a delightful picnic in honor of John A. Keating of San Francisco, who was Oregon state regent from 1920 to 1922, and is being entertained extensively in Portland; and Mrs. H. H. Ward of Los Angeles, a past regent of the Willamette chapter, Wednesday noon at Laurelhurst park.

Masonic Picnic Was Huge Success

Five hundred people attended the Masonic picnic held at Hager's grove Wednesday afternoon. Such sports as baseball, volleyball, swimming and races filled the afternoon, and at 6:30 an enjoyable picnic lunch was served. In the afternoon a group of Rainbow girls sang some of the official Rainbow songs.

Salem Man Married in California

An announcement of the wedding of Miss Walker, a nurse of Woodland, Cal., and Mr. Lloyd Warner, formerly of Salem, was received with great interest here, as Mr. Warner was very prominent on the campus of Willamette university for the past few years. He was business manager of the 1926 Wallulah, and a member of the Alpha Psi Delta fraternity.

Guest From Canada

Jerome Belle of Montreal, Canada, spent last week at the home of his uncle, Prof. and Mrs. W. E. Kirk of this city.

Sewing Club Meets

The Daughters of Veterans' sewing club met for a very enjoyable and profitable afternoon at the home of Mrs. P. P. Phillips on D street, Wednesday. At the lunch hour Mrs. Phillips was assisted by Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Varty.

Loyal Volunteers Plan Party

The Loyal Volunteer band of the Bungalow Christian church are making plans for their monthly social to be held at the home of Rev. R. L. Putnam, 1106 Leslie street, August 12. The Loyal Volunteer bands of Stayton and Silverton Christian churches have been invited to meet with them.

Family Reunion Sunday

Sunday, August 1, marked the eighth annual reunion of the Byers family when 90 members met at the Independence city park. The day was spent with conversation, games and various sports, while at noon a delightful picnic lunch was served. Many members of the Byers clan were present from all parts of the state, and some from Washington.

Writers Hold Meeting in Jones' Gardens

The gardens at the home of Mrs. Blanche M. Jones on South Church street were the scene of a quiet meeting of the Writers' club on Tuesday evening. The group assembled around the bonfire and a very informal program was given. Gertrude Robison Ross read a chapter of the novel which she is writing; Mrs. F. S. Barton read several of her poems, and Mr. Charles J. Lisle read a story entitled, "The Great American Novel." Mr. Lisle has been appointed to lead the meetings for the remainder of the year. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Grace Elisabeth Smith.

Out of town guests for the evening were Mrs. J. M. Clifford and Mrs. F. S. Barton of Portland. The group included Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Lisle, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Paulus, Mrs. W. F. Fargo, Miss Grace Elisabeth Smith, Mrs. W. D. Smith, Mrs. Ora F. McIntyre, Gertrude Robison Ross, Miss Florence Jones, Miss Ruth Ross, Perry Reigelman, Miss Renska Swart, Mrs. J. C. Nelson, Miss Marie Roberts and Mrs. Jones.

Miss Hoffnell at Twin Rocks

Miss Rutheda Hoffnell is spending several weeks as the guest of Miss Lena Cherrington at Twin Rocks.

Attend Artisans Convention

Among the Salem people who are in attendance at the Artisans convention in Portland are Miss Wilda Callahan and Miss Glenna Russell.

Spend Some Time in Spokane

Mr. and Mrs. P. Phillippe and son Harold, Mrs. Varty and son Orville, will leave tomorrow for an extended vacation in Spokane, Wash.

Reinharts Will Visit in Salem

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reinhart (nee Mary West) of Eugene are visiting in Astoria and Seaside. They will return to Salem soon to spend a week with Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Reinhart.

Chambers Spend Week-End at Tillamook Beaches

Rev. and Mrs. H. D. Chambers are spending the week-end at the Tillamook beaches. Mr. Chambers will take services on Sunday at Tillamook and Rockaway. They have as their guests on the trip Rev. and Mrs. U. H. Gibbs of Washougal, Wash. Mr. Gibbs is an old theological classmate of Mr. Chambers.

Miss Schneider Visits in Salem

Louise Schneider of Portland is visiting with her grandmother, Mrs. E. L. Cameron of this city.

Salem Boy Sails for London

Mr. Delbert Gearheart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gearheart of this city, left recently for London. Mr. Gearheart has traveled extensively and has curios and souvenirs from many parts of the world.

McGilchrist to Sail August Eighteenth

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. William McGilchrist Jr. will be interested in hearing that they are now in Washington, D. C., after an interesting trip through Canada, with stops at Victoria, B. C., Lake Louise, Banff and Winnipeg. They toured the east coast, stopping at Minneapolis and St. Paul, then went to Chicago where they spent a few days before going to Washington, D. C. After a two weeks' visit there they will return to Quebec and will sail for London August 18 on the Empress of Scotland.

