Three Hundred Guests Formal Reception Friday at C. P. Bishop Home

The most festive home in Salem on Friday night, October 8, was the beautiful and dignified dwelling of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pleasant Bishop at 765 Court street when more than three hundred friends from all parts of the Willamette valley assembled on train and by motor to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Bishop on the attainment of their 50th wedding anniversary.

One of the most unexpected features, and one of particularly delightful, was the serenade by the Rotarians—of whose organization Mrs. Bishop is one of the most prominent members. "C. P. Bishop is better than he was 50 years ago" was one take-off.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Bishop belong to leading church, club, and social circles of Salem organizations which extend greetings on Friday night both by groups, and by individuals.

In appreciation of the active interest Mr. and Mrs. Bishop have taken in promoting the highest welfare of Willamette university, the Willamette university faculty presented a resolution of their gratitude and an expression of their appreciation on a parchment in a gold frame, dedicated to the honor guests.

The reception hall and living room of the Bishop home were banked with basket after basket of gorgeous poinsettias, chrysanthemums in pale gold, symbolic of the golden anniversary. Long low baskets filled with dozens of choice Ophelia rosebuds ornamented the tables in the living rooms, while blossoms in shades of rose introduced a new tone in the room. Many of the most beautiful flowers were received as gifts.

In the receiving line from 7 to 10 o'clock were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pleasant Bishop, the hosts, and guests of honor—Mr. and Mrs. Roy T. Bishop of Portland and their children, Elizabeth Jane, Thomas Burnester, and William Henry; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Bishop of Portland, and their son, Charles Morton, Jr., and Chauncey Bishop of Pendleton and his sons, Robert Chauncey and Charles Kay.

Miss Imogene Roberts of Hood River, Miss Elizabeth Ellen Bishop of Portland, and Miss Henrietta Bishop of Salem greeted the guests at the door.

Music was furnished during the evening by an instrumental trio composed of Miss Iva Claire Love, violinist, Miss Lucille Ross, pianist, and Professor A. L. Peck of Corvallis, cellist. The trio played many lovely old melodies including: "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," "When You and I Were Young, Maggie," "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms," and "Put on Your Old Gray Bonnet."

Assisting in the serving were Mrs. W. H. Burghardt, Jr., Mrs. Burns Gillette, Mrs. Knassie Pickens, Mrs. John H. Roberts, Mrs. Fred E. Bishop of Portland, Miss Elizabeth Jane Bishop of Portland and Mrs. Mason Bishop.

Among those who assisted about the rooms during the evening were Mrs. George H. Allen, Mrs. Ralph Cooley, Mrs. W. I. Staley, Mrs. W. Carlton Smith, Mrs. George M. Pearce and Mrs. Seymour Jones. Mrs. Bishop was very beautifully gowned in blue cut velvet, elaborated with gold beadwork and worn with an insert and collar of rare point lace. A corsage of golden roses, forget-me-nots, and gardenias completed the charming costume.

As a gift from their sons and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bishop received a magnificent oriental rug.

The dining room was decorated in blue and gold. A rare piece of oriental cut work, embroidered with blue dragons, and covered an undercloth of gold, was used on the table. Two beautifully iced wedding cakes, which the bride herself cut, were featured. Gold tapers in silver candelabra furnished a soft glowing light throughout the room.

Those cutting loaves and presiding at the urns during the evening were Mrs. C. T. Roberts of Hood River, Mrs. Clara Starr of Brownsville, Mrs. J. A. Bishop, Mrs. C. D. Gabrielson, Mrs. Thomas C. Taylor of Portland, Mrs. Douglas McDonald of Portland, Mrs. Thomas A. Livesley, Mrs. Henry B. Thielson and Mrs. Royal Grover of McMinnville.

Many prominent Oregonians were listed among the guests at the brilliant reception the occasion made possible. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Toney and Mrs. Toney's mother, Mrs. Virginia Grover. Of special interest is the fact that Mrs. Grover was a guest at the original wedding 50 years ago. A feature of the evening was Mrs. Grover's account of the pioneer life which she and the Bishops shared in common, and the decidedly interesting glimpses she gave therefrom.

Out of the three hundred callers the following are among those from out of town, having come from all different parts of Oregon to witness the anniversary celebration: Mrs. Roscoe Giltner, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Bishop and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Muir, Mrs. Mary Washburn, Mrs. Lape Cavanaugh, Mrs. E. R. Wiggins, Mr. and Mrs. David Stearns, Mr. and Mrs. William Starnard, all of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Carl T.
