

RED CROSS DRIVE WILL START SOON

More Members Expected This Year Owing to Increased Activities

The annual Red Cross "roll call" or membership campaign will begin in Salem November 11, according to Miss Aleta Brownlee, field representative of the organization for Oregon, who was in Salem yesterday. A meeting of the local committee will be held soon to arrange plans for the drive.

Last year 2088 members were obtained in Salem, but the Red Cross expects to have more this year, owing to increased activities of the organization.

The local chapter is caring for claims of about 50 or 75 ex-service men each month. These claims represent many thousands of dollars of insurance, adjusted compensation, and the like, which otherwise might not be obtained.

The national headquarters maintains veterans' bureau hospital workers who look after these claims, and see that the ex-soldiers get their deserts from the federal government.

The local Red Cross committee consists of C. E. Albin, T. M. Hicks, Frank Neer, Dr. Henry Morris, Mrs. J. J. Rottle and E. T. Barnes.

CANNERIES PLAN FOR EXPANSION IN 1927

Five and a half million pounds of dried prunes in the past six weeks, with about a million and a half pounds yet to go, all but about two cars of which are already sold for delivery in November, December, January and February.

Just now they are packing fancy prunes in five and 10 pound boxes, all dotted up with appropriate labels for the holiday trade, with holly designs and the like. There will be 8,000 to 10,000 of these boxes, and they go mostly to Portland, to be ready for the holiday trade.

Prune Market Quiet

Mr. Paulus reports that the prune market is quiet now; with offers below what he thinks the prunes are worth, and offers for the prunes of his clients are being passed up, generally. He says only five to eight million pounds of Oregon dried prunes now remain in the hands of the growers. He believes the outlook for the sale of an average sized crop of 1927 Oregon prunes, of the larger sizes, looks promising now, on account of the wide distribution of the 1926 crop, which has literally gone to the four winds; and has spread out thin over many countries. He believes this ought to bring many repeat orders for next year.

The California crop of small prunes is going up to the opening prices there, but the demand for the larger sizes from that state is not so brisk.

STATE SUNDAY SCHOOL MEET CLOSBS TODAY

A. F. Bittner, president of the Oregon Council of Religious Education presided at the evening meeting and gave a report on the council's work during the past year. Dr. Davids spoke at the same session on "Building a Better Civilization."

Other prominent speakers on the first day's program included Dr. J. D. McCormick of the Kimball School of Theology, replacing Dr. A. B. McLeod of Corvallis who could not come because of illness. Mrs. Jean M. Johnson, state secretary, Dr. W. L. Van Nuys, and Rev. E. C. Farnum.

Special credit for the success of the congress should be given to Mrs. Johnson, secretary, according to delegates, who did much of the work of organization in spite of the fact that she had barely recovered from a recent illness.

NEW CONGRESS SHOWS THREAT OF DEMOCRATS

early tonight, with the republican candidates having the edge in the senate fights in Indiana and California and the democrats far ahead in Kentucky.

Some close contests also were being furnished in the fewer than two dozen house races which still were to be decided, while democratic governors in two states—Mrs. Nellie Ross in Wyoming and Governor Hunt in Arizona—were being hard pressed.

Republican insurgents in congress not only held their own, but they added two new members in the senate in Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa, and John J. Blaine, of Wisconsin. With the republican majority whittled to a bare two or three this group will hold a strategic position in the seventieth congress.

Returns rolling in bowled over four other republican stalwarts in the senate besides Butler of Massachusetts, Wadsworth of New York, and Harrell of Oklahoma. Richard P. Ernst lost to Alben W. Barkley, in Kentucky; George H. Williams was defeated by Harry B. Hawes in Missouri; C. E. Welby went down before Millard E. Tydings in Maryland where Governor Ritchie, democrat, was re-elected for a third term, and Ralph E. Cameron fell before Carl Hayden.

Senators "Jim" Watson and Arthur R. Robinson were gradually increasing their leads in Indiana while Frederick Steiwer, republican, had a comfortable lead over Bert E. Haney, democrat, and Senator Robert N. Stanfield, independent republican, in Oregon.

Returns drifting in gave Senator Tasker L. Oddie a victory over Raymond T. Baker in Nevada, but the contest in California between Senator Samuel M. Shortridge and John B. Elliott, democrat, still was left in the undecided class, although Shortridge had what appeared to be a commanding lead.

Leaving aside the four contests on which decisive returns are yet to be received, the democrats have elected 14 senators and the republicans a like number. This gives the democrats a total of 47 in the new senate, or two less than a majority, while the republicans have 43 and are certain to elect a senator from Maine on November 29.

Should all four of the seats in dispute go to the major party it still would fall one shy of a bare majority in the new senate, and so Senator Shipstead, farmer-labor, Minnesota, would be placed in the position—theoretically at least—of controlling the deciding vote on senate organization and other questions.

With 14 districts still to be heard from early tonight, the democrats had succeeded in electing 191 members of the house; the republicans 228 members; the farmer-labor one and the socialists one.

OLD RUSSIAN PLAY ON ELSINORE BILL

Drama of Sinners in Sables Playing Last Times at Theater, Today

"My Official Wife," the Warner film showing last times today at The Elsinore theater, is a startlingly vivid picture of old Russia. The glittering ladies, the gold-laced domineering officials; clattering Cossacks, plotting nihilists; the wan and ragged hosts of the peasantry all pass before us in stirring panorama.

Through ominous days, we are brought into the mad fury of revolution. There is the story too of Helene a beautiful Russian Countess and of the reckless young noble Sascha, who wrongs her, and for whom she harbors hatred which will be satisfied only with his death.

How the two with the rest of the mighty, are brought low, and love, without knowing each others identity—how the bitter waters are turned into sweet—is told superbly and with the sort of direction which only one who has known the old Russia and the new, and Vienna, city of mirth and melancholy, can command.

Paul Stein directed the film which is an adaptation by Graham Baker of Charles Blancy's play, which in turn was taken from Archibald Clavering Gunter's tremendous story of the same name.

Irene Rich and Conway Tearle are featured, and the supporting cast includes many notable names. The photoplay is real and thrilling melodrama in a setting of romantic terror and beauty. You should not fail to see "My Official Wife."

Sour Stomach

"Phillips Milk of Magnesia" Better than Soda

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly. For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges the souring matter from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda. Insist on "Phillips." Twenty-five cent and fifty cent bottles, any drug store. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of the Charles H. Phillips Chemical Co. and its predecessor Charles Phillips since 1875.—Adv.

Now we are never without Syrup Pepsin in the house." (Name and address furnished upon request.)
