Capitol Theater Has Humorous Program This Afternoon and Evening

Ossie and Linko in one of the funniest programs of the year is the offering of vaudeville's most versatile comedians in their brand new skit "In Spring Training With Baseball" as the subject of their laugh producing chatter at the Capitol theater this afternoon and evening.

Roscoe Ails with Katie Pullman in their newest laughing hit are assisted by Syncopation's Favorite band. On dancing sensations of 1925, Dorothy Ellsworth and Cecil Graham, songs, dances, comedy and instrumental numbers by the orchestra are combined in a perfect medley.

Valentine Vox and Emily Walters, the master and mistress of voice deception will present a humorous demonstration including Mr. Vox's famous double voice singing and Miss Walters' masterpiece "The Baby Cry."

Tom Kelly, Mrs. Kelly's boy, the famous Irish comedian will be in a repertoire of familiar melody songs and typical Irish stories told in humorous style. A playlet embodying songs, dances, whistling and banjo selections in a skit written by Edith Wilman are perfectly presented by the vaudeville favorites Wingfield and Jean.

"A Hodge Podge" is the closing act introducing the latest New York craze "The Black Bottom." Viola Yercher Holman and her Capitol orchestra will furnish a little musical novelty.

Great Revival Campaign at First Christian Church

Yesterday marked the beginning of a great revival campaign at the First Christian church. Large crowds attended all services of the day and much enthusiasm was in evidence. The pastor, evangelist, E. C. Whitaker, delivered a powerful message at both services. Lester Farnum of the Eugene Bible university has charge of the music. He conducts a rousing song service and presents a real message in song through his solo work. Our goal for Bible school attendance of 555 was reached in a fine way. The actual count of the classes was 515 and many coming in late brought the attendance up to about 600. Services will be held each night beginning at 7:30. The subject of the sermon tonight will be "Heaven's Advertisement for a Man." There will be a duet sung by Vivian Whisler and Lester Farnum.

HOOT, MON!

GLASGOW.—The Scotchman is beginning to fear the Irish will crowd him out of his own country. It is understood the British Parliament will be asked at its next session to pass regulations limiting the number of Irish immigrants who can come into Scotland. A total of 9000 Irish persons came to Scotland in 1924, and in five years there have been 45,000 immigrants from the Free State, statistics show.

One car which ventured over the spot last night became hopelessly mired. According to residents of the neighborhood, the spring becomes active at about this same time every year. Plans are being made by the city to divert the flow by means of piping.
