

HARVEST HOLDS UP DESPITE DRYNESS

August Crop Report Issued
by F. L. Kent, U. S.
Statistician

Thrashing results have pretty generally shown a better yield per acre than the immediate pre-harvest prospects indicated, but nothing like the early season prospects, which were reduced by the long continued dry, hot weather, says F. L. Kent, statistician, U. S. Department of agriculture.

Grain harvest started nearly a month earlier than usual this season and will be practically finished by August 15, except in some of the higher altitudes. Yields have been very uneven, particularly in the case of spring seeding, where, in a few instances, the grain (both wheat and oats) was cut for hay. A very few fields were pastured, the grain not being sufficiently developed to make a hay crop.

WHEAT—The Oregon winter wheat crop for 1926 is now estimated at 17,600,000 bushels, down on $80,000 acres, or an average state yield of 20 bushels per acre. The spring crop is estimated at 2,400,000 bushels, making a state total of wheat of approximately 20,000,000 bushels. This is about one million bushels more than the estimate for last year, when the total wheat acreage was largely spring seeding as a result of the heavy winter-kill of the previous fall seeding.

For the Pacific northwest (Oregon, Washington and Idaho) the total 1926 production is estimated at 85,104,000 bushels compared with 87,132,000 bushels last year, and the five year average of 84,252,000 bushels.

The United States wheat crop, both winter and spring, showed some improvement during July, and the 1926 total crop is now estimated at 839,501,000 bushels, against 826,482,000 bushels winter, 212,719,000 spring. This compares with a total of 847,000,000 bushels last year and a five year average of 802,000,000 bushels. The state of Kansas alone has about 150,000,000 bushels of winter wheat this year.

OATS—The Oregon oats crop is estimated at 9,728,000 bushels. The five year average is 8,862,000 bushels.

The United States oats crop is estimated at 1,311,159,000 bushels, compared with 1,512,000,000 bushels last year and a five year average of 1,327,000,000 bushels.

BARLEY—The Oregon barley crop is now estimated at 2,460,000 bushels, compared with 1,460,000 bushels last year and a five year average of 2,416,000 bushels.

PLEASURE BUYERS

Warners Picturize Popular Novel of Mystery and Romance at Oregon

"The Pleasure Buyers," the Arthur Somers Roche mystery story which originally ran in the Cosmopolitan Magazine in serial form, has been picturized by Warner Bros. and is now showing at the Oregon theatre, starring Irene Rich.

With a gay gambling casino in Palm Beach as its locale, a mystery which remains unsolved until the last climax of the production, and a cast of brilliant players, this picture has been hailed by reviewers in other cities as one of the most dramatic and fascinating mysteries of the screen.

Clive Brook, who appeared in the title role of "The Woman Hater," plays the male lead opposite Miss Rich; and the supporting cast includes Gayne Whitman, June Marlowe, Charles Conklin, Don Alvarado, Edward Peil, Frank Campeau, Winter Hall, Frank Leigh and John Dillon.

"The Pleasure Buyers" are a gay social set who flock around the wealthy Gene Cassenas at the Palm Beach casino. He is engaged to marry pretty Helen Ripley, whose father breaks the engagement upon hearing unsavory details of Cassenas' reputation. During the excitement that follows, five people quarrel with Cassenas and threaten to kill him. When he is found murdered the following morning, it is almost impossible to fasten the guilt upon anyone until it is discovered that Joan Wiswell has left evidence in the Spanish gun with which Gene had presented her.

Canadian conditions have not been very favorable during the past four weeks, and a press report gives a preliminary estimate of 317,000,000 bushels this year, compared with 411,000,000 bushels last year.

Seven European countries report a rye production of 290,481,000 bushels this year, and 353,896,000 bushels last year.

In the southern hemisphere seeding of cereals is well under way and Argentine reports slightly less wheat acreage than last year, while Australia reports that there will probably be some increase in the wheat area.

FIND CHAUFFEUR'S BODY

ASSAILANT OF WATCHMAN ON COOGAN FARM SUICIDES

CAMPO, Cal., Aug. 12.—(By Associated Press).—The body of Don McCrae, former chauffeur for the family of Jackie Coogan, child film actor, and who was sought in connection with the shooting of a watchman at the Coogan home in Los Angeles Tuesday, was found shot through the head at the Coogan ranch near here today by Los Angeles police detectives.

