

PIERCE GRANTS KUBLI REPRIEVE

QUEENS STILL ARREST FROM STATE ON $2500 BAIL

Time Limit for Reprieve Extended Into Patterson's Administration

Governor Pierce yesterday extended until January 16 a reprieve of 90 days granted on October 16 to Chester Kubli, who is under two years' sentence in the state penitentiary for aiding and abetting in the unlawful misapplication of funds of the Jacksonville state bank. Mr. Kubli's original reprieve would have expired to-day.

The reprieve granted to Mr. Kubli will expire early in the administration of Governor-elect I. L. Patterson who will assume the duties of the executive department on January 6.

C. H. Owens who was sentenced to a term of three years in the state penitentiary for the part he played in the failure of the Jacksonville state bank left the state soon after his conviction and has not yet surrendered to the officers. He was under bonds in the amount of $2500. Officials said he was last heard from at Long Beach, Cal.

W. H. Johnson, cashier of the bank, was sentenced to 10 years but was paroled after serving two years in the prison.

Mr. Kubli is a member of the pioneer Oregon family and until recently was a prominent resident of Jackson county.

ARTHUR SMITH KILLED

BODY OF SON OF PROMINENT FARMER FOUND

The body of Arthur Smith, 27, son of Ben W. Smith, prominent farmer in the Champeog district was found last night in the loft of a barn on the farm with his head pierced by a small calibre rifle bullet.

People working on the farm thought that they heard a shot about two o'clock in the afternoon, but no significance was attached to the report until late afternoon when the young man's body was located. A search was started and the body found about five o'clock.

Local physician, Dr. J. J. Corbett, who investigated, said the young man had been in ill health for some time and that the circumstances indicated that he had committed suicide although it was possible that the death could have been accidental.

CAMPAIN STARTS FOR PLEDGING BEET ACREAGE

It can be expected from that section of Beilleville will be $2.25 a ton. It is possible for us to guarantee a minimum of $6 per ton because of the improved market outlook caused us to raise the minimum to $7 per ton in our regular districts. The pledging schedule which we would offer in the Willamette valley contract would be $1 a ton under our general schedule. If conditions are favorable, and the growers of the district would be willing to contract 5000 acres for the next year, we would want to go ahead and erect a plant to handle the tonnage. There would be no object in our developing the territory from such a distance unless we intended to build as soon as the tonnage justified.

Adoptions of the two editions of Sutton and Lennes' business arithmetics were made to accommodate schools which offer either the full year or the half year course.

Household Economy—Welman, food planning, preparation, retail price $1.40, exchange price $1.30; A Girl's Problems in Home Economics, (Trilliss-Williams), retail price $1.28, exchange price $1.17. Text books dealing with the subjects of agriculture, music, American literature and geometry now in use in the schools were re-adapted with but little opposition among members of the commission. No text was adopted for general science in the junior high schools and neither was a text adopted for high school agriculture. The following texts were adopted for supplementary use in the teaching of English: Hyde's modern biography, Schwellert's short stories, Otto's journal for high schools.

To Factory Manager

The letter referred to by Mr. Kipp, of the Portland chamber of commerce to Mr. Timpon, reads: "Have yours of the 4th inst., enclosing copy of letter to Mr. Wilson, regarding the sugar beet matter, and will say that we have agreed with them, to put one man steady on this work for the next six weeks if necessary, and also to add two or three more for special meetings if needed. We think if the farmers can be assured, after producing a thousand acres of beets this year, and signing up for 3000 acres for the year 1928, a plant will be erected in Salem, we will have no difficulty in securing the required acreage."

More Than 1000 Acres

As the Utah-Idaho people talk of a minimum of 1000 acres for 1927, it is to be presumed they will take more if offered; perhaps a good deal more.

