Cheerfulness Simply Radiates From This Home

THE OWOASSA, DESIGN A831

CHEERFULNESS will always be a predominant feature of this charming little home, an adaptation of the English type of cottage. The battery of windows that ornament the two sides exposed here will effectively insure this. One would have to be exceptionally grumpy not to greet each recurring day with gladness in such a home as this one can be made.

Nestling as it does in its wooded setting may have much to do with the pleasing effect it gives, but the woods are not an essential feature by any means. Place it anywhere and this cottage will never fail to impress. It has, first of all, distinctive merit of design. Its lines are good, its construction all that could be asked, and its materials guarantee permanence. It has not one disappointing feature. Anyone should be proud to own it.

It is ideally arranged for a small family or an elderly couple, and may be built upon a moderately small lot. Entrance is into an enclosed porch which serves all the purposes of a sun room. From it the comfortable, almost square living room is reached, a door leading therefrom into the dining room opposite. The living room has a convenient coat closet, the dining room attractive and convenient built-in features. The kitchen is roomy. From the living room a stairway leads to the second floor with its two commodious sleeping rooms and bath.

The Common Brick Manufacturers' Association, Cleveland, Ohio, can furnish complete drawings for this design. Leaflet on brick construction sent upon request.

PAPER MILL ANNEX TO BE READY SOON

Last Cement Work to Be Finished Monday, Tile Being Laid

Construction work on the new annex to the paper mill on South Commercial street will be finished about the middle of the month, according to a statement made Friday. The roof was finished yesterday, being covered with patent roofing material.

The last cement work will be poured Monday. It will consist of the last part of an elevator shaft at the rear of the building. Cement work for the upper portion of the front wall has been poured and the forms are now being removed. Forms were removed from the lower part of the wall last week.

The last of the week also saw the finish of laying tile for the side walls. The tile is used for walls on both sides and rear of the building. Window frames in this wall are in place, but the glass has not yet been installed.

Front stairs leading to the offices in the front end of the building were put in last week. Carpenter work is now being done on these offices. The floor has not yet been laid, but it will be completed this week. All the rest of the carpenter work is expected to be finished this week.

The principal work remaining to be done is installation of window glass and cleaning up of the lumber and other trash which has accumulated during the construction.

Machinery has not yet been installed in the pits on the first floor. This work will probably be done within the next few weeks.

most efficient and best planned in the northwest.

The furniture store, will occupy the main floor and mezzanine, which has a large opening in the front of the building. Inclined approaches lead from the first floor to the mezzanine.

The building is 84 by 165 feet in size. Construction began about April 20. C. O. Engstrom is builder and Freeman and Struble architects. Salem labor was employed throughout.

Installation of the plate glass show windows in front and cleaning up are the main jobs yet to be done. A wiring gang is at work finishing, and a glass awning over the sidewalk is in place, but not yet completed.

The woodwork was practically finished this week, and the painting will also soon be done.

ROOF TO BE LAID ON BLIGH THEATRE

Lathing and Plastering of Auditorium Will End This Week

Work on the new Bligh theater building at the corner of State and High streets is progressing fast. Plastering on the end facing State street is almost finished. Brick and terra cotta work has been completed up past the first story.

The auditorium is now being lathed and the plastering is expected to begin the first part of this week. Ornamental terra cotta on the outside of the first floor is finished.

Steel work over the stage is completed and ready for the roof, which will be installed soon. The roof has already been built over the theater part of the building. Cement work on the stage will be completed the first part of this week.

The floors in the basement under the store part were poured last week. The floor under the other part of the building were completed the week before and the boiler for heating installed.

The theater is ready for the decorative work to be put in. Another carload of terra cotta for it is expected the first part of this week.

SENIOR HI SCHOOL BLACKBOARDS GO IN

Alterations Near Completion, With New Rooms Ready for Fall Season

Repair work which has been going on for several weeks on the senior high school building is now practically completed. Six new class rooms have been built on the west end of the second floor, with a music room on the third floor above. A hall leading to the rear of the auditorium on the second floor has also been built.

Stairs at the west end have been installed and blackboards were put into the class rooms last week. The blackboards are made of a special composition board.

