

HANDS OFF BARRE THIS AFTERNOON

Salem High School Team Expected to Have Trouble With Hillsboro

Today's football game on Sweetland field between Salem high school and Hillsboro high school will be no easy victory for Salem, but will be a close, hard battle, is the prediction of Hollis Huntington, Hillsboro coach. The game will start at 2 o'clock.

The Hillsboro team has won games this season from such powerful teams as Jefferson high school of Portland, Newberg, and McMinnville. Jefferson high school lost to Grant high school of Portland by about the same margin as Grant beat the local men early in the season, so the comparative scores indicate a Hillsboro victory.

Comparative scores don't count for much in this battle, as Huntington's men have improved greatly since the start of the season, but they do indicate that Hillsboro will be a little tougher antagonist than was anticipated.

Salem will start the game minus three regular players, Olinger, Temple and East. Olinger is still out with the same injury that kept him on the bench last week against Corvallis, while Temple and East are both suffering from sprained ankles.

Hubert Ashby, quarterback, will do the punting for the local men in the absence of Temple. He has been doing well in practice and has been getting his punts off for as good distances as Temple did.

Kelly will do all the field goal kicking that may be needed. He has been getting off some long and true place kicks in practice, and is expected to place kick as well in a game as Temple could drop kick.

All the Salem cripples are expected to be back in the lineup in time for the game against Eugene on Armistice Day.

OAG FOOTBALL MEN FORGET DREAMING

Team Realizes It Must Drill Earnestly to Win USC Football Game

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Ore., Nov. 4.—The football exchange closed last week with O. A. C. stock off several points. The Idaho raid which the Aggies staved off by a bare 3 to 0 score was largely the cause. The Aggies are still on top of the conference news but will have to halt the Southern California thundering herd and the University of Oregon squad to maintain its lead.

The Oregon Aggies clash with Southern California in Portland Armistice day. In comparative scoring this year the Southern California Trojans have run up 199 points to 26 for opponents in six games. O. A. C. has scored 149 to 13 points for opponents in five games. Both teams have met the University of California, U. S. C. winning 27 to 0 and O. A. C. winning 27 to 7.

If O. A. C. beats Southern California the University of Oregon eleven will be the only barrier between the Aggies and the coast pennant. Oregon has been showing increasing strength as the season progresses and by November 20 when she meets the Aggies will be a difficult team to beat. If the Oregon Aggies win all their remaining games and Stanford university, the conqueror of the thundering herd wins all its games, the O. A. C. team will still lead in the conference as the Aggies play five conference games to four for Stanford.

No serious injuries were sustained by the Oregon Aggies in the Idaho game. Coach Paul J. Schissler is entering the squad on an intensive training in preparation for the Southern California contest. The men show more zip in the practices than they did before the Idaho contest. The room team will form opposition for the varsity, using Southern California plays in scrimmage.

BEARCATS AWAIT CPS GRID BATTLE

Squad Hit by Injuries on Eve of Championship Game With Northerners

Willamette university Bearcats will go through their final preparation tonight for the football game with the College of Puget Sound Saturday afternoon on Sweetland field. Many preparations are being made for the game by students and faculty, as this will be the annual homecoming celebration at the college.

The squad has been hit hard by injuries on the eve of battle, and the backfield has been shot to pieces. McMullen and Long, fullbacks, are both on the injured list, although there is a possibility that one of them may be able to start the game.

Cloinger, halfback, and one of the star ground gainers of the team, is also laid up by an injury, and his doctor has advised against permitting him to play Saturday.

In case McMullen or Long will be unable to start, McKenzie will back up the line on the defensive, and Zeller may be used as offensive fullback.

The rest of the team is in fair condition and are prepared for a tough battle.

Coach Spec Keene realizes the coming battle will be a hard one, as he considers the CPS Loggers a better team than Pacific, which the Bearcats beat last week. The team was brought to a fighting peak for the Pacific game, and Keene is anxious that they do not go into such a slump as almost proved disastrous for OAC against Idaho last week.

A large program of events commencing Friday night has been planned by the students in connection with the homecoming celebration. The "W" club will hold a banquet Friday night at the Gray Belle, at which Brazier C. Small, justice of the peace, will preside.

Following this there will be a pep rally at the chapel and a fireworks display by the freshman class.

Saturday the chapel session at 11 o'clock in the morning will be given over to the alumni. A student play will be given Saturday at the Heilig theater, besides an alumni "get-together."

As the game Saturday will be the only big college game in the state on that day, a large crowd is expected to attend.
