Woman's Club Calendar on Sale During Holidays

Practically every organization in Salem is awaiting the notice that the calendars which are being prepared by the Salem Woman's club are off the press. That announcement will be made within the next few days. The calendar, which is of good size, is without ornamentation. The letters, "Salem Woman's Club," are written across the card at the lower margin of each calendar. Listed in the block with each numeral are the various activities concerned with that day. For instance, on Monday, Jan. 3, six organizations are listed for regular meetings—the chamber of commerce, the Salem Woman's club classes, the Salem Garden club, the music section of the Salem Arts League, the city council and the Rebekah lodge. In addition, the time that each meets is furnished.

On Tuesday the Kiwanis club, the War Mothers, the WCTU, St. Paul's guild, the Modern Writers' club, the Knights of Columbus, the McKinley Parent-Teacher association and the Eastern Star meet.

The rest of the calendar is filled out after the same plan.

The calendars, which will doubtless be popular, will be on sale down town, places to be announced later. The price of each calendar is 25 cents.

The Salem Woman's club has bought the sole copyright for the calendar that can be allowed in Salem.

The committee in charge of the enterprise includes Mrs. Wm. Fordey Fargo, Miss Mattie Beatty and Mrs. W. E. Anderson.

During the calendar