

MAY BE BIG OUTLET FOR OUR PRUNE CROP

Prun-Port, a Delicious Drink, May Take Millions of Pounds a Year

Representatives of the Major Fruit Products company, manufacturers of Prun-Port, the new prune beverage, are in this city looking after the distribution of their beverage here. They declare that their business is growing rapidly and that they expect to be using from 25,000,000 to 40,000,000 pounds of prunes annually within three years in the manufacture of this healthful five cent beverage.

If Prun-Port attains a sale equal to only 10 per cent of Coca Cola, or one drink per day for each 150 persons, 10,000,000 pounds of prunes will be required annually. They state that Prun-Port has been on the market only seven months, and although operations have been confined within a radius of about 50 miles from Portland, they have already outgrown their present capacity and are now planning on increasing the output of prune syrup from which the Prun-Port is made. It is planned to distribute this syrup to bottling works on the Pacific coast, eventually reaching the bottlers throughout the country. This can be done very economically, as one gallon of the concentrated syrup will make 420 bottles of Prun-Port.

Inquiries are coming in from all parts of the country in regard to this beverage, and an indication of its instant popularity is reflected in the sale of 195 cases, or 2472 bottles in Salem on Thursday alone.

It appears that an immense new market has been found for prunes that will utilize the culls, splits and small prunes, as a result of four and one-half years of untiring effort on the part of R. L. Holsclaw, chemist and president of the company.

TIMBER SALE MADE ON REVESTED LAND

PORTLAND, Oct. 7.—(AP)—A lot of 12,445,600 board feet of timber to be cut from re-vested land in Clackamas county was sold at auction today by Walter Hoove Sr., registrar of the United States land office. The sale brought a total of $20,000.25.

Yellow fir and white pine sold at $2 a thousand feet, red cedar, $1 and $1.50, cedar poles, 75 cts., hemlock 50 and 75 cts., and white fir, 50 cents.

HYDRO-ELECTRIC BILL OPPOSED BY GOVERNOR

districts. I have been approached at different times with overtures from these bond holders. Months ago I was visited by a representative of the Fleischaker interests, largest holders of bonds in the bankrupt districts, with a comprehensive plan for the reorganization of the defunct projects contingent upon my agreeing to vote for an extension of the state's guarantee of the interest on those bonds for a period of five years, a project which would have cost the state somewhere around $8,000,000.

"My negative reply halted those negotiations before they had reached a stage where any reward for connivance in the scheme was mentioned.

"I am a firm believer in the principle of state ownership and operation of hydro-electric and water resources of the state for regulatory purposes," he said. "But I do not believe in stiffling private enterprise through legislation which would hold a confiscatory threat to the extent of rendering insecure their investments and make impracticable the proper extension of their service and facilities. The Housewives' hydro-electric measure does all that and more.

"It would legislate into office five commissioners named by the sponsors for the measure, place in their hands, without recourse even to the courts of the state and with responsibility to no one, the power to pledge the credit of the state to the extent of $50,000,000 or more, and leave them to disperse that money to whomsoever and for whatever purpose they saw fit. For at least four years that commission would be self-perpetuating in its personnel. The measure does not so much as provide for advertising the sale of bonds, or require that they be sold to the highest responsible bidder.

"I believe that all commissions should be appointed by the executive and be responsible to him and the public will.

"A proper hydro-electric act, definite in its purposes, specific in the authority it delegates, creating a proper responsibility, designed to conserve the state's resources, and providing for only such state participation in the development and distribution of power as is necessary for regulatory purposes is to be desired. But I cannot see wherein the housewives' amendment would achieve these ends."

RUM SMUGGLERS GUILTY MEN CHARGED WITH LANDING 340 CASES OF LIQUOR

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 7.—Paul Huble Payne and Tom Murphy, alleged by federal authorities to be two of the largest smugglers of liquor on the Pacific coast, were convicted of having conspired to violate the national prohibition law, in federal court here today.

It was charged by the government that they were involved in the landing of 340 cases of liquor from the rum runner Prince Albert on April 25, 1924. A third defendant, Percy Alexander, also was convicted, but the jury recommended leniency for him on the ground that he was only an employee.

ATTORNEY SUMS UP ACT OF DAUGHERTY

Records Destroyed During "Moment of Madness" Lawyer Declares

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—(AP)—It was "in a moment of madness" that Harry M. Daugherty burned bank records which the government believes would prove him a conspirator against the nation he served, his counsel told a jury in federal court today. Daugherty's purpose was to destroy records of the Harding campaign fund and not to wipe out any indication that he had been bribed in the American Metal case, his counsel added.

Daugherty, who was attorney general in the Harding cabinet, and Thomas W. Miller, alien property custodian at the same time, are on trial for conspiracy to defraud the government of their best services in permitting release through their offices of $7,000,000 impounded assets of the Metal company. William Rand, counsel for Miller, completed his summation this morning and Max

D. Steuer, Daugherty's counsel, then summed up for five hours and a half, court being kept in session until 6:30 in order to permit him to complete today.

Steuer reviewed testimony of Mat S. Daugherty, Harry's brother, that Harry had admitted burning ledger sheets recording bank accounts of the brothers and Jesse W. Smith, the former attorney general's political handman in Mal's banks.

"The burning of those records," Steuer told the jury, "was a foolish thing, an indescribably foolish thing. But consider the conditions under which it was done. Here was Harry Daugherty, who but yesterday had been sought after by the world. Today he was wounded and pursued. He was alone with those papers and he burned them in a moment of madness. You remember the quotation 'Whom the Gods would destroy they first make mad,' and Harry Daugherty was mad at that moment.

"You may ask what it was that drove him to this state of mind. This lonesome, broken old man was followed by barking dogs, the yelpers who wanted to peek at the records of the political fund he had raised and managed. He wanted to flout them, and with no thought in his mind of the American Metal case, he threw the papers in the fire."

EUROPEAN STRIFE TOLD BY REIMANN

Local Man Describes Conditions Seen on Recent Trip in Europe

"All the treaties in the world will not bring peace to Europe," Rich Reimann, Salem realtor who has just returned from a European tour, told members of the Marion-Polk County Realty association at their noon luncheon in the Marion hotel yesterday.

"The only way to do anything for these people is to put their governments on foundations of truth and justice. They are now founded on falsehood and injustice. They must learn to have equality for all, free religion, free public schools for rich and poor alike, and a different way of thinking."

The people of the different nations still hate and mistrust each other, he said, in spite of what Americans are led to believe. Their minds are full of warlike ideas, and every condition tends to perpetuate these ideas.

Mr. Reimann gave an example of the way the nations treat each other as evidenced in railway travel between Germany and East Prussia. The train goes through the "Polish Corridor," a strip of land completely separating East Prussia from the rest of Germany. A train is not allowed to stop, and the doors and windows cannot be opened, while passing through this district.

"I don't know why they do these things," he said. "European people have some funny ideas."

Switzerland is the best country in Europe, Mr. Reimann believes. It is the most prosperous and modern country in Europe, because the people had sense enough to stay out of the world war.