The officers declared that McCrae undoubtedly took his own life.

The police detectives had come to the ranch, 15 miles from here, following the receipt of a post card by Jack Coogan, senior, from Tecate, a Mexican border town. Scrawled across the face of the post card was a message to the effect that if the Coogan ranch was searched the chauffeur would be found there—cold. The message was signed "Don" and comparison with the hand writing of the chauffeur showed the note had been written by him.

HE WAS THERE
She: Remember you? Of course I do. Didn't we meet at that ghastly party at the Jenkinsons?
He: Quite likely. I am Jenkinson.—London Opinion.

SALEM'S EXCLUSIVE SHOE STORE

Copper Patent

The new material and a new oxford. See it in our window. We show the new things as fast as they are produced and we are at least six weeks ahead of all other lines showing this latest fad in materials for ladies' footwear.

This one sells for $12.00

THAT TERRIBLE HORROR-GIRL

BY FREDERIC ARNOLD KUMMER

FORTY
All the way down to Rosemont Julia Hollins debated whether or not to tell her mother what she had found out in Millersburg. Her original plan, to see Sylvia alone force her to break her engagement and disappear, had been upset by the girl's absence from the store. It was true that the interview could be postponed until Monday, but knowing what she now knew, feeling toward Sylvia the hatred she now felt would make it next to impossible to be even polite to the girl, now that she had once again insinuated herself as a guest beneath the Hollins roof. It was entirely natural that Julia should feel this way: if Sylvia was the Jew and immoral woman the newspapers painted her, she certainly had no business in any decent home. Miss Hollins was a self-contained person, usually, but she felt her blood boil when she thought of her patrician mother, sitting at the same board with a woman of the streets, a cheap adventuress, designedly entrapping her brother into a disgraceful marriage. It seemed to her that if she saw Sylvia seated at the board she would be tempted to attack her physically. It was in this state of mind that she arrived at Rosemont.

She found her mother sewing placidly before an open fire in the library. What a charming picture she made—a lady of the old school, white-haired, slender, graceful in spite of her sixty years! Julia went up to her and gave her a tender kiss. She was very fond of her mother, and she knew that she was about to bring great distress upon her. Steve was her youngest, her baby, and Julia very well knew that while she might save him from this wretched marriage, they could not hope to save him from a worse one.

"Mother," she said, presently, in a sombre voice that Mrs. Hollins regarded sharply up from her sewing. "I've got bad news for you."

"Really, Julia, I'm sorry to hear that," the old lady laid aside her work, removed her glasses. "About whom?"

"About this girl Steve is planning to marry. I know who she is."

"Who is she? I don't understand you, Julia. Isn't her name McKenna?"

"Oh, yes. And her father keeps a bookshop in Millersburg, Pennsylvania, just as she said. I stopped there on my way home and saw him. But what she did not tell me—that her father did not tell me—is that she is a motion picture actress, and for the past two years has been living in Hollywood."

STATE DECLARES GAINES IS KILLER

(Continued from page 1.)

killing to him.

Luke S. May, a private detective, employed by King county to investigate the slaying of Sylvia, testified that he found human blood stains on clothing of Gaines.

He explained how a scientific analysis of the stains determined that they were of human blood. He related that he went to the University of Oregon at Eugene and with R. L. Benson, dean of pathology made tests with blood of animals and persons and determined by chemical reaction which was which.

Ewing D. Colvin, King county prosecutor, produced a glass bottle and asked May if he knew what was in it.

"Yes," the detective answered. "It has a piece of skull in it. It was turned over to me by the coroner."

This was the first time that any investigator of the case had mentioned the piece of skull.

"Is there any method," Colvin asked, "by which you can determine whether particular blood stains come from a particular person?"

"None," May replied. "The defense reserved cross questioning of May until he could examine the clothing on which the detective declared he found the blood stains."

TOO SENSITIVE
Magistrate: Why did you assault this man?
Organ Grinder: He abuses da monk.
Magistrate: What did he do?
Organ Grinder: He talks rough to da monk; he tells heem he looks like me.

