ORMISTON OUT TO AID STATE AGAINST AIMEE

torney, H. H. Hahn, will accept service of the warrant here in Los Angeles. Hahn, in conference with District Attorney Keyes said that he would produce Ormiston immediately...

Counsel for Angelu S Temple informed the district attorney that Mrs. McPherson and her mother would be surprised to see the warrant for their arrest was prepared.

District Attorney Keyes issued the following statement:

"Legal action to place before the public of this community all of the facts and circumstances of this case and to prosecute before the bar of justice this woman and her associates, is imperative."

"As the district attorney of this county and its chief law enforcement officer I have proceeded from the beginning with the thought in mind that Mrs. McPherson's position as the religious leader of a considerable number of people and the custodian of their Christian faith entitles her to protection from hasty or ill-considered action."

"From the time that the story of Mrs. McPherson had been found, there has been an atmosphere of gigantic hoax surrounding it. As time progressed, this increased with the unbelievable story of the kidnapping and the brazen activities of Mrs. McPherson and her friends to build up false alibis for her."

"It is my duty, and I can do no less than to exert the full power of my office to bring this woman before the bar of justice in order that she may have a fair and public hearing. It is with regret that I take action against a person so high in the religious esteem of many persons but the community and the upright members of all religions would welcome a fair and open hearing of a situation which has become a nationwide scandal."

Kenneth G. Ormiston, former radio operator, who has been sought by officials for several months will turn up today, it was declared today by attorney S. S. Hahn, after leaving the district attorney's office late today, stated that the district attorney virtually had agreed to grant Ormiston immunity for turning states evidence.

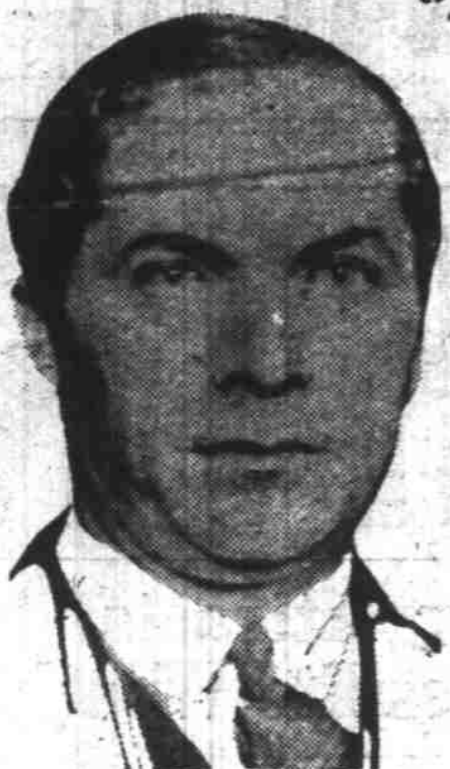

Mrs. McPherson tonight is in bed at her home adjoining Angelu Temple, under orders of her physician to remain in bed undisturbed until further orders, an official statement issued at the temple tonight by her mother asserted.

"Her vitality, being lowered by the strenuous and continued siege laid upon her, her system has been unable to throw off a condition arising from an abscess on the face, the statement said."

"Examination proved that the infection had set in and spread over considerable of her face, and through the nasal channels."

"Mrs. McPherson has been un-highway. Although seriously burned, she managed to walk to the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Pokorney, about a quarter of a mile distant.

Mrs. Pokorney went immediately to the spot, found one daughter and her sister-in-law, and a dog, dead, and the other daughter seriously injured. She called Dr. Gerald Smith, of Woodburn, who summoned an ambulance which carried Elaine, 14, to a Salem hospital. Her recovery is declared doubtful.

Stella, 33, sister of Antonio Pokorney, was to have been married on September 28, to Jake Traneck, of Portland, who recently purchased the William Lichte farm, at Woodburn. The other three girls were sisters.

The Pokorney family moved to Woodburn about three years ago, Mrs. Antonio Pokorney, Stella is survived by a father, four brothers in North Dakota, and two brothers in Oregon. Edith leaves her parents, three sisters and a brother.

The hair and scalp of the victims was badly burned, physicians declared. The hair was charred slightly. These are the first fatalities by lightning in this section of the country, according to older residents.

KELLOGG TELLS MEXICO TO CAPTURE SLAYERS

trap the outlaws failed. The tragedy occurred in a wild country less than 40 miles from Mexico City. The federal troops had traced down the bandit gang and killed two of them when the pursuit was halted by the recovery of Rosenthal's body. Later the pursuit was resumed.

Officials admitted in Mexico City, after news of the murder had reached here, that ransom had been demanded and that it was planned to trap the bandits by pretending to send the money. Soldiers were posted to capture the bandits when they appeared but the ruse failed.

Rosenthal's body bore many knife wounds. It was taken to Cuernavaca by his son-in-law, Joseph Ruff, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack J. Zakler. It will be brought back to Mexico City to await the arrival of his wife who now is on her way here from New York.

Dr. Hall will make his first public appearance Wednesday at the freshman assembly.