Savages to Attend Portland Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. George O. Savage, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Savage and small granddaughter, Little Miss Josephine McGilchrist, will motor to Portland this afternoon to attend the wedding of Miss Ethelwynne Kelley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. S. Kelley, formerly of Salem, and Mr. James McIntyre of Portland, which will be an event of Saturday evening. Miss Kelley, a former student of Willamette university and a member of the Beta Chi sorority, has a host of friends in Salem who will be interested in hearing of the announcement of her wedding. Miss Kelley will be remembered as an excellent reader and musician.

Mr. Anderson Returns

Mr. Charles Anderson, well known in Salem's music circles, returned recently from Berkeley, Cal., where he has been attending the University of California. Mr. Anderson is the district manager of Marion county for the Real Silk Manufacturing company.

Invitations Are Issued for Wenlock-Kafoury Wedding
Plans for the wedding of Miss Georgina Wenlock to Mr. Allan Kafoury were announced when a great number of invitations were issued for the wedding which will take place August 15 at St. Paul's Episcopal church, with Rev. H. D. Chambers officiating. Miss Helen Kafoury has been chosen as the attendant for the bride-elect, and Mr. Leo Kafoury will act as best man for his cousin. Eunice Wenlock will act as flower girl, while little Georgia Wenlock will be ring bearer. The wedding music will be played by Prof. E. S. Burraston, and Miss Mary Kafoury will sing "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly."

Miss Wenlock is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wenlock, formerly of Calgary, Canada. Mr. Kafoury is the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Kafoury of Kafoury Bros. He is a member of the American Legion Capital post No. 9 and also of the 40 and 8.

Following the ceremony, which will be performed at 5 o'clock, all the guests will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Kafoury for the reception.

Miss Heckman Guest in Salem

Miss Annett Heckman of Medford is spending a short time in Salem as the house guest of Miss Helen Pollock. A trip around the Mt. Hood loop is being planned in honor of the visitor.

Woman's Alliance Postponed

The Women's Alliance, which was announced formerly to be held this afternoon, will be postponed until further notice.

The Bearcat Forum invites all Willamette university students in the city to a party to be given at the home of Miss Ruth Heineck, 235 South 16th street, at 8 o'clock Friday evening, August 6. Bring a pencil with you.

LIVING and LOVING
BY FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT
Say It With a Ring

ALMOST everything nowadays has a language of its own. Flowers, candy, music, books—they all "talk" to judge by the slogans of the hour. And now in the sign language the ring is becoming proficient.

Wasn't it the Bard of Avon who said: "My ring I hold as dear as my finger: 'tis a part of it!"

After all, perhaps the ring as a potent aid to self expression is not such a new idea as at first thought we believed it to be. Certainly, Shakespeare, sage as he was, would not have thus committed himself in his day and generation the ring had not given character to the hand and symbolized at least to some degree the mood of its wearer.

The signet ring! Familiar with its significance we wear it in token of fidelity, following the custom of old Italy.

'Twas only a step to the maker of rings from the friendly signet to the wedding ring, the unbroken circle of faith, hope, love and honor. The wedding ring, by the way, made its debut in Cupid's realm in the early 800s. A long, long time has the band of gold been the badge of the "two made one." Rather a pity, for it is going out of fashion now. We rather like it, speaking for ourselves.

From the age-old signet ring has been developed the symbol ring of "frat" and sister society. In the making of this tie that binds firm friends together gold and silver platinum do their shining bits.

Clothes, and most particularly the way we wear them, indicate surely and concisely our personality. And those things which we wear with our clothes tell tales of our good taste.

Just the right jewelry for just the right occasion—it is a combination that counts most mightily in the ultimate effect. It is this secret of when to wear a ring, for instance, on what finger and why that in the last analysis stamps a costume perfection.

The hand made ring, ah! Here is the test of the craftsman's art! In a setting of metal that suits milady's type the beauty of a stone that best becomes her coloring is enhanced. Trifles, seemingly, the sort of metal and the shade of the stone, but in the wisdom of her choice madame finds her reward. Dark stones, by the way, make the flesh the whiter. Therefore, the popularity of the ruby, the sapphire, the emerald, the amethyst, the opal.

Individuality is the sartorial creed of many a fashionable woman. And to achieve this to the nth degree she may resort to jade, turquoise, the "personality" stones.

Variety is the spice of jewels as well as of life, and every woman may call as many rings her own as her desires and her bank account decree, but from her possessions she will be able to choose one that above all others is peculiarly suited to her type and temperament.