When they speak of their contract "on a basis of $6 per ton guaranteed minimum," it is evident that they mean to put the Willamette valley farmers on the same basis as other farmers, excepting that the guaranteed minimum will be $1 a ton lower. But that would not affect the final payment, for half the sugar would belong to the farmer who grew the beets, less half the cost of selling the sugar. That is, on the sale of the sugar, all farmers would have the same amount, pound for pound of the sugar processed from these beets, for it is understood that the Utah-Idaho company proposes to absorb the whole cost of the freight.

RESCUERS LOCATE BODY

FIVE WORKERS KILLED BY EXPLOSION IN SHAFT

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., Nov. 15.—(AP)—Rescue crews, searching the interior of the Glendale Coal & Coke company's First street mine here, tonight found the body of Thomas Robbins, 44, one of the men entombed following an explosion early today. Discovery of Robbins' body brought the death total to five, with all workers accounted for. Two were injured and 13 escaped alive.

It had been hoped that Robbins, a veteran miner, would be found alive, but his body was thrown by the force of the explosion into a ditch at one side of a motor road a short distance from where the other four men met death.

IOWA JOURNALIST DIES

VETERAN EDITOR'S PERSONALITY LEADS NEWSPAPER

DES MOINES, Iowa, Nov. 15.—(AP)—Death today claimed another member of the old school of American Journalism, Lafayette Young, editor and publisher of the Des Moines Capital and former United States senator. He was 78 years old.

Mr. Young died from heart disease while asleep in the rest room of a bath parlor. He had been under observation of a physician for several weeks, but earlier in the day had appeared in normal health.

The veteran editor was one of Iowa's foremost citizens. He carried the distinction of past generations in his newspaper affairs, with his own personality dominating his publication, and, in addition, had lived a varied career in the public life, serving his state in the United States senate and lesser offices.

BAND HELPED BY LOCAL AMERICAN LEGION POST

"The post made about $2500 from the Armistice Day celebration," according to A. C. "Biddy" Bishop, "and wants to do some public good with the sum. We are anxious to stand back of the council in any measure for the good of the people, and any time it wants the post to boost a measure, all it needs to do is send a committee to the Legion meeting and it will find 900 of the best boosters it ever saw."

Some objection to accepting the gift was made by some of the council on the grounds that the city should bear its own troubles and not inflict them on any private party, but the committee finally decided to accept it, with the reservation that it will pay back the sum at some future date if the Legion is willing to accept it.

Other changes in the 1927 budget last night include adding $300 to the expenses of the health officer, the sum being taken from the incidental expenses of the city; adding $400 to the sum for new books for the public library, this sum being taken from the fund for sweeping and cleaning streets, and taking $500 from the engineering and surveying department fund for use of the city planning and zoning commission.

The added $300 for expense of the health officer was taken so the city could live up to its practical promise made the Commonwealth fund of New York at the time the Marion county child health demonstration was installed here that provision would be made for a full time county health unit.

W. L. Phillips, T. M. Hicks, George Grabenhorst and Dr. W. B. Morse addressed the committee, asking that the fund promised them for the health unit be provided, pointing out that the Commonwealth fund spent about $60,000 in the county last year, and that the whole benefit of this goes to the county and city of Salem.

Alderman S. E. Purvine was in favor of having the $400 taken out of the fund for new lights, but his motion was amended by Alderman W. H. Dancy to have it taken from the incidental expenses, which are thus cut down from $2000 to $1700.

Where to get the added $400 for buying library books caused the committee considerable worry and time. The matter was brought up by A. A. Lee of the library board, who pointed out the great importance of having books for children and students—rather than for grown persons. Absolute elimination of the book fund, which in the past has been $1500, would cause a setback in the library's operations that would take years to overcome, he stated.

Hal D. Patton moved that $1322 be added to the estimated receipts from the city recorder's office and taken to cover the book fund, but strenuous objection was made to this proposition on the grounds that the present estimate on these receipts was already as high as it could possibly be stretched, and that past deficits had arisen from overestimating these receipts.
