

HALL LOVE NOTES READ TO JURY IN COURTROOM

Mrs. Hall's wondering "Why I am taking only three Sundays off." The other said: "I can't talk to you any more in the presence of Mrs. Hall or Jim."

Letters were introduced by the prosecution following a diary said to have been that of Mr. Hall, found in Mrs. Mills' home after her death.

They were printed in part in 1922, James Mills, the husband of the slain woman and the "Jim" of the letter, having testified that he was paid $500 by a New York newspaper for the publication rights.

The letters were signed for the most part "D. L. T." but some were read as bearing the name of the minister. The use of the initials was not explained.

"Queen" was often used, "Gypsy Queen," being a favorite expression and once "Royal Queen." "Dear, dear Angel Sweetheart," was a salutation as were "My Own Dear Wonder Heart," and "Dear Dear Heart of Mine."

The impatience of the lover was reflected in an expression, "Darling, only seven more days," referring to a separation, and a suggestion for a meeting was alluded to as "seeing you on our road."

One letter spoke of "Burning kisses," and another of "holding you for the peace that nothing else brings." "I am not wild nor fierce," said the writer in another letter, "but peaceful and exalted." "I want to feel the wonder of the universe with you—hold you close with my left hand and stroke your dear face with my right," was one sentence read to the jury. "I am storing up health and strength to be your gypsy King," was a declaration and later, "Oh, how I did want to get away with you to dreamland, heavenland. We can have next Friday afternoon together." Once the writer said: "Your letters are a blessing to me," and "I am a lonely boy tonight but I know there are letters waiting for me."

The day closed with the most heated verbal exchange of a turbulent trial for counsel. During the testimony of Bogart T. Conklin, former sheriff of Somerset county who told of the position in which the bodies of the slain couple were found, Alexander Simpson, special prosecutor, pleaded of "surprise" at the testimony of the witness, declaring it was not exactly in accordance with testimony of the same witness at a grand jury investigation in 1922.

ating season, it is said. Investigation by the sugar company officials of the region west of the Cascades was said to have been occasioned by the continually increasing difficulty of controlling insect pests that seem to be particularly adapted to the arid sections.

Climate Seems Favorable
Climatic conditions in the Willamette valley are said to be favorable. Irrigation may have to be arranged on some lands during the months of July and August.

Negotiations with the Utah-Idaho company have been carried on by the Salem chamber of commerce for several years through C. E. Wilson, secretary.

To Consider Plans
The meeting mentioned in the above news from the Oregonian, to be held at the Salem Chamber of Commerce rooms tomorrow evening, is to be attended by a board of directors of the chamber and a few others interested in the project, and by a representative of the Portland chamber of commerce; and perhaps Mr. Timson of the Utah-Idaho Sugar company will be present.

The meeting is to talk over plans for the campaign for acreage, and to decide whether to go out after 1000 acres for 1927, the beets to be shipped to the Bellingham factory, or for 8000 acres for the proposed factory here.

Factory in 1927 or 1928
The decision on the acreage campaign will decide whether the factory shall be built in 1927 or 1928.

Mr. Timson says his company is ready to absorb the whole of the freight charges, in case our growers plant 1000 acres of beets, the crop to go to Bellingham.

That is better than has before been offered. Our farmers were ready last year to grow beets and

CHILD GETS SICK CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

Look at tongue! Then give fruity laxative for stomach, liver, bowels

"California Fig Syrup" can't harm children and they love it

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign the little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Fig Syrup" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious, "fruity laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside cleansing." Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Fig Syrup," then see that it is made by "The California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv themselves absorb 50 cents a ton of the freight charges, but even that proposition was abandoned, on account of the failure of the railroads to get together and cooperate.

Not at Mount Vernon
As all readers of The Statesman know, the factory of the Utah-Idaho Sugar company is at Bellingham, Wash., not at Mount Vernon. Their Bellingham factory has been in operation for two years. Before it was built, for several years, the farmers of Skagit and Whatcom counties, in the Bellingham district, grew a considerable acreage of sugar beets, and shipped them to the factory of the company in the Yakima valley. They thus proved the adaptability of their section for sugar beet growing.

The contention of the Salem Chamber of Commerce and the Salem men advocating the establishing of the beet sugar industry here has been for a campaign of 8000 acres of beets, and a factory here next year.

is not the memory of a statesman nor a political czar. It is the memory of a man whose democracy was proof of his greatness, whose kindly greetings and whose fund of stories are traditions in his community.

The funeral services at three o'clock Tuesday afternoon will be as simple as the man they honor. Rev. T. N. Ewing will officiate at the St. James Methodist church, of which Uncle Joe was a member, and past commanders of the Danville American Legion post will bear the coffin to the grave.

President Coolidge will be represented by Charles G. Dawes, vice president, who wired the family today that he would attend the services.
