A reception was served in the dining room immediately following the ceremony. Miss Lola Millard was in charge of the dining room. Mrs. Clifford Townsend presided at the coffee urn, while Mrs. H. S. Poisal cut the loaves. Assisting in the serving were Miss Mildred Hansen, Miss Helen Warrick and Miss Mary Ward.

Sixty invitations were issued for the ceremony.

Late in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Millard left for a wedding trip to points north. They will return to Salem to make their home.

Mrs. Millard's traveling suit was a stunning sport costume in gold and pheasant worn with a chic coat of bronze plaid with fox collar.

Mr. and Mrs. Millard are both graduates of the Salem high school. For the past year and a half Mrs. Millard has been employed at the state library, while Mr. Millard is connected with the Otto J. Wilson garage.

Findley Sisters Return from Seattle
Miss Pauline Findley and Miss Edith Findley have returned home from Seattle where they spent 10 days as the guests of their brother, Dwight Findley, and of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smart.

Returns to Seattle
Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. McMillin of Seattle, Wash., have returned to their home after spending several days in Salem as the guests of their sister-in-law, Rachel E. Reeder at 239 S. Cottage street.

Barkley-Olsen Wedding
One of the most beautiful events of the week was the wedding of Miss Hilda Berkey to Mr. Howard Olsen on the evening of September 1, at the Christian and Missionary Alliance tabernacle.

The church was beautifully decorated with large baskets of gladiolus and dahlias and a lattice across the stage interwoven with beautiful branches of vining maple.

After the guests were all seated, the bridal party marched in as Mrs. O'Neil played the wedding march. Miss Berkey was attended by Miss Elvina Sherman and Miss Laverne Olsen as brides maids and Mr. Olsen was attended by Floyd Stewart and Wilson Lanier as best men.

The bride wore a beautiful white satin dress and a short veil. Her head was adorned with a wreath of orange blossoms, and she carried a magnificent bridal bouquet of Cecil Brunner roses.

After Miss Inez Wood sang "I Love You Truly," Miss Caswell read the wedding ceremony. The ring ceremony was used. Miss Hazel Powell sang "O Promise Me."

After the young couple were congratulated by their many friends, they went to the bride's home where a reception was given for them.

Chapter G of the P. E. O. Sisterhood Opens Fall Session
Commemorating the fifteenth anniversary of the founding of Chapter G of the PEO in Salem, a group of past presidents of the chapter were hostesses this month at an outstanding luncheon at the Elks' club dining room.

SENATE MILLIONAIRES MAY ORGANIZE CLUB

mere happen-so in the presence of two very rich men in this off-year campaign. In the "on" years, when presidential campaigns lend popular interest to the goings-on, money flows easily into party coffers. Everybody climbs on one handwagon or the other and—hang the expense. But in the off-years money—while just as surely needed—comes far less easily. Hence the need for particular "angels," individual men who can be counted on to contribute largely, nay, voluminously to campaign expenses.

While it is not expected that the rich men at the head of their respective party campaign organizations will play "butter and egg man" during the impending political activity, it is sure that they will maintain effective headquarters "on their own," offices fully equipped to handle the vast detail of campaigning under modern circumstances.

SILVERTON CALLED 4-HEADQUARTERS

J. M. Pond, of Spokane, Principal Speaker at Celebration

SILVERTON, Or., Sept. 6.—(Special.)—"Silverton is looked upon as the 4-L capital of the Pacific coast," said J. M. Pond of Spokane, who was the principal speaker at the annual picnic of Loyal Legion of Loggers and Lumbermen held at Silverton on Labor day.

Mr. Pond had for his subject, "The Modern Concept of Individualism." Ten years ago, Mr. Pond explained, specialists were not in such demand. Today nothing but specialists are considered for anything. Mr. Pond was also of the opinion that people of today are hero worshippers. If they did not worship the hero himself, said Mr. Pond, they at least worshipped his achievement.

In going on to speak of the 4-L organization he remarked that "its mission was to study the facts of both sides and form a medium." To establish the truth was the important issue, according to the speaker.

"Have faith in people," he urged, "if they know the truth they will act wisely."

Mr. Pond also lamented the lack of cooperation between the loggers and lumbermen.

The audience also enjoyed a vocal solo by L. McDonald of Salem, and selections by the Harmony quartet also of Salem. The 4-L band gave a number of selections at intervals.

