SLANDER SUIT FILED AGAINST TEMPLE HEAD

Twin Sister of State's Witness Bases Action on "Miss X" Statement

EVANGEL'S RADIO HIT

Complaint Closes With Direct Charge That "Aimee Semple McPherson Occupied Carmel Cottage"

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 6.—(AP)—The Examiner says Aimee Semple McPherson and her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, were made defendants in a $1,000,000 suit charging slander filed here today by Mrs. Virla Kimball of Oakland, twin sister of Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman-Selaff, co-defendant with the Angelus Temple leaders to criminal conspiracy charges.

The suit is based on statements said to have been made by the evangelist and her mother during and prior to the preliminary hearing of the criminal conspiracy case of the two church leaders and Mrs. Wiseman and in which Mrs. Kimball is alleged to have been named by them as the "Miss X" who occupied a cottage at Carmel and Kenneth G. Ormiston, fugitive radio man.

When Mrs. Wiseman first appeared and made statements that it was her sister who was at Carmel with Ormiston, the suit alleges she was hired and coached to do so by the evangelist and her mother. Mrs. Kimball's action sets forth that she is the only sister of Mrs. Wiseman.

On numerous occasions, the complaint in the suit continues, Mrs. McPherson and her mother have stated to several persons and have broadcast over the radio that Mrs. Kimball was the woman who was with Ormiston in Carmel from May 19 to 23. The two have charged that Mrs. Kimball posed with Ormiston as "Mr. and Mrs. George McIntyre," the suit declares, and various witnesses were introduced at the preliminary hearing to testify that she was "Miss X."

The prosecution at the hearing, which resulted in the three defendants being held for trial on the conspiracy charges, contended that Mrs. McPherson, herself, was the woman of the Carmel cottage episode.

All of the charges connecting her with the Carmel affair are untrue, Mrs. Kimball declares in her suit, stating that at the time the "certain Miss X" affidavit was signed in Salinas and of which she was identified by the evangelist's witnesses as the signer, she was at her home in Oakland with her five children.

Of the $1,000,000 damages asked in the suit, $500,000 are listed as injury to the plaintiff through the world-wide publicity by news.

BRUSSELS PLANS ROYAL WELCOME

CATHOLIC RELIGIOUS CEREMONY WILL BE BRIEF

Wireless Messages Indicate Belgian Party Enjoying Homeward Voyage

BRUSSELS, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Belgium's capital today was putting the finishing touches on its preparations to give a truly royal welcome to its newly-wed Crown Prince Leopold and his bride, Princess Astrid of Sweden, who are enroute here from Stockholm for Wednesday's religious ceremony.

A wireless message was received this afternoon from the steamship Marie Jose and reported that the Belgian royal family including Prince Leopold, was enjoying the voyage homeward.

Wednesday's religious marriage ceremony, which follows upon the civil ceremony performed in Stockholm on Thursday, will be brief. According to LeSoir, this is due to the fact that it will be a mixed marriage, Leopold being a Roman Catholic and Princess Astrid a Protestant. There will be no celebration of mass with a formal benediction afterward.

Instead, the couple will merely exchange the usual marriage vows after which there will be a brief benediction.

HORSE, ELECTRIC, AUTO

What New Method of Transportation Next

Time witnesses many changes. Methods of transportation have undergone a period of transition. A few years ago the horse drawn car was a common sight and a great convenience. In a short time the horse was relegated to other duties and the red electric street cars changed their way noisily along the city's thoroughfares.

A few years and the doom of the street cars came. Only a few remain and they too will soon be discarded, making room for more up-to-date methods. The tracks, land marks of Salem, are being removed. Old timers miss them. Large gray busses glide quietly along the streets. These modernized means of transportation occupy the stage today. What next? Changes in the past lead one to believe that they may give way before long to more convenient and efficient methods.

Time witnesses many changes.

TAX CUT CAUSES OFFICIAL FLURRY

DEMOCRATS CLAIM MOVE HAS POLITICAL PHASE

Treasury Department Surprised by Statement Issued From White House

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The sudden declaration of President Coolidge for a refund of ten or twelve per cent of this year's income taxes caused a scratching of heads today both at the treasury and at the capitol.

Surprised treasury officials discreetly suggested that the president's proposal be accomplished through a credit on income taxes to be paid next year, rather than through a straight-out refund at this time.