Mood and mode, those two affect the choice.

And in the wearing of rings the Japanese idea is rather a good one. One ring at a time!

'Tis artistic! Restraint, well done, is effective always.

Did You Ever Stop To Think?

By E. R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce

THAT a city that is a center of diversified industries is usually prosperous.

THAT in order to make the wheels of industry hum, it takes vision, money and hard work.

THAT no city should ever forget its present industries in a mad chase for new ones.

THAT cities should never forget that when local industries expand, it means larger pay-rolls, more consumers and more business for the entire city.

THAT too much attention cannot be paid to the development and expansion of business for the home city.

THAT the development of business depends entirely upon the interest or indifference displayed by local business men.

THAT in these competitive times, if more business is wanted, they must get busy and keep busy going after it. If they don't, some neighboring city will get the business they should get.

A city grows as its business grows. Every effort should be made to keep business growing. Wishes don't build business. Good intentions don't build cities.

Louise Brooks Marries Director

Louise Brooks, the striking dark beauty who has risen to film stardom from beginning as a chorus girl, has become the bride of Edward Sutherland, inset, above, a motion picture director. Miss Brooks, at 18, has achieved unusual screen success. She and Sutherland met five months ago during the production of a picture.

phire, the amethyst, the emerald.

Individuality is the sartorial creed of many a fashionable woman. And to achieve this to the nth degree she may resort to jade, turquoise, the "personality" stones.

Variety is the spice of jewels as well as of life, and every woman may call as many rings her own as her desires and her bank account decree, but from her possessions she will be able to choose one that above all others is peculiarly suited to her type and temperament.

Mood and mode, those two affect the choice.

And in the wearing of rings the Japanese idea is rather a good one. One ring at a time!

'Tis artistic! Restraint, well done, is effective always.

Did You Ever Stop To Think?

By E. R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce

THAT a city that is a center of diversified industries is usually prosperous.

THAT in order to make the wheels of industry hum, it takes vision, money and hard work.

THAT no city should ever forget its present industries in a mad chase for new ones.

THAT cities should never forget that when local industries expand, it means larger pay-rolls, more consumers and more business for the entire city.

THAT too much attention cannot be paid to the development and expansion of business for the home city.

THAT the development of business depends entirely upon the interest or indifference displayed by local business men.

THAT in these competitive times, if more business is wanted, they must get busy and keep busy going after it. If they don't, some neighboring city will get the business they should get.

A city grows as its business grows. Every effort should be made to keep business growing. Wishes don't build business. Good intentions don't build cities.

Did You Ever Stop To Think?

By E. R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce

THAT a city that is a center of diversified industries is usually prosperous.

THAT in order to make the wheels of industry hum, it takes vision, money and hard work.

THAT no city should ever forget its present industries in a mad chase for new ones.

THAT cities should never forget that when local industries expand, it means larger pay-rolls, more consumers and more business for the entire city.

THAT too much attention cannot be paid to the development and expansion of business for the home city.

THAT the development of business depends entirely upon the interest or indifference displayed by local business men.

THAT in these competitive times, if more business is wanted, they must get busy and keep busy going after it. If they don't, some neighboring city will get the business they should get.

A city grows as its business grows. Every effort should be made to keep business growing. Wishes don't build business. Good intentions don't build cities.

Did You Ever Stop To Think?

By E. R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce

THAT a city that is a center of diversified industries is usually prosperous.

THAT in order to make the wheels of industry hum, it takes vision, money and hard work.

THAT no city should ever forget its present industries in a mad chase for new ones.

THAT cities should never forget that when local industries expand, it means larger pay-rolls, more consumers and more business for the entire city.

THAT too much attention cannot be paid to the development and expansion of business for the home city.

THAT the development of business depends entirely upon the interest or indifference displayed by local business men.

THAT in these competitive times, if more business is wanted, they must get busy and keep busy going after it. If they don't, some neighboring city will get the business they should get.

A city grows as its business grows. Every effort should be made to keep business growing. Wishes don't build business. Good intentions don't build cities.

Did You Ever Stop To Think?

By E. R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce

THAT a city that is a center of diversified industries is usually prosperous.

THAT in order to make the wheels of industry hum, it takes vision, money and hard work.

THAT no city should ever forget its present industries in a mad chase for new ones.

THAT cities should never forget that when local industries expand, it means larger pay-rolls, more consumers and more business for the entire city.

THAT too much attention cannot be paid to the development and expansion of business for the home city.

THAT the development of business depends entirely upon the interest or indifference displayed by local business men.

