fish Big Business. It had a strong denouement.

"Seven Howling Devils," a long short-story by Miss Ruth Lawrence, is staged over on Yaquina Bay. It is a vivid picture of a Russian exile transplanted to the Pacific northwest, with an unusual romance running through it all.

Mrs. Blanche Jones contributed a delightful, mystic verse, for which she asked the club to give a name. They didn't do it, other than that all agreed on the one word—"Charmings."

Mrs. Viola Price Franklin told very interestingly of the Franklin's recent trip abroad, especially of their pilgrimage to the graves of several famous writers. They carried Oregon grape wreaths to place on the graves of Keats and Shelley, in Rome, and of Robert Browning in Westminster Abbey. Browning is buried in the floor of the abbey, and the wreath was soon ground to powder by the feet of the heedless, hurrying multitude. The Franklins also visited the tomb of Wordsworth, and recognized in Dover cottage, the old Wordsworth home. Mrs. Franklin all but brought the real graves home with her, in her painstaking description of the last resting places of the ancient mighties.

Mrs. Franklin read a poem by Howard McKinley Corning of Portland, "Lines on Receiving a Sprig of Rosemary from the Grave of Keats," written in the true Keatsian beauty and imagery. Refreshments were served by the hostess. Those present were Mesdames Dr. Mary Rowland, Blanche Jones, Ruth Fargo, Ora McIntyre, Gertrude Robison Ross, the Misses Mary Gilbert, Ruth Lawrence; Prof. and Mrs. E. M. Peck, Prof. and Mrs. F. G. Franklin, Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Lisle, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Paulus, Mr. Otto Paulus and Perry Reigelman. On Oct. 19 the section will meet with Miss Mary Gilbert at 1190 Oak street. November 2 the meeting will be with Mrs. Ora McIntyre on Court street.

The melody is the tune. It's what you whistle. All other notes are accompaniment notes. They should be subdued—the melody only should stand out. The Gulbransen Registering Piano enables you easily to accent melody notes. Never mind why—just try it!

Also—Instruction Rolls and the Melody Indicator—exclusive with the Gulbransen—help you do it. Try them, too.

This is the week when everybody in town is testing the Gulbransen at our store. No obligation—just a genuine desire on our part to have the Gulbransen recognized as a true musical instrument—not just an ordinary player-piano.

So come—this week—"10-minute week."

—and the price! So low only because of tremendous output. More Gulbransens are sold than any other make. The cash price of each of the four models is branded in the back at the factory. Our convenient terms of payment make it easy for you to have a Gulbransen in your home now.
