PROPOSED SALE OF SHIPPING BOARD LINES CAUSE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—(AP)—The senate today ordered an inquiry into the proposed sale by the shipping board of the United States lines and the American merchant lines and requested the board to withhold action pending the inquiry.

Senator Johnson, republican, California, offered the resolution which was unanimously approved. He said he understood the transaction would be consummated on Monday, and he asked Chairman Jones of the commerce committee to start the inquiry immediately. On November 30 the board deferred for two weeks final action on offers by New York shipping interests for the two lines which would call for the transfer to private hands of the Leviathan and other ships.

Previous to today's testimony, those had been no recital of money transactions between Doherty and Fall since the $100,000 cash loan to the cabinet member on November 30, 1921, when Doherty interests were bidding for naval oil contracts and leases.

Secretary Wilbur, called for questioning as to strategic considerations which impelled the war plans division to decide upon the $100,000,000 Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, naval base more than five years ago, refused to bring to court official communications from Rear Admiral Albert Gleaves, commander of the Pacific squadron in 1921 and 1922.

Other records which he brought were rejected by the defense attorney and they let the war scare rest with Secretary Wilbur's testimony that disclosure of the contents of the Gleaves' reports would be prejudicial to public interest.

The defense summons called specifically for 48 telegrams and 51 letters from Gleaves between September, 1920 and March, 1921, but Secretary Wilbur said he

MINISTERS AT PARIS STILL FAR FROM AGREEMENT

PARIS, Dec. 10.—(AP)—"Still a good way apart," was the term used tonight to describe the position of the Germans and the allies with regard to a settlement of the armaments question.
