Of wide interest in Salem is the news of the betrothal of Miss Z. Anne Lavender to Cephas J. Ramquist of Vashon, Wash. The announcement of the engagement was made on Saturday afternoon, August 7, when Miss Lavender entertained, honoring Miss Elaine Oberg upon her return from Chicago. The attractive affair took place at the home of Mrs. L. J. McDaniel at 529 East Nineteenth street, Portland.

Lovely summer flowers, with gladioli predominating, decorated the rooms. In the dining room a color scheme of yellow and white was used, with yellow candles burning in yellow candelabra. Mrs. J. J. McDaniel cut the ices while Mrs. Raymond B. Rogers presided at the urn. Assisting in the serving were Miss Hollis Vick and Miss Myrtle Jensen of Salem, Miss Lorna Lovett of Portland, and Miss Pauline Weiss of Vashon, Wash.

Numerous college friends of the bride-elect were included in the guest list. Miss Lavender is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Lavender of 1750 Court street, while Mr. Ramquist is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Ramquist of Seattle.

Unique Dinner Party at Shanks Home

The home of Rev. E. H. Shanks was the setting for a delightfully unique dinner party on Wednesday evening, August 11, when a group of six gathered together as an aftermath and celebration of the recent ascent of one of the higher peaks in the Cascade range, and to decide upon an effective means of raising funds to defray expenses and pay fines which incurred during the trip.

The dining room was very tastefully decorated in black and white, the contrasting color note being miniature camp fires such as are sometimes left burning in a national forest and colorful signs placed in conspicuous places about the room bearing, "Get the habit, they smoke in the woods, be careful," "Did you put out the last spark?" "Protect the forests, it pays"; "Prevent forest fires," and various other of a similar nature.

Covers were laid for four guests and the host, the sixth guest, Johnnie Johnson, ate without a cover. A very delicious dinner was prepared and served by the host's sister, Miss Barbara Shanks. Favorites were tiny picks and shovels and various other fire fighting equipment. The speaker of the evening was C. H. Durham, more intimately known to his friends as Bull. The subject of his address was "Forest Conflagrations; How to Eradicate Them." He interspersed his lecture with a very interesting demonstration of the proper method of breaking matches, extinguishing cigarette stubs, putting out camp fires, etc. He stated that there were many ways of avoiding fires in the woods, and the surest of which was to use canned heat. All those present testified to the truth of the above statement, and also commented upon the wonderful endurance and speed of the forest ranger who chased them down the mountain. The bonfire case will be tried in the Portland courts, and the amount of the fines will be sent the guests through the mails.

THEODORE OSMUND HEADS NEW MILL

Limited Amount of Stock Offered in West Coast Pulp & Paper Co.

Theodore Osmund, for 13 years associated with the Hawley Pulp & Paper company, and during the past 11 years its secretary and treasurer, has resigned and has associated himself with the West Coast Pulp & Paper company, after having made a careful inspection and study of their site at Tumwater, Wash., and all the factors necessary to insure economical and successful manufacture of paper, together with the numerous buildings already in place and the new construction about to begin.

Mr. Osmund is so thoroughly convinced of the merits of this project that he has made a very substantial personal investment, and has been elected president and general manager of the company.

The West Coast Pulp & Paper company was organized by Salem people in 1924. One of their first moves was to employ L. A. DeGuere, a paper mill engineer with the highest record for efficiency and economy in paper mill construction, and with over 20 successful plants in operation to his credit. Mr. DeGuere made a very careful study of the site and the buildings, taking into consideration their relation one to the other for paper mill purposes, the water supply, pulp supply, transportation, both rail and water, cheapness of power, and made a most favorable report and has since prepared tentative plans for the new construction which is about to begin.

The Salem people interested in this enterprise are very much gratified that Mr. Osmund has been secured as executive head and general manager, believing that the policy and the manufacturing success of the company is, humanly speaking, assured. It is expected that the first unit of this plant will be in operation about January 1. The mill will start with one paper making machine in a machine room built to carry three machines, and with ample space left for several additional machines in the future. The capital investment is extremely small considering the capacity and character of the plant. The mill will be a specialty one and will make no news print.

A limited amount of common and preferred stock can be had, and this appears to be one of the projects where the investor coming in at the beginning will stand a very good chance; that his common stock will increase very rapidly while his preferred stock will pay 8 per cent.
