New Board of Directors to Take Office After First of Year

Scott Page will be the next president of the Salem chamber of commerce. He defeated Dr. Henry Morris and Max O. Buren in the chamber election held yesterday noon. Fred D. Thielson won the race for vice president over W. L. Phillips and Harry Scott.

D. B. Jarman will be secretary, defeating C. F. Gleason and F. E. Sherwin. Dr. L. E. Barrick was chosen treasurer over A. A. Mickel and M. D. Ohling.

U. G. Holt was elected head of the special department, beating out W. T. Hickey and Walter Minler. Otto A. Hartman was elected to the civic department. Other candidates were Dr. L. C. Marshall and Walter T. Molloy.

George F. Vick will head the agricultural department, defeating John Scott and H. F. Bonesteel. Leo N. Childs will head the legislative department, beating P. W. Gleason and W. G. Krueger. Fred A. Erickson will head the industrial department, beating W. T. Stolz and E. L. Wieder.

The new board of directors will take office January 3. Each man will speak briefly on the program.

Hodges Resigns as County YMCA Secretary, to Move

Albert R. Hodges yesterday resigned the post of Marion county YMCA secretary which he has held since July, coming here from Portland. The resignation was a complete surprise, as he had given no previous intimation of the move.

Hodges will go to Portland to engage in other work. He had been very successful with county YMCA work here during his brief connection with it.

Heavy Wave of Christmas Mail Strikes Postoffice

Breaking one day earlier than anticipated, the wave of Christmas mail struck the Salem Post office Monday necessitating the addition of 18 clerks and carriers to the local force and an extra automobile. The influx of general mail and packages began in the early morning and continued throughout the day with long lines of parcel laden patrons passing the windows.

Two additional windows were opened this morning and others will be opened if necessary to accommodate the rush. In spite of the fact that the rush started a little earlier than customary the post office force experienced no difficulty in handling it and there was no congestion. The entire force was kept busy every minute of the day. Assistant Postmaster A. E. Gibbard believes the feeling that an early mailing of presents might be considered as a hint, is partially responsible for these last minute rushes.

'HOLD THAT LION' STARTS SHOWING

Elsinore Theater Features Douglas MacLean in Comedy-Romance Film

Daniel in the Lions' den had nothing on Douglas MacLean, judging from the funmaker's laughable predicament in his new Paramount comedy, "Hold That Lion," which starts showing at the Elsinore theatre today for a three day run.

In a laudable endeavor to prove himself a hero in the eyes of the one and only girl, the redoubtable MacLean joins what he mistakenly believes is a "cat" hunting expedition. When he discovers that the "cats" are not the familiar and harmless household pets but wild, man-eating lions, it is too late to withdraw.

As matters turn out, instead of MacLean hunting the lions, the lions hunt MacLean. The results are just as funny and exciting as one would imagine. In the end, the comedian has the last laugh on the animals, for he succeeds in capturing a live lion, though in a decidedly unorthodox manner.

The lion hunt is merely the climax of a long series of mirth-provoking adventures, which begin in New York when MacLean falls in love with a charming blonde. Unfortunately, the girl starts a round-the-world trip before he can propose, but he manages to catch up with her in Africa. Thereafter the complications pile up with amazing rapidity, attaining hilarious and cyclonic proportions during the lion hunting episodes.

Although MacLean's is the outstanding performance, the members of the supporting cast come in for a share of credit. Walter Hiers proves an admirable foil for the exuberant Douglas. Constance Howard makes a particularly attractive heroine. Cyril Chadwick, Wade Boteler and George Pearce fit their respective roles splendidly.

VALUE OF KIMBALL SCHOOL STRESSED

Dr. Canse Speaks at Chamber of Commerce Meet, Budget $20,000

Business and religion now go hand in hand, according to Dr. John M. Canse, president of the Kimball School of Theology, in an address yesterday before the Salem chamber of commerce, in which he discussed the value of the Kimball School to Salem as a civic enterprise.

Kimball's graduates, who go as preachers to all parts of the Northwest, are among the best boosters for Salem, said Dr. Canse. He gave several instances in which the church has served as a community supporter.

Kimball's budget for the coming year is $20,000, Dr. Canse stated. The college is being improved to give a dormitory and club room for men, and economy is needed to meet the cost. One hundred men, each giving $100 a year, could make of Kimball the kind of institution that everyone wants in Salem, he said.

Discontinues "Chicken Roost" for Salem House

Mrs. Frank Minto has purchased the Salem restaurant and opened it yesterday with a record first day patronage. As proprietor of the "Chicken Roost," a highway inn several miles out of Salem on the Jefferson road, Mrs. Minto achieved local fame for the high quality of the foods served. A number of her former patrons are congratulating her on coming to town and themselves, in now being able to enjoy her meals with less loss of time. Mrs. Minto will discontinue the "Chicken Roost" for the present and devote her entire time to the personal supervision of the new restaurant. She expresses herself as being highly pleased at the number of friends who have sought her out the first day in the new quarters.