PLEASURE BUYERS

Warners Picturize Popular Novel of Mystery and Romance at Oregon

"The Pleasure Buyers," the Arthur Somers Roche mystery story which originally ran in the Cosmopolitan Magazine in serial form, has been picturized by Warner Bros. and is now showing at the Oregon theatre, starring Irene Rich.

With a gay gambling casino in Palm Beach as its locale, a mystery which remains unsolved until the last climax of the production, and a cast of brilliant players, this picture has been hailed by reviewers in other cities as one of the most dramatic and fascinating mysteries of the screen.

Clive Brook, who appeared in the title role of "The Woman Hater," plays the male lead opposite Miss Rich; and the supporting cast includes Gayne Whitman, June Marlowe, Charles Conklin, Don Alvarado, Edward Peil, Frank Campeau, Winter Hall, Frank Leigh and John Dillon.

"The Pleasure Buyers" are a gay social set who flock around the wealthy Gene Cassenas at the Palm Beach casino. He is engaged to marry pretty Helen Ripley, whose father breaks the engagement upon hearing unsavory details of Cassenas' reputation. During the excitement that follows, five people quarrel with Cassenas and threaten to kill him. When he is found murdered the following morning, it is almost impossible to fasten the guilt upon anyone until it is discovered that Joan Wiswell has left evidence in the Spanish gun with which Gene had presented her.

STATE DECLARES GAINES IS KILLER

(Continued from page 1.)

killing to him.

Luke S. May, a private detective, employed by King county to investigate the slaying of Sylvia, testified that he found human blood stains on clothing of Gaines.

He explained how a scientific analysis of the stains determined that they were of human blood. He related that he went to the University of Oregon at Eugene and with R. L. Benson, dean of pathology made tests with blood of animals and persons and determined by chemical reaction which was which.

Ewing D. Colvin, King county prosecutor, produced a glass bottle and asked May if he knew what was in it.

"Yes," the detective answered. "It has a piece of skull in it. It was turned over to me by the coroner."

This was the first time that any investigator of the case had mentioned the piece of skull.

"Is there any method," Colvin asked, "by which you can determine whether particular blood stains come from a particular person?"

"None," May replied. "The defense reserved cross questioning of May until he could examine the clothing on which the detective declared he found the blood stains."

TOO SENSITIVE
Magistrate: Why did you assault this man?
Organ Grinder: He abuses da monk.
Magistrate: What did he do?
Organ Grinder: He talks rough to da monk; he tells heem he looks like me.

THAT TERRIBLE HORROR-GIRL

BY FREDERIC ARNOLD KUMMER

FORTY
All the way down to Rosemont Julia Hollins debated whether or not to tell her mother what she had found out in Millersburg. Her original plan, to see Sylvia alone force her to break her engagement and disappear, had been upset by the girl's absence from the store. It was true that the interview could be postponed until Monday, but knowing what she now knew, feeling toward Sylvia the hatred she now felt would make it next to impossible to be even polite to the girl, now that she had once again insinuated herself as a guest beneath the Hollins roof. It was entirely natural that Julia should feel this way: if Sylvia was the Jew and immoral woman the newspapers painted her, she certainly had no business in any decent home. Miss Hollins was a self-contained person, usually, but she felt her blood boil when she thought of her patrician mother, sitting at the same board with a woman of the streets, a cheap adventuress, designedly entrapping her brother into a disgraceful marriage. It seemed to her that if she saw Sylvia seated at the board she would be tempted to attack her physically. It was in this state of mind that she arrived at Rosemont.

She found her mother sewing placidly before an open fire in the library. What a charming picture she made—a lady of the old school, white-haired, slender, graceful in spite of her sixty years! Julia went up to her and gave her a tender kiss. She was very fond of her mother, and she knew that she was about to bring great distress upon her. Steve was her youngest, her baby, and Julia very well knew that while she might save him from this wretched marriage, they could not hope to save him from a worse one.

"Mother," she said, presently, in a sombre voice that Mrs. Hollins regarded sharply up from her sewing. "I've got bad news for you."

"Really, Julia, I'm sorry to hear that," the old lady laid aside her work, removed her glasses. "About whom?"

"About this girl Steve is planning to marry. I know who she is."

"Who is she? I don't understand you, Julia. Isn't her name McKenna?"

"Oh, yes. And her father keeps a bookshop in Millersburg, Pennsylvania, just as she said. I stopped there on my way home and saw him. But what she did not tell me—that her father did not tell me—is that she is a motion picture actress, and for the past two years has been living in Hollywood."