The afternoon of the day was spent in athletic sports.

BANKER'S WIFE LASHED TO BED, THIEVES FLEE

the town disappeared when the alarm was sounded and officers believed they were the would-be bank robbers.

Mrs. Scrogins was sweeping in the hall way of her home when the masked man appeared and ordered her to throw up her hands. He forced her upstairs to the bedroom and tied her to the bed, offering no unnecessary violence she said.

The masked man, who wore rubber gloves, spent some time during the day ransacking the house and about noon he cooked his own dinner. He offered Mrs. Scrogins food, but she refused.

He maintained his vigil in the house until Scrogins arrived about 5 p. m., returning from a trip to Salem. The banker was greeted by the stranger in the living room. The intruder showed his gun, and ordered Scrogins to the bedroom on the ground floor of the house, where he bound the banker to a bed and relieved him of the keys to the bank.

Miss Mae Meehan Marries W. H. Bartholomew

Coming as a surprise to her many Salem friends was the marriage on Wednesday, August 18, of Miss Mae Meehan to W. H. Bartholomew of Eugene. The ceremony was solemnized in Eugene at 8 o'clock in the evening, with only the immediate relatives in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cole attended the bride and groom as matron-of-honor and best man.

The bride was beautifully gowned in satin back crepe in the new bran-shade, ornamented with deep cream lace. The frock was made bouffant style with full skirt.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the groom's mother, Mrs. Grace Bartholomew. The bride's cake was an elaborate confection with an icing of sugar flowers in the pastel shades. The bride cut her own cake.

Mrs. Bartholomew is the daughter of Mrs. Grace Meehan of Seattle. For the past year she has made her home in Salem, having been employed during that time at Worth's department store.

Following a two weeks' wedding trip to Seattle Mr. and Mrs. Bartholomew will return to Eugene to make their home.

Mrs. Bartholomew were for traveling a stunning new fall coat of neeplepoint with fox collar, and a felt sports hat.

Miss Plank Becomes Bride of Harold Millard at Beautiful Ceremony

One of the loveliest home weddings ever solemnized in Salem took place on Saturday afternoon, September 4, when at 4:30 in the afternoon Miss Heloise Louise Plank, daughter of Elmer Plank, became the bride of Harold Millard, only son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Millard. The impressive ceremony was performed at the Millard home, 2011 D street, with Rev. Fred C. Taylor, pastor of the First Methodist church officiating.

A color scheme of lavender, silver and green predominated not only in the bridal costumes, but also in the floral decorations. An altar of the season's most beautiful flowers was arranged before the fireplace. Before the flowers and fern tall white cathedral canopies in cascades glowed. Lavender asters in tall baskets were placed about the rooms.

Immediately preceding the ceremony Miss Dorothy Brant sang "At Dawning."

The bridal party assembled to the strains of the Mendelssohn wedding processional, with Miss Elva Amsler at the piano. The bride's father gave her in marriage.

The bride, an exceedingly attractive girl of exquisite Titian type, was beautifully gowned in lavender and gold lace. The orchid taffeta was made with tight bodice and bouffant skirt, the deep gold lace falling from the neckline to form the semblance of sleeves. The bride wore a head-dress of pearls and orange blossoms. Her flowers were Cecil Brunner roses and sweet peas.

Miss Margreta Millard, sister of the groom, attended the bride as maid of honor. Her costume was a lovely mode of pale green satin back crepe with full skirt, lavishly ornamented with silver lace. She wore bands of silver in her hair. Miss Millard also carried Cecil Brunner roses and sweet peas.

Clifford Townsend acted as best man for Mr. Millard.

HUSBAND DID THE WASHING

His Wife Confined to Her Bed by Ill Health

Because of his wife's frequent ill health, Mr. J. F. Gage was obliged to do the washing and cooking for the family.

One day when Mrs. Gage was confined to her bed, he brought her the newspaper to read. Among the advertisements she noticed a letter from an orthodox sick woman telling of the help she had received from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"I'll try it," she decided. Her husband brought home a bottle and only a few days after she had begun to take it she felt well enough to be up around the house. Gradually her general health improved until she is now able to do her own work.

In a letter which Mrs. Gage recently wrote, she said, "I have taken twelve bottles and feel like a new woman." She has told many women about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and one of her friends is now taking it. Her address is Mrs. J. F. Gage, Route 5, Brownwood, Texas.
