Class in Child Psychology Organizing This Week

The class for the study of the preschool child, which the American Association of University Women will sponsor under the able direction of Mrs. C. A. Downs promises to be one of the most stimulating courses of its kind ever offered in Salem. The group, consisting of mothers, teachers, in fact, any woman interested in the psychology of the small child, will make a special study of the pamphlet, "How Children Build Habits." A study of the emotions, and of the influences of heredity and environment, will be especially considered in this course, which is equivalent to college post-graduate study. Collateral reading and the presentation of summaries by the group will be featured.

The class will meet twice each month, probably on Monday, and unless other arrangements are made, at the home of the leader, Mrs. C. A. Downs.

Those interested are asked to enroll some time this week by calling Mrs. C. A. Downs, telephone 1515. It is not necessary to belong to the organization of the University Women's club to derive the benefits of this course. To secure a copy of the study pamphlet is the one requisite. While the course deals with the emotional life of the pre-school child, mothers of older children cannot fail to benefit, since the earlier influences will prevail long after they have functioned.

The general utilities committee of the Salem Woman's club will meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Roy Burton to make, under the direction of the committee chairman, Mrs. C. E. On Thursday the same committee will meet again at the home of Mrs. S. M. Endicott.