STATE DECLARES GAINES IS KILLER

(Continued from page 1.)

killing to him.

Luke S. May, a private detective, employed by King county to investigate the slaying of Sylvia, testified that he found human blood stains on clothing of Gaines.

He explained how a scientific analysis of the stains determined that they were of human blood. He related that he went to the University of Oregon at Eugene and with R. L. Benson, dean of pathology made tests with blood of animals and persons and determined by chemical reaction which was which.

Ewing D. Colvin, King county prosecutor, produced a glass bottle and asked May if he knew what was in it.

"Yes," the detective answered. "It has a piece of skull in it. It was turned over to me by the coroner."

This was the first time that any investigator of the case had mentioned the piece of skull.

"Is there any method," Colvin asked, "by which you can determine whether particular blood stains come from a particular person?"

"None," May replied. "The defense reserved cross questioning of May until he could examine the clothing on which the detective declared he found the blood stains."

TOO SENSITIVE
Magistrate: Why did you assault this man?
Organ Grinder: He abuses da monk.
Magistrate: What did he do?
Organ Grinder: He talks rough to da monk; he tells heem he looks like me.

THAT TERRIBLE HORROR-GIRL

BY FREDERIC ARNOLD KUMMER

FORTY
All the way down to Rosemont Julia Hollins debated whether or not to tell her mother what she had found out in Millersburg. Her original plan, to see Sylvia alone force her to break her engagement and disappear, had been upset by the girl's absence from the store. It was true that the interview could be postponed until Monday, but knowing what she now knew, feeling toward Sylvia the hatred she now felt would make it next to impossible to be even polite to the girl, now that she had once again insinuated herself as a guest beneath the Hollins roof. It was entirely natural that Julia should feel this way: if Sylvia was the Jew and immoral woman the newspapers painted her, she certainly had no business in any decent home. Miss Hollins was a self-contained person, usually, but she felt her blood boil when she thought of her patrician mother, sitting at the same board with a woman of the streets, a cheap adventuress, designedly entrapping her brother into a disgraceful marriage. It seemed to her that if she saw Sylvia seated at the board she would be tempted to attack her physically. It was in this state of mind that she arrived at Rosemont.

She found her mother sewing placidly before an open fire in the library. What a charming picture she made—a lady of the old school, white-haired, slender, graceful in spite of her sixty years! Julia went up to her and gave her a tender kiss. She was very fond of her mother, and she knew that she was about to bring great distress upon her. Steve was her youngest, her baby, and Julia very well knew that while she might save him from this wretched marriage, they could not hope to save him from a worse one.

"Mother," she said, presently, in a sombre voice that Mrs. Hollins regarded sharply up from her sewing. "I've got bad news for you."

"Really, Julia, I'm sorry to hear that," the old lady laid aside her work, removed her glasses. "About whom?"

"About this girl Steve is planning to marry. I know who she is."

"Who is she? I don't understand you, Julia. Isn't her name McKenna?"

"Oh, yes. And her father keeps a bookshop in Millersburg, Pennsylvania, just as she said. I stopped there on my way home and saw him. But what she did not tell me—that her father did not tell me—is that she is a motion picture actress, and for the past two years has been living in Hollywood."

STATE DECLARES GAINES IS KILLER

(Continued from page 1.)

killing to him.

Luke S. May, a private detective, employed by King county to investigate the slaying of Sylvia, testified that he found human blood stains on clothing of Gaines.

He explained how a scientific analysis of the stains determined that they were of human blood. He related that he went to the University of Oregon at Eugene and with R. L. Benson, dean of pathology made tests with blood of animals and persons and determined by chemical reaction which was which.

Ewing D. Colvin, King county prosecutor, produced a glass bottle and asked May if he knew what was in it.

"Yes," the detective answered. "It has a piece of skull in it. It was turned over to me by the coroner."

This was the first time that any investigator of the case had mentioned the piece of skull.

"Is there any method," Colvin asked, "by which you can determine whether particular blood stains come from a particular person?"

"None," May replied. "The defense reserved cross questioning of May until he could examine the clothing on which the detective declared he found the blood stains."