YAGUI'S DEFEAT TROOPS

INFANTRY IS AMBUSHED IN SMALL MEXICAN VALLEY

NOGALES, Ariz., Sept. 16.—(AP)—Dispatches to the Herald today from Guaymas Sonora, Mexico, confirm reports of Wednesday that a battalion of Mexican infantry had suffered a crushing defeat at the hands of Yaqui Indians south of Vicam.

The Yaquis, the dispatch said, ambushed the battalion and killing the larger part, put the remainder to flight. The country in which the fight occurred, a small closed-in valley carpeted with heavy underbrush, is an ideal setting for Yaqui warfare.

TRIAL MOVES TO CRISIS

MASS OF EVIDENCE GIVEN IN DAUGHERTY CASE

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—(AP)—The trial of Harry M. Daugherty and Thomas W. Miller moved toward a crisis today.

For seven days the government has fed into the record oral and documentary evidence admitted, admitted subject to connection today, the seventh day of the trial, additions were made to the mass of exhibitions that brought the total up to 90, with some of the exhibits containing hundreds of typewritten pages. Checks, railroad vouchers, hotel registers, letters and hotel register sheets are included in the exhibits.

Twenty witnesses, a number of them from distant cities, have testified. Aside from specific objections, the testimony of virtually all the witnesses has been admitted subject to proof of connection.

EAST MOSLEY, England

There is no need for anyone to don his best attire in order to worship in St. Paul's church here which overlooks the Hurst park race course and also the river Thames.

Writing in his parish magazine the vicar tells holiday makers not to worry about their dress.

"You can worship just as well in your flannels as in a morning dress or a lounge suit," he says.

The memories of Christy Mathewson and Eddie Plank, two of the greatest pitchers who ever stepped on a major league peak, both will be perpetuated in fitting fashion at their alma maters. Benefit affairs already have been held to aid the erection of the Mathewson Memorial at Bucknell College, while Eddie Plank Days have been arranged in many parks to raise funds for a gymnasium bearing the southpaw's name, now under lege.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

The masterful manner in which he handled his pitching staff is the outstanding feature of Rogers Hornsby's work in driving his St. Louis Cardinals toward their first pennant.

Those who have watched the dominating John McGraw and other crafty pilots of the game in action state frankly that the young Card pilot has equaled at least the adroit methods of these "old heads."

Hornsby's system is not a complicated one. He simply makes hay while the sun shines. When a pitcher is going good Rajah gives him every opportunity to work. The reasoning is simple. The hurler is in his stride. Lack of work will throw him off it as quickly as overwork. Hornsby lets nothing interfere then with the regular pitching of the man when he is going good.

Vic Keen, obtained from the Cubs, got under way early in the season. Hornsby put him on the regular staff and worked him in turn no matter what the situation with the rest of the mound staff was. When Keen finally fell off form he was relegated to the extra list. Reinhart, the youngster who has been going great guns of late, failed to find himself early in the season. Hornsby used him mainly in for-lorn hopes. Then, the minute Reinhart showed ability to win himself a few games Hornsby threw him in every four days.

Flint Rhem has been worked in his turn early in the season because he has pitched consistent ball. Hornsby, realizing, what an extra day's layoff might do, scheduled his pitchers to take care of Rhem.

Hinkey Haines and Bill Sherdel, both reliable war horses, have been worked as regularly as clock works.

Hornsby has shown also that a manager doesn't need five or six regulars fit at a time to win ball games. He has managed to rotate his staff so his main hopes worked every fourth day and has been content.

The five pitchers who have carried the New York Yankees thru the pitfalls of the season to date form an interesting group. Every one of them has been classed as "done," "in-and-outer," "undependable" and several other things of recent years. The staff, on paper, could not be figured with any degree of accuracy. And yet, thanks to the great offensive strength of the team and their own crafty hurling, they stand about ready to collect shares of the 1926 world's series melon.

Herb Pannock was called done three years ago. Last year he won 16 and lost 17. The year before he won 21 and lost but 9. This year he has given the team the southpawing that any team needs to win a pennant.

Bob Shawkey, called done time and again, was a dismal failure last year.

Waite Hoyt, a great pitcher at times but unable to "come out of it" for a couple of seasons, has hit the high road again.

Sad Sam Jones, who wanted to retire to his home in Woodstock, O., several years ago, swallowed his sadness early last spring and decided to win himself a few games.

And Urban Shocker, who gave every indication last season of being a total loss (with but 11 victories for the season), has been the Shocker of old who baffled the Yanks day by day.

Which all goes to show that the will to win, which Mr. Huggins demands, does have something to do with the case—even that of old decrepit pitchers.

POISON EVIDENCE FOUND

IMPORTANT TESTIMONY WILL FACE FARMER'S WIDOW

RUPERT, Idaho, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Vital organs, hair and tissue of Carl Crumroy, Minidoka county farmer, who died October 23 last, contained sufficient quantities of poison to have caused death. Dr. Herman Harms, Salt Lake City state chemist, told the jury trying Mary Crumroy, his widow, on a first degree murder charge today. Dr. Harms conducted an analysis of various samples of Crumroy's viscera.
