

FAMOUS GRID FILM PLAYS AT OREGON

Red Grange and George Wilson Meet in Action on Football Field

Starring the greatest football player of all times, "One Minute To Play," Greater F. B. O.'s production introducing Red Grange to the motion picture world, is now being shown at the Oregon theatre. The story revolves around a boy who goes to college with the purpose of making a football record both for himself and for his Alma Mater which to date has never won a game. This theme gives Grange a great opportunity to display his flashing speed and remarkable technique, and also offers the entire country a chance to see the "Gridiron Ghost" in perfect form. Aside from the thrilling football sequences, the picture is replete with side-splitting humor and has a beautiful romance of youthful love. The story is an original by Byron Morgan and was made under the direction of Sam Wood. The cast includes Mary McAllister, Ben Hendricks, Jr., Lincoln Steadman, Lee Shumway, Charles Ogle, Jay Hunt, Edythe Chapman and George Wilson, famous All-American halfback.

MANY VISITORS HONOR UNIVERSITY

College Representatives From Every Section of Country Attend

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Ore., Oct. 21.—(Special).—Guests who honored the University of Oregon at its semi-centennial celebration this week represented not only schools in the west but those at a great distance. President W. W. Campbell represented the University of California.

Dr. Campbell is an astronomer and was in charge of the Lick observatory on Mt. Hamilton when he was called to the presidency, accepting that office on condition that he could return to the observatory. He also represented the National Research Council.

Norman F. Coleman, president of Reed College, represented a distant school, the University of Toronto, from which he was graduated. Dr. Frank L. McVey, president of the University of Kentucky, was formerly a member of the faculty of the University of Minnesota, and then president of the University of North Dakota.

President Clarence Cook Little of the University of Michigan who is 38 years old, is the youngest college president in the United States. He is an eminent scientist and gave an address on the cancer problem during the series of symposia. He was installation officer at the inauguration of President Arnold Bennett Hall Monday.

Princeton University was represented by Dr. J. Duncan Spaeth, professor of English at Princeton, who is teaching this year, his sabbatical year, at Reed College. Dr. Spaeth taught here during summer school.

Dr. Robert G. Hall of Portland was the appointed delegate of Clark university. He is the son of the late G. Stanley Hall one of the most famous psychologists and college heads in the history of the United States. As representative of Baker university, Charles A. Howard, who received his master degree of arts at Oregon came from Marshfield, where he is city superintendent of schools.

President J. S. Landers was here from the Oregon Normal school at Monmouth and Dr. W. J. Kerr, president of the Oregon Agricultural college, from Corvallis.

Reverend Alvin Heibel, O. S. B., attended from Mt. Angel Academy. Reverend Father Heibel is among those who are actively engaged in a campaign for the rebuilding of the academy, which was recently destroyed by fire.

Dr. Rufus B. von Klein Smid, brother-in-law of Fletcher Linn, who was graduated from Oregon in 1890, came from the University of Southern California of which he is president.

Among those coming from the east were Dr. Richard T. Ely, noted economist and formerly a member of the faculty of the University of Wisconsin, now head of the National Institute of Land Economics and Public Utilities at Northwestern University; Alfred A. Cleveland, graduate of Oregon in 1898, who took his doctor's degree from Clark university, attended from Washington State college, where he is dean of the school of education; A. S. Loochner, professor of astronomy at the University of California, represented the National Academy of Sciences.

Dr. Henry Suzzallo, ex-president of the University of Washington; Dr. Clairborne M. Hill, Oregon, 1881, president of the Berkeley Baptist Divinity school; and President A. H. Upham, of the University of Idaho, were guests.

FOUR FUR ROBBERS HELD IN MISSOURI

Seattle Detectives Hope to Find Stolen Garments in Two Trunks

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 21.—(AP)—Arrest of three women and a man on a trans-continental train at Kansas City yesterday breaks up a gang of thieves that stole almost $35,000 in furs from stores in San Francisco, Portland and Seattle, police here declared today.

Seattle detectives said they hoped to find the furs in two trunks which the group shipped east from Los Angeles and Seattle. The four under arrest are Ida Condon, 34; Gussie Greenbaum, 24; Annie Stine, 35, and S. Smith, 40. Seattle saleswomen identified them by photographs as those who robbed them.

Police explained that a man would enter a store, remark on low prices of furs, say he was a tourist, and select one for his wife to inspect. Later three women would come to the store. While one of them tried on the jacket, the other two would slip furs under their coats. The supposed purchaser would have the garment laid aside, saying that her husband would pay for it the next day.

CROWD ATTENDS COURT DEFENSE OFFERS DENIAL TO CHARGE OF STATE

Plenty of crowd was in evidence at the court room the last two days to hear the circuit court try the case of the state vs. Edward Hoslbacher, charged by Frances Burghart, 29, with being the father of her child.

Several letters written by Hoslbacher to Miss Burghart were introduced as evidence. The defense attempted to brand Miss Burghart's story of relations between her and Burghart to be false.

SECTIONS NOT SO "SICK" REALTY BOARD HEARS ADDRESS BY ENGINEER

There are none of the so-called "Sick" irrigation districts in Oregon that cannot be made successful if proper measures are taken for their "cure," according to Percy A. Cupper, consulting engineer, in a talk before the Marion-Polk county realty board yesterday.

The people never hear much about the many successful irrigation districts in the state, such as those in The Rogue River, Hood River, and Klamath regions, but there is much talk about having the state take over the bonds issued by the "sick districts."

The state has no obligation, either moral or legal, to do this, Mr. Cupper, stated, and should not do it. As long as there is any apparent likelihood of the state taking the bonds, the bondholders will delay action of their own, so the state should put its foot down, definitely as soon as possible, if it believes.

VAUDEVILLE BILL NOW AT ELSINORE

'The Sporting Lover' is Feature Film in Conjunction With Acts

"The Sporting Lover" will be the feature film at the Elsinore theater in conjunction with five acts of vaudeville this afternoon and evening. Conway Tearle and Barbara Bedford have the leading roles in the film.

Rhythms of Danceland with Blanche and Elliott and their collegiate steppers offer a most original and varied dancing act. The finish of the act is a masterpiece of whirlwind dancing.

George B. Alexander and company present a little skit lively with repartee and full of quips in the second act of the vaudeville program.

Bob Stone and Lew Leever will put on an act built for laughing purposes only. This is Stone and Leever's first visit to this part of the country.

Harry Fiddler, character comedian, presents something entirely new in the way of impersonations. He interprets a chinese character through song and monologue and proves a versatile entertainer.

Frank and Mae Stanley present a clever skit of the wide plains and cactus patches. Mr. Stanley manipulates a lariat in a way that is sure to even surprise a native of the open spaces.

A little boy had been carefully coached by his parents to give up his seat in a car to a woman. He was on a trolley car with his father the other day when a woman got in, and he promptly offered his seat. His father took him up on his knee.

The train stopped again and another pretty woman entered. Again the boy rose to his feet, and with a polite bow motioned her to the vacant knee.
