

BUILD 3338 MILES OF FEDERAL ROADS

Plan Is to Improve Total Mileage Federal Aid Highways in 2 Years

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—An addition of 3,338 miles has been made to the Federal Aid Highway system during the year ending Sept. 23, according to the American Road Builders Association. The total mileage under the system approved by the United States Bureau of Public Roads now totals 182,135 miles.

Of the total 182,135 miles, approximately 140,000 miles have already been improved to some degree, with appropriations totalling $150,000,000 available for 1928 and 29 construction the Association said. To secure full benefit of the 150,000,000 appropriation the states must make an additional investment in their Federal Aid roads of approximately $190,909,000.

Charles M. Upham, Managing Director of the American Road Builders' Association, considered an authority on national highway problems, predicted the completion of the present Federal Aid mileage within the next two years. He said, however, that a large portion of the roads already completed will have been outgrown by traffic and need further improvement by that time.

Plans to carry out the construction of the remaining 42,135 miles included in the Federal Aid System as urged by the Bureau of Public Roads will be discussed at the annual meeting of the American Road Builders' Association at Chicago during the Congress Week, January 12-14, 1928.

Escape Injury as Plane Dives 500 Feet Into River

Sergt. Richard Cobb and his passenger, Priv. William Ritterson, encountered a thrill while flying over Boston that they won't forget in a hurry. When the motor of their plane went dead Sergt. Cobb successfully guided his plane into the Charles river, just missing the Massachusetts general hospital as he did so. The plane landed almost perpendicularly in the river and both Sergt. Cobb and Priv. Ritterson crawled out of the cockpit and perched on a wing until rescued. The plane is shown resting in the Charles river after its drop.

PRAYER TIES CONTEST YOUTH BOWS HEAD AND DROPS TO KNEES ON FIELD

DULUTH, Minn., Nov. 6.—(AP)—With his team lagging behind by one point in a game with Central High at Duluth today, Joseph L. Gaski, of the Central High School, of Superior, Wis., pounced down on the wrong automobile. Some months ago an agent was dismissed in New Orleans because he arrested a man and woman for having a pint flask of liquor in their car and then compelled them to drive to a court more than 150 miles away for hearing. One of the much repeated stories among government officials here in the capital tells how a very high judicial officer, driving back into Washington after a fishing trip, was stopped by prohibition agents who searched his car despite his protests, and found nothing.

General Andrews said today his case in the latest strong-arm case was calculated to set an example that would protect from treatment the humblest citizen with the most powerful influence of the government.

The whole incident, in all its details, shows a serious lack of conformity with our instructions and general policy for the enforcement of law enforcement," said the order to his field office.

The deputy administrator deplorable lack of leadership and sense of responsibility, more, during the incident, was far from exhibiting qualities of frankness and candor which should be expected of an officer in our service.