Equally surprised democrats, suspecting that Mr. Coolidge was trying to take the political play away from them, called the president's action a subterfuge to avoid a general tax reduction until 1928, and give the republican party an issue.

Surprised also, but cautious in his utterances, Senator Reed Smoot of Utah, chairman of the finance committee, whose ears pick up the slightest mention of taxation or tariff, said he thought

Clerk Fired on October 15 Remains Working at Desk in Cook County Dispensing Bottled Goods

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Three hundred employees of Cook county, waiting for the clock in the tax extension offices of the county clerk to mark high noon and the end of their week, jumped from their desks ten minutes ahead of time today when a dozen prohibition agents raided the room and extracted from three lockers which line the walls nine pints of brandy and bourbon whiskey.

The agents invaded the city and county building, which houses the mayor's office, a dozen courts and scores of municipal and county departments, and posted guards at every exit from the long room occupied by the tax extension department.

Then after ransacking every locker and finding the liquor caches, they arrested Arthur McVeedy, for 16 years a clerk in the office, William Dessow, a special assessment clerk, board of local improvements and Fred Haverkamp, a former clerk who had been discharged three weeks ago. Agents said they had purchased liquor from all three and charged that their lockers had served as a source of supply for the thirsty all over the block square building.

In the midst of the raid, with the corridors outside jammed by city hall employees who had heard the news and girl clerks in the tax office climbing on lockers to watch the procedure, County Clerk Robert M. Switzer appeared in the room, discovered what was responsible for the turmoil and expressed great surprise. Then he ordered the clerks to lend cooperation to the raiders and began an inquiry of his own to find out why Haverkamp was still at the desk from which he was dismissed October 15.

When the raid was finished, the agents wandered casually through other offices, but made no arrests. They said they found in some offices, however, broken bottles, indicating that news of

The Marion and Polk county beekeepers have again demonstrated the superiority of the honey made in this region by taking four first prizes out of nine against a field of exhibitors from Colorado, Washington, and other parts of Oregon at the Pacific International Livestock exposition at Portland.

Hans Rehb won the first prize for vetch extracted honey; B. I. Ferguson took first honors with fire weed comb honey; Mrs. M. R. Black won the blue ribbon for clover comb honey, and H. M. Mead took first prize on extracted clover honey.

Mr. York, editor of Bees and Honey, judged the entries. Plans are rapidly nearing completion for the program of the Oregon State Beekeepers association whose annual convention will be held at Dallas on December 2, 3 and 4.

Enforcement Officers "Must Not Stop Automobiles Without Reason"

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—(AP)—An object lesson in lawful law enforcement was set before the eyes of the prohibition army today by its commander in chief, Major General Andrews.

Explaining why the names of four of his officers will appear no longer on the rolls, he listed "Frankness," and "Straight Forwardness," as qualities to be cultivated by prohibition agents, and described "threatening and insulting methods" as something that will not be tolerated.

The manifesto was phrased in terms direct enough to be reminiscent of the general's army days in France. It was addressed to the field forces of prohibition the country over, and it contained a definite order that agents "must not stop automobiles except for unquestionable reasons indicating that the car is engaged in illicit

Princess Heana and Prince Nicholas Race in Cars to Attend Washington-California Grid Game

SEATTLE, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The storm cloud that has hovered over Queen Marie for several days passed away tonight with the departure of Samuel Hill, eccentric millionaire who has been Marie's host on the western part of her trip, and the expulsion from the train of a reported representative of the Henry Ford Motor company.

At the same time it was officially denied that Queen Marie was confined to her bed by illness and that plans for the remainder of her tour had been changed. The queen spent a tiring day late this afternoon retired to her private car to rest for a few hours before attending a dinner guest of Mr. Hill.

A call upon the queen by William D. Kirkpatrick was the queen while he was a Red Cross worker, led to that she was under a physician's care.

INFORMATION PLEASE

"Turn Backward, Oh Time." Until We Know of 1853

Some queer questions are sometimes put to City Recorder Mark Poulsen, but he received a request for information yesterday that he says stamps him. He would have to be a historian or an encyclopedia to answer it, he says.

A man named Dr. William Atwood in Walla Walla, Wash. sent the letter containing the question. What he wanted to know was whether a man named Purvine Atwood lived or owned real estate on what is now the city of Portland between the years 1849 and 1853.

Judge Poulsen says he may be an old timer, but 1853 is a little too far back for him. Come on, pioneers, and let's see who can answer the question.