Heating radiators were also installed last week, leaving what painting remains as the principal uncompleted work. The painters have been at work since Wednesday and are expected to finish this week.

E. S. Barker, manual training instructor at the Parrish junior high school, has been in charge of all repair work.

MAYTAG SHIPMENT SHOWS PROSPERITY

Solid Trainload of Washing Machines Sets World Record

The Maytag shops of the Pacific region set a pace for the entire world by shipping in a solid trainload of washing machines.

This was the biggest per capita shipment of washing machines that has ever been made, and is only the third time in the history of the industry that a solid trainload of one model washing machines has been shipped to one distributor.

This special train was given a clear right of way over the Great Northern, and arrived July 31. The train contained 33 carloads of washers, over 3000 in number, and representing a value of over a half million dollars.

Some idea of the size of the shipment may be gained from the fact that if these washers were stood on top of another, they would make a pile higher than the highest peak of the Rocky mountains.

Naturally the Maytag Pacific region is getting a big amount of favorable publicity from this trainload shipment, as this is clearly outstripping the great eastern buying centers, which have never been able to absorb so great an amount of advanced labor-saving devices. With all the talk about New York, Chicago and Philadelphia and other eastern communities as great buying centers, none of them have ever yet been able to take a shipment of a solid trainload of washers to one distributor at one time.

This big shipment clearly proves the prosperity of the Maytag Pacific region. It also shows the great buying power of the people of the west. It particularly indicates the very large per capita wealth and buying power of the Maytag Pacific resident.

It proves conclusively western progressiveness because the Maytag Washer is the leading labor saving device appealing to a progressive type of people seeking better things.

It shows more conclusively than anything ever has the importance of the Maytag Pacific region as a market for the eastern manufacturer, and also shows the response of these live westerners to constructive advertising in local newspapers.

The Maytag Pacific organization has pledged itself to an even bigger thing. That is, to the sale of this entire trainload in 30 days. The local Maytag shop has received a big quota of the trainload and the entire organization is working top speed to accomplish its part of the program.

They are confident that the prosperity of this community, the progressiveness of its residence, and the buying power of the individual family will stand as high as the end of the month's manifest as in any community in the entire Maytag Pacific region.

Filipinos Using Wheat Food in Lieu of Rice

MANILA, P. I.—(By Associated Press.)—Consumption of wheat flour in the Philippines has increased in the last few years. Figures of the bureau of commerce and industry show that although rice is the chief staple the Filipinos are using bread as a supplementary food generally and in some cases as their principal article of diet. Wheat importations last year were 76,000 tons as compared with 46,000 tons in 1921. Four-fifths came from the United States.

CHAMBERS STORE NEARS COMPLETION

Woodwork Is Practically Finished, Painting to Be Done Soon

This week is expected to see the finish of construction work on the new home of the Chambers and Chambers furniture store at the Capital business college, located on North High street. The work is nearly finished now, according to Carl O. Engstrom, builder, but finishing touches remain.

The building is three stories high, with a basement. The first floor and mezzanine will be occupied by the furniture store, and the top floor by the business college. The new business college plant is considered one of the state. By the use of unique advertising methods the Boy Mayor decreased delinquency 10 per cent and exceeded the most optimistic estimate of tax collections by $5000. Through such stringent measures the city's total debt of almost $100,000 was reduced about $25,000 in two years. The city is now on a firm financial footing for the first time since pre-war days.

In addition to his success as mayor, Ungrodt has been singularly successful in operating his father's hardware store. By progressive advertising and aggressive salesmanship he has brought about a great increase in sales volume. In 1924, when hardware merchants throughout the northwest were suffering an average decrease in sales volume of 5 per cent, the Ungrodt store experienced a 25 per cent increase as well as showing the first net profit since the boom days of the war.

The Boy Mayor's remarkable success has gained such wide attention that he has been mentioned as a possible candidate for congress from this district but his next step will probably be into the state assembly.

Ungrodt believes implicitly in the introduction of business methods into the affairs of government. He says: "The voters control the situation. They can elect men of business ability with an unselfish interest in the duties connected with the offices of government. Given the right personnel, any governmental body can adopt itself to business methods."
