Miss Mildred Strevey Becomes Bride of Frank C. Colcord

Of interest to a large circle of Salem friends will be the following account of the marriage of Miss Mildred Strevey to Frank C. Colcord of Newburg on August 18, taken from the Southwestern Daily News:

A beautiful home wedding was held this morning at 10:30 o'clock at the First Methodist parsonage when Miss Mildred Strevey became the bride of Frank C. Colcord of Newburg. Rev. J. E. Strevey, father of the bride, performed the ring ceremony, while soft piano music was played by Miss Marion Gidley. Miss Mary Shirley of North Bend was maid of honor, while Elmer Strevey, twin brother of the bride, acted as best man.

The bride was attractive in pale green georgette. Her shower bouquet was of white sweet peas and bride's roses.

A two-course wedding breakfast was served immediately following the ceremony.

The bride and groom left immediately by motor for Vancouver, B. C., for a ten-day wedding trip. Mr. and Mrs. Colcord will make their home in Newburg where Mr. Colcord is auditor of the Yamhill Electric company.

Mrs. Colcord is a popular graduate of Willamette university where she was a member of the class of 1923. She was a member of both the Adiantum Literary society and the Delta Phi sorority. During her senior year Mrs. Colcord was president of the Ladies' Glee club, and during junior year she was maid to Queen Esther. Mrs. Colcord was also university song queen during her undergraduate days. She did outstanding work in dramatics while in college.

Since her graduation Mrs. Colcord has taught at Doty, Wash., Mill City and Medford. She is the only daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Strevey of Newburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Colcord will be at home to their friends after August 28.

Dinner at Darby Home

Mrs. Bertha Junk Darby and Mrs. D. P. Junk entertained at an attractive dinner party on Monday evening honoring Rev. and Mrs. James Elvin and children, Thomas and Julia, of Helena, Mont., who are guests in Salem this month.

Covers were placed for Rev. and Mrs. James Elvin, Miss Julia Elvin, James Elvin, Dr. and Mrs. George H. Alden, Mrs. Arletta M. Page, Miss Anna Harrison, and the hostesses, Mrs. Darby and Mrs. Junk.

Professor Kirk Returns From Columbia

Prof. William E. Kirk, professor of classical languages at Willamette university, returned home the first of the week from a summer spent in interesting study at Columbia university. Professor Kirk enjoyed stops both in Stevensville, Mont., and in Lincoln, Neb., en route east. Before returning he visited two sisters in the east, one in Wilmington, Del., and the other in Sytmar, Md. His itinerary also included short stays in both Washington, D. C., and in Pittsburgh.

Helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Cleveland, Ohio.—"After having my first baby, I lost weight, no matter what I did. Then a doctor told me I would be better if I had another baby, which I did. But I got worse, was always sickly and went down to 98 pounds. My neighbor told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I tried it. After taking four bottles, I weigh 116 pounds. It has just done wonders for me and I can do my housework now without one bit of trouble."—Mrs. M. R. Rasmussen, 1004 Nelson Ave., Cleveland, Ohio.

If some good fairy should appear, and offer to grant your heart's desire, what would you choose? Wealth? It's a transient thing that brings its own cares. Happiness? It's an elusive thing which we keep by giving away. Health? That's the best gift. Health is riches that gold cannot buy and surely health is cause enough for happiness.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound may be the good fairy who offers you better health.

Trip to Honolulu

An exceedingly interesting vacation is being planned by Mrs. Frederick Hill Thompson and Miss Clara Davis, who will leave on Sunday, August 29, for the Hawaiian Islands. They will go on the Shasta Limited directly to San Francisco, from which port they will sail on the Matsushita, one of the largest steamers plying on the Matson line, for Honolulu. They plan to leave San Francisco on Sept. 1.

On the islands Mrs. Thompson and Miss Davis will register at the Plesaton hotel, Honolulu. They will visit at the home of Capt. and Mrs. A. C. Flegel during their absence. They plan to be away for six weeks, returning to Salem the middle of October.

Return From Breitenbush

Mrs. Zadoc Riggs and her mother, Mrs. Jeannette Waller, are home from Breitenbush Springs where they have been spending the greater part of the summer.

Today Mr. and Mrs. Riggs plan to leave for Vancouver, B. C., where they will spend the next week.

Miss Wilson

Return From East

The Misses Gladys and Carolyn Wilson, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Wilson, arrived home Tuesday morning from a two month visit in the eastern United States and Canada where they were the guests of friends and relatives.

Kletzings in Seattle

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Kletzing left last night for Seattle where they will spend the week.

Miss Jennison in Eugene

Miss Edna Jennison was among those from Salem in attendance at the Trail-to-Rail celebration in Eugene. Miss Jennison remained in the pageant city over the weekend.

House Guests at Styles Home

Mrs. Harry M. Styles had as her guest last week her brother, Chas. Hill of Walla Walla. A second brother, Dr. Elmer Hill, accompanied by his wife and two daughters, Mildred and Helen Louise, a niece, Miss Gladys Hill of San Francisco, and Mrs. Hill's father, Dr. Dinmore of Troy, Kansas, spent Tuesday at the Styles home before leaving by motor for Seattle and Vancouver, B. C.

Miss Gladys Hill is remaining in Salem for several days before taking the boat for San Francisco. She has been visiting in Walla Walla.