THAT in these competitive times, if more business is wanted, they must get busy and keep busy going after it. If they don't, some neighboring city will get the business they should get.

A city grows as its business grows. Every effort should be made to keep business growing. Wishes don't build business. Good intentions don't build cities.

Did You Ever Stop To Think?

By E. R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce

THAT a city that is a center of diversified industries is usually prosperous.

THAT in order to make the wheels of industry hum, it takes vision, money and hard work.

THAT no city should ever forget its present industries in a mad chase for new ones.

THAT cities should never forget that when local industries expand, it means larger pay-rolls, more consumers and more business for the entire city.

THAT too much attention cannot be paid to the development and expansion of business for the home city.

THAT the development of business depends entirely upon the interest or indifference displayed by local business men.

THAT in these competitive times, if more business is wanted, they must get busy and keep busy going after it. If they don't, some neighboring city will get the business they should get.

A city grows as its business grows. Every effort should be made to keep business growing. Wishes don't build business. Good intentions don't build cities.

Did You Ever Stop To Think?

By E. R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce

THAT a city that is a center of diversified industries is usually prosperous.

THAT in order to make the wheels of industry hum, it takes vision, money and hard work.

THAT no city should ever forget its present industries in a mad chase for new ones.

THAT cities should never forget that when local industries expand, it means larger pay-rolls, more consumers and more business for the entire city.

THAT too much attention cannot be paid to the development and expansion of business for the home city.

THAT the development of business depends entirely upon the interest or indifference displayed by local business men.

THAT in these competitive times, if more business is wanted, they must get busy and keep busy going after it. If they don't, some neighboring city will get the business they should get.

A city grows as its business grows. Every effort should be made to keep business growing. Wishes don't build business. Good intentions don't build cities.

Did You Ever Stop To Think?

By E. R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce

THAT a city that is a center of diversified industries is usually prosperous.

THAT in order to make the wheels of industry hum, it takes vision, money and hard work.

THAT no city should ever forget its present industries in a mad chase for new ones.

THAT cities should never forget that when local industries expand, it means larger pay-rolls, more consumers and more business for the entire city.

THAT too much attention cannot be paid to the development and expansion of business for the home city.

THAT the development of business depends entirely upon the interest or indifference displayed by local business men.

THAT in these competitive times, if more business is wanted, they must get busy and keep busy going after it. If they don't, some neighboring city will get the business they should get.

A city grows as its business grows. Every effort should be made to keep business growing. Wishes don't build business. Good intentions don't build cities.

Did You Ever Stop To Think?

By E. R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce

THAT a city that is a center of diversified industries is usually prosperous.

THAT in order to make the wheels of industry hum, it takes vision, money and hard work.

THAT no city should ever forget its present industries in a mad chase for new ones.

THAT cities should never forget that when local industries expand, it means larger pay-rolls, more consumers and more business for the entire city.

THAT too much attention cannot be paid to the development and expansion of business for the home city.

THAT the development of business depends entirely upon the interest or indifference displayed by local business men.

THAT in these competitive times, if more business is wanted, they must get busy and keep busy going after it. If they don't, some neighboring city will get the business they should get.

A city grows as its business grows. Every effort should be made to keep business growing. Wishes don't build business. Good intentions don't build cities.

Did You Ever Stop To Think?

By E. R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce

THAT a city that is a center of diversified industries is usually prosperous.

THAT in order to make the wheels of industry hum, it takes vision, money and hard work.

THAT no city should ever forget its present industries in a mad chase for new ones.

THAT cities should never forget that when local industries expand, it means larger pay-rolls, more consumers and more business for the entire city.

THAT too much attention cannot be paid to the development and expansion of business for the home city.

THAT the development of business depends entirely upon the interest or indifference displayed by local business men.

THAT in these competitive times, if more business is wanted, they must get busy and keep busy going after it. If they don't, some neighboring city will get the business they should get.

A city grows as its business grows. Every effort should be made to keep business growing. Wishes don't build business. Good intentions don't build cities.

Did You Ever Stop To Think?

By E. R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce

THAT a city that is a center of diversified industries is usually prosperous.

THAT in order to make the wheels of industry hum, it takes vision, money and hard work.

THAT no city should ever forget its present industries in a mad chase for new ones.

THAT cities should never forget that when local industries expand, it means larger pay-rolls, more consumers and more business for the entire city.

THAT too much attention cannot be paid to the development and expansion of business for the home city.

THAT the development of business depends entirely upon the interest or indifference displayed by local business men.

THAT in these competitive times, if more business is wanted, they must get busy and keep busy going after it. If they don't, some neighboring city will get the business they should get.