TOO SENSITIVE
Magistrate: Why did you assault this man?
Organ Grinder: He abuses da monk.
Magistrate: What did he do?
Organ Grinder: He talks rough to da monk; he tells heem he looks like me.

ANDREWS ANNOUNCES NEW LIQUOR BUREAU

(Continued from page 1.)

control of the diversion of industrial alcohol.

During his talk with newspaper men, General Andrews was asked concerning the status of Bruce Bielaski, who testified at the trial of the members of the Dwyer ring.

The Dwyer defense pictured Bielaski as a mysterious "undercover" man and an official investigation of his status resulted in a report by Controller General McCarrin that the name of Bielaski did not appear on government rolls.

"Mr. Bielaski is a secret agent," General Andrews said today. "That is why there is no record of him. He is not paid $1,100 a month or any other salary. He is paid for what he accomplishes and that might amount to $20,000 a year. He is paid out of a fund or the purchase of evidence which congress provided at my request."

General Andrews said that last year there was a $50,000 fund for purchase of evidence in prohibition cases, but that at his request congress had raised the amount to $250,000 this year.

"Why all the uproar about the 'invisible government of Bielaski' raised by the Dwyer defense counsel?" he asked. Do they expect us to get evidence by standing on the street corners? There are other men working like Bielaski in other parts of the country. I would be a fool if I did not have them."

er than it does me, I've got something that I want to say to mother."

(To be continued.)
Copyright, 1926, Frederic Arnold Kummer. Released by Central Press Association.

Father! Help Your Weak, Frail Child

Easy to Gain 5 Pounds of Solid Flesh in 30 Days

He needs every bit of strength and energy to grow up and face the world and to combat the diseases that all children encounter. McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets have helped thousands of little ones—many of them in worse shape than your little loved one.

Full of health giving vitamins and a combination of strength and flesh builders that do help the ailing child in just a few days. They put on weight, too. You can get 60 McCoy's Tablets for 60 cents at J. C. Perry, D. J. Fry or any druggist anywhere. Try them for 30 days and if you are not joyfully satisfied with results get your money back. Ask for McCoy's—they are sugar coated and children love to take them.—Adv.

R. G. HENDERSON
E. C. MENNIS

LANTERN IS TAKEN TWO FACE CHARGER

Un-guarded Dirt Pile Said to Endanger Passing Automobile

Because a passing motorist saw a man step from a car at Twenty-first and Center streets, lift a warning lantern from a dirt pile in the street there, and go off in the car, which contained another man and a girl, W. L. Elliott and W. Bennett are lodged in the city jail pending investigation.

After seeing the lantern taken, the motorist followed the car, took down its license number, and immediately reported the theft at police headquarters. Police officers started to scour the city, and 15 minutes later Officer W. C. Edwards brought in the car which contained Elliott, Bennett, a 15-year-old girl and a lantern similar to ones used by the war department, with fresh dirt on the bottom.

Neither Elliott nor Bennett would admit the theft when questioned by police, but said they owned the lantern. Both men were locked up and the girl was turned over to Mrs. Nona White, county juvenile officer. She admitted when questioned that Bennett had taken the lantern.

The men are being held for investigation. Charges of petty larceny and driving without a tall light may be brought. The theft is considered serious, as it occurred on a heavily travelled street, where considerable danger of an accident exists from leaving a dirt pile unguarded.

Low Price At All Times

These are regular prices not just specials for a day or two.

Lima Beans 10c
Pound
12 lbs. Walla Walla sweet 25c
Onions
Fancy Prunes 10c
Per pound
Two 5 oz. cans 25c
Fancy Oysters 25c
3 Campbell's 25c
Beans

TERMINAL FLOUR
None better at any Price
$2.15
Mild Cream 27c
Cheese
Hershey's 40c
Kisses, lb.
Log Cabin 44c
Syrup (med.)
Fresh Salted Spanish 20c
Peanuts
HI-GRADE COFFEE 47c
Full coffee enjoyment, Lb. (3 lbs. for $1.35)
FRESH FROM THE ROASTER

Sensible, thinking people deal with us because they're sure of our goods and the fairness of honest prices. We're not doing business for today and tomorrow only. Long years of tomorrows are coming down the line.