Misses Ellis

Leave for Alaska

The Misses Dorothy and Edna Ellis left on Sunday for Alaska where they will spend a two weeks' vacation.

Eastern Visitor Is Entertained in Northwest

Miss Caroline Gray, former superintendent of the New York city hospital, and now professor of nursing at Columbia university, New York, left Tuesday night after a week's stay in the northwest. Several attractive social affairs were given in her honor by Portland folk, among them being the dinner on Saturday at which Miss Emily Loveridge, superintendent of the Good Samaritan hospital, was hostess.

Covers were placed for twelve. Miss Eleanor Thompson and Miss Astrid Hofseth of Salem were among the guests.

House Guests at De Lake

Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Hicks have had as their house guests at their summer home at De Lake Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Farnham and son, Clarence Jr., of Portland.

Another visitor at De Lake was Avery Hicks of Berkeley, Cal., a brother of Mr. Hicks, who spent two weeks at the Hicks summer home. Avery Hicks is now visiting friends in Salem.

Miss Bedford Is Honored at Attractive Affair

Miss Ruth Bedford, who is spending the summer in West Salem as the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bedford, was the inspiration for the delightful affair of Wednesday afternoon at which Mrs. Edwin Brock was hostess.

The afternoon was spent in a social way, after which the guests remained for dinner. A basket of golden glow centered the table where covers were placed for Miss Ruth Bedford, the honor guest, Mrs. Mary Billings, Miss Lotta McAdams, Mrs. J. R. Bedford, Rev. and Mrs. J. F. Cannell and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Brock.

THAT TERRIBLE THORNE GIRL

BY FREDERIC ARNOLD KUMMER

FIFTY

"I was going to write a letter to my wife as soon as we were on the steamer for Japan and tell her just what happened," continued Sydney Harmon. "It wouldn't have made any difference, then. But if she found me, got me on the witness stand, I should have had to lie, or else blacken the reputation of the woman I loved—the woman I thought I loved—by telling the world that—that"—he hesitated.

"By telling the world," Mrs. Allison completed the sentence, "that you had been in love with her for months. That you went to the bungalow that night to see her, because she was sick, and not to see Miss Thorne. That you got teastily drunk, and in that state forgot all about your 'love' for Jean Martin, and tried to add another conquest to the already rather long list. Why in God's name don't you come out honestly and admit that you've been more or less of a Don Juan all your life, without trying to dignify your feelings with the name of 'love'?"

Everybody knows what you are. Even your wife. If she's willing to forgive you, you ought to be ready to go down on your knees and thank God for giving you the love of a good woman. I told her I'd bring you back. Are you ready to go? Or are you determined to wreck her life as well as your own, to say nothing of Sylvia Thorne's? You've made the child an outcast—driven her out of Hollywood—wiped her right off the screen. Why not act like a man for once in your life and do what you can to bring her back again?"

Sydney Harmon sat silent for many minutes, unable to face the scorn in Mrs. Allison's eyes. When he at last lifted his head, his expression held a new determination.

"I'll go back," he said. "It will take me half an hour to pack my things. I hope you won't mind waiting."

Marion Allison, sitting in the lobby of the hotel while Mr. Harmon prepared for their journey, went over in her mind the steps to be taken before Sylvia could once more look the world in the face.

First, of course, would come the reconciliation, if one could be effected, between Sydney and his wife.

If he returned home in his present contrite spirit, confessed his wrongdoing frankly, threw himself on Isobel's mercy, Marion felt little doubt that he would be forgiven.

An infinitely more difficult task would then confront her—the reinstating of Sylvia as a decent woman in the eyes of the public. It was a task before which even Mrs. Allison quailed. With the publicity which a great picture corporation had at its command to back her, the thing might be accomplished, but Sylvia was now a nobody. Her affairs were no longer "news." Who cared whether her reputation was cleared or not, besides a few friends? There would have to be a campaign, certainly, costing huge sums of money, such a campaign as only a picture company of the first magnitude could carry out. Marion knew the screen world thoroughly—knew how exceedingly difficult it would be to induce any member of it to risk a fortune to re-establish Sylvia as a star.

No matter how strong her case might appear, there was always a chance that the public, fickle as April showers, might refuse to accept her again—might think that her defense was just some publicity trick, concocted by clever press agents to delude them. Mrs. Allison was still debating this phase of Sylvia's case in her mind when Sydney Harmon appeared, followed by a porter.

"I'm ready, if you are," he said, as Marion rose.

Sylvia and Steve spent all the afternoon and early evening preparing the statement she had decided to give to the newspapers. Mr. Hollins was enthusiastic over the idea and lent what help he could in whipping the story into shape. But when it was finally completed and they had driven in to Los Angeles, sought out the city editor of one of the newspapers, a great disappointment awaited them.

The editor in question, remembering Sylvia's name, received her at once, but when he had glanced through the pages of her statement he shook his head.

Medieval Swedish Castle Heated by Modern Means

STOCKHOLM, (AP)—The inhabitants of old Swedish castles enjoyed modern comforts more than four centuries ago.

The castle of Glimmingehus, one of Sweden's most famous country seats, built in 1499, contained a central heating plant in the basement with conduits through the walls, discovered by representatives of the Royal Swedish Academy of Antiquities.

This is believed to be the oldest installation of its kind in Northern Europe. Breakfast in bed also apparently was enjoyed by the master and mistress of the castle as speaking tubes were found leading from their bedroom to the kitchen.
