Department Secretary Prepares Interesting Report of Institutions Meeting

A decidedly successful meeting of the institutions department of the Salem Woman's club was held at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in the club house with the majority of members and a number of guests present.

The following minutes, informally compiled by the department secretary, Mrs. Charles Strickland, will be of much interest:

The meeting was called to order asked for admission. At the present time the population is 190, 10 more than we are supposed to carry, according to the capacity of the institution; 25 are children. Three hundred and ten children have been admitted since the institution has been open. Children are usually a success, it being not so difficult to treat them. There are 50 children on the waiting list now. Dr. Bellinger spoke of some of the things the club women could do to help the patients out there. Often a patient comes to the hospital who is not able to buy the necessary clothing for their stay there, and must call on the county for help, and it is often embarrassing. He stated the club could help by furnishing night gowns or clothing which is needed, as the state only takes care of them from a medical standpoint and gives them their bed and board. (Anyone desiring to help is urged to do so.)

Some club women from Portland sent clothing to start a supply, and yesterday someone from Salem sent out a supply of gowns for the patients. Many who contract tuberculosis have never asked for help before. Few realize what it means to take an enforced rest for probably two or three years, even if they don't stay at the hospital they have to give up a great many activities for some time. Dr. Bellinger says they hope to complete an arrangement to do some thing that will increase their vocational condition. Some of the institutions in the eastern states have developed this and have special shops in charge of three or four people, so that the patient will be better fitted to help themselves in some way. Some have to stay a long while. Dr. Bellinger says at this institution they have a study club, and that nearly 30 are carrying on adult study courses. A teacher meets with them once a week to encourage them in their study. Santa Claus entertainment at the theater at that the children thoroughly enjoyed it. These children also enjoy music, and anyone having records to discard, these would be appreciated by them. At the school weaving is done and brooms are made by the inmates. Run and brooms can be purchased there. Also there are complete piano tuners, if one desires the piano tuned.

It was moved that the secretary of the institutions committee directed to write a letter of appreciation to Mr. Bligh for giving the children the delightful entertainment.

Mrs. George Forge, chairman of the deaf school committee, with several others of her committee reported that they had visited by the chairman, Mrs. S. M. Endicott.

A splendid program was furnished by pupils from the Sacred Heart academy, as follows:

Dance la Gavotte. Severn

Piano, Marian Boyle.

I Passed by Your Window. Brahe

Members of Choral Class.

The personnel of the orchestra includes Eleanor Brown, Nancy Thielsen, Marian Boyle, Marguerite Estudillo, Gladys La Forest, Thelma Porter, Lorena Lebold, Honora Reidy, Marguerite Blumensberg, Evelyn Emery and Margaret Mary Thompson.

In the choral class are Winifred Albright, Honora Reidy, Josephine Barr, Anna Marie Rodovan, Margaret Mary Thompson, Nancy Thielsen, Eleanor Brown, Marguerite Blumensberg, Gary Jean Porter, Agnes Salfeld, Gertrude Stitz, Agnes Moisan, Margaret Kelleher and Arbutus Rudy.

Dr. Bellinger, superintendent of the state tuberculosis hospital, gave a very instructive talk to the ladies of the committee. He stated that the hospital for tubercular patients was opened in 1910, and at that time the death rate was more than 150 per 100,000, while in 1924 the rate was 71 to every hundred thousand, and in 1925 the census showed that the death rate had decreased to 64 per hundred thousand deaths. Similar reports have been secured in other states, as California and Arizona, where consumptives go seeking a dryer climate. Dr. Bellinger expressed his appreciation of the fact that every county in the state voted for a new tubercular hospital. Everywhere the doctor has visited recently he says there is a feeling of optimism in handling this situation and the ultimate solution. Dr. Bellinger says tuberculosis strikes the hardest blow to young people, the ones around 20 years of age. They are unwilling to accept the handicap, and come to them with a feeling of protest at first. Their daily life in the hospital is restricted, and they must become adjusted to it and be patient. The average patient's stay at the hospital is a little over 10 months, although some stay 15 to 18 months. The patients at the institution, during the little spare time they are not required to rest, publish a magazine and prepare it for the printer, with only contributions from friends, and he asks friends who sympathize with the work to help them carry it on. The number of admissions since 1910 are 2052 plus 5 per cent (those who come a second time are given the same number). Add 5 per cent to 2734 to get the total number who have visited the institution and gave the children a real treat. Santa even took the reindeer up the little walk used only by pedestrians. They gave him their letters which they had written. Dr. Bellinger says we can help these children by giving any small gifts, and if anyone wishes to give to them a list of those who perhaps will receive only the allowance from the state will be furnished.

Mrs. J. M. Devers, chairman of the feeble minded institution, reported that the inmates out there would appreciate any victor records one doesn't need any longer, as music is one of the things most enjoyed by them.

Dr. Fannie Brown, chairman of the committee for the blind school, stated that entertainments are acceptable at the school. She also told us that Mr. Bligh put on an

Fisker's BLEND BRAND FLOUR Another Best Policy

"To buy good flour is the best policy," advises Paul Richards, one of the foremost baking authorities. "Good flour is the foundation of good bread," he says, "and the best flour is none too good for the baker. Such a flour is ordinarily known by its market value."

There is something wonderfully satisfying about Fisher's Blend Brand Flour for home use. It is a good flour. Being milled according to formula, at all times it is uniform in its composition of flour elements and for that reason its action in cooking is always normal.

Many of the baking worries can be laid at the door of variable flour, so the housewife has learned to be particular about the brand name.

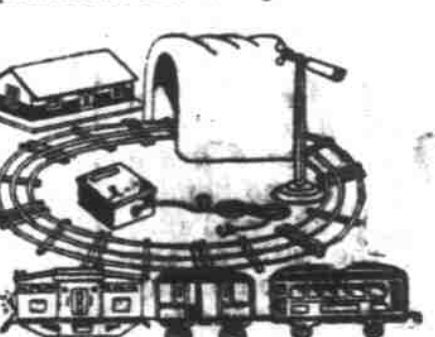

Fisher's Blend Brand Flour is the best policy because it is the best flour—the same today, as last month, as ten years ago.