DAMON'S
899 N. Commercial
Phone 1-2-6-3
United Grocers of Ore.
Store No. 100

See our new lot of 36 inch fast color Prints at a price. THEY ARE HERE and should not last long at our price—
$2.98

See our new lot of 36 inch fast color Prints at a price. THEY ARE HERE and should not last long at our price—
$2.98

See our new lot of 36 inch fast color Prints at a price. THEY ARE HERE and should not last long at our price—
$2.98

See our new lot of 36 inch fast color Prints at a price. THEY ARE HERE and should not last long at our price—
$2.98

See our new lot of 36 inch fast color Prints at a price. THEY ARE HERE and should not last long at our price—
$2.98

Making Your Dollars Reach

We are ever on the alert to make our dollars reach and pass on to our customers. We recently had an opportunity of picking a close-out of the last of Men's

HEAVY TAN RAINCOATS

at a price. THEY ARE HERE and should not last long at our price—
$2.98

See our new lot of 36 inch fast color Prints at a price. THEY ARE HERE and should not last long at our price—
$2.98

See our new lot of 36 inch fast color Prints at a price. THEY ARE HERE and should not last long at our price—
$2.98

See our new lot of 36 inch fast color Prints at a price. THEY ARE HERE and should not last long at our price—
$2.98

See our new lot of 36 inch fast color Prints at a price. THEY ARE HERE and should not last long at our price—
$2.98

See our new lot of 36 inch fast color Prints at a price. THEY ARE HERE and should not last long at our price—
$2.98

See our new lot of 36 inch fast color Prints at a price. THEY ARE HERE and should not last long at our price—
$2.98

See our new lot of 36 inch fast color Prints at a price. THEY ARE HERE and should not last long at our price—
$2.98

See our new lot of 36 inch fast color Prints at a price. THEY ARE HERE and should not last long at our price—
$2.98

$22.95

Buys Finer Clothes Than It Ever Did Before

WE are after more business. That's what we want; that's why we are giving such wonderful values to get it. You will see all the new Fall Styles here—2 and 3-button Sack Collegiate Style—Smart Models in Single or Double Breasted Sacks in the new Shades of Blue so popular now. They are the finest clothes ever bought. Some more surprising values—$24.95 and $27.95.

MEN! Take Notice

WE are after more business. That's what we want; that's why we are giving such wonderful values to get it. You will see all the new Fall Styles here—2 and 3-button Sack Collegiate Style—Smart Models in Single or Double Breasted Sacks in the new Shades of Blue so popular now. They are the finest clothes ever bought. Some more surprising values—$24.95 and $27.95.

WE are after more business. That's what we want; that's why we are giving such wonderful values to get it. You will see all the new Fall Styles here—2 and 3-button Sack Collegiate Style—Smart Models in Single or Double Breasted Sacks in the new Shades of Blue so popular now. They are the finest clothes ever bought. Some more surprising values—$24.95 and $27.95.

WE are after more business. That's what we want; that's why we are giving such wonderful values to get it. You will see all the new Fall Styles here—2 and 3-button Sack Collegiate Style—Smart Models in Single or Double Breasted Sacks in the new Shades of Blue so popular now. They are the finest clothes ever bought. Some more surprising values—$24.95 and $27.95.

WE are after more business. That's what we want; that's why we are giving such wonderful values to get it. You will see all the new Fall Styles here—2 and 3-button Sack Collegiate Style—Smart Models in Single or Double Breasted Sacks in the new Shades of Blue so popular now. They are the finest clothes ever bought. Some more surprising values—$24.95 and $27.95.

WE are after more business. That's what we want; that's why we are giving such wonderful values to get it. You will see all the new Fall Styles here—2 and 3-button Sack Collegiate Style—Smart Models in Single or Double Breasted Sacks in the new Shades of Blue so popular now. They are the finest clothes ever bought. Some more surprising values—$24.95 and $27.95.

WE are after more business. That's what we want; that's why we are giving such wonderful values to get it. You will see all the new Fall Styles here—2 and 3-button Sack Collegiate Style—Smart Models in Single or Double Breasted Sacks in the new Shades of Blue so popular now. They are the finest clothes ever bought. Some more surprising values—$24.95 and $27.95.

Director's DEPARTMENT STORE

C. & C. STORE
284 NORTH COMMERCIAL
P. S.—Beginning Monday, in order to accommodate busy customers, our store will remain open