TUNNEY CONFIDENT OF TAKING TITLE

Royal Typewriter Company Purchases Broadcasting Rights of Match

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(AP.)—The Royal Typewriter company announced tonight it had purchased the broadcasting rights for the Dempsey-Tunney heavyweight championship bout at Philadelphia on Thursday night, with from 25 to 30 radio stations in the "hook-up." The purchase price was not given.

The WJZ network of stations of the Radio Corporation of America and the WEAF chain of at least 25 stations will take part in the broadcast, the announcement said, and in addition to these, the high powered stations of the General Electric company and the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing company probably will be included. The transmission is expected to cover two-thirds the area of the United States.

STROUDSBURG, Pa., Sept. 20.—(AP.)—"If I am defeated, it will be because Dempsey is the better man," declared Gene Tunney, challenger for the heavyweight crown, in a statement tonight.

With the big event only three days away, Tunney, in his declaration, said:

"In accordance with ancient pugilistic custom, I suppose I ought to make a formal statement on the eve of the contest with Jack Dempsey.

"There is little that I can say that I have not already said. I am in the finest condition of my entire ring career, and I am confident that this condition, my years of application to the study of boxing and the urge to win the heavyweight championship of the world will carry me to victory over Jack Dempsey Thursday evening.

"As I have said, I am thoroughly confident that victory will reward my efforts. However, I do not underestimate the prowess of the great world's champion whom I am called to face. I am not foolish enough to say that he has no chance to whip me. I merely state that I think that I am in good enough physical and mental condition to justify a prediction on my part that I will win. If I am defeated, it will be because Dempsey is the better man, and not because any misfortune, as staleness, or my failure to arrive at razor-edge or damaged hands or wavering morale has overtaken me."

Tunney today ended his vigorous training period for his championship bout, Tomorrow and Wednesday he will content himself with light work.

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 20.—(AP.)—Jack Dempsey crossed everybody today, including his sparring partners, by failing to show up at the "dog track" for his last public workout.

Instead, the world's heavyweight champion contented himself with a little light scuffling with the light punching bags. Even his sparring partners knew nothing of the switch in his plans and waited around the "dog track" until late this afternoon for the champion to appear.

Dempsey considers himself now ready for his test against Gene Tunney in Philadelphia next Thursday night and fears that any other work might be detrimental.

Whatever training Dempsey intends to do tomorrow will be in public and in the chancery court. Another battalion of process-servers slipped him a subpoena today to appear before Vice-Chancellor Ingersoll tomorrow and give testimony in a receivership filed by Jack Kearns, Dempsey's former manager. Kearns demands an accounting of all funds earned by Dempsey in the three years preceding last August 3.

RICKARD PROMOTES MANY TITLE BOUTS

Tex Regarded As Foremost Match Maker After 20 Years Experience

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 20. (AP)—The Dempsey-Tunney heavyweight championship battle in the great Sesqui-Centennial stadium here September 23 will be the seventh and probably the biggest title spectacle Tex Richard has staged.

The New York promoter reached the high mark for boxing when he staged the Dempsey-Carpentier "Battle of the Century" in the big wooden saucer at Boyle's Thirty Acres, Jersey City, five years ago. That spectacle drew a crowd of 90,000 that paid more than $1,600,000 to see the champion's four-round knockout of the colorful Frenchman but Richard expects the forthcoming struggle to eclipse these figures.

The promoter's expectations are that a crowd of more than 130,000 will part with approximately $2,000,000 for the evening's entertainment, which would lift the event to an unprecedented level for any sports event.

It has been also twenty years to the day that Richard made his first plunge in pugilistic promotion, his initial venture being the famous Gans-Nelson lightweight championship event at Goldfield, Nev., on September 3, 1906. Since that day Tex has mounted to a position as the foremost promoter of professional sports in the world, the head of a big corporation whose business in New York annually runs well into the millions.

Richard's first heavyweight fight was the Jeffries-Johnson bout in 1910 at Reno, where it was shifted after being barred from San Francisco. That fight drew a record "gate" at the time, $270,000, the top price being $50. The only fights for which tickets have been priced as high since then were the Dempsey-Willard and Dempsey-Carpentier bouts.

In six previous heavyweight title battles Richard has promoted the gate receipts have aggregated close to $4,000,000, of which $2,800,000 clicked through the turnstiles for the last two spectacles the promoter has staged.

The record receipts for these fights follows:

Johnson-Jeffries,	Reno, 1910	$ 270,000
Willard-Morab,	N. Y. 1916	151,000
Dempsey-Willard,	Toledo, 1919	452,000
Dempsey-Brennan,	N. Y. 1920	200,000
Dempsey-Carpentier,	JC 1921	1,626,000
Dempsey-Firpo,	N. Y. 1923	1,188,000
Total		$3,887,000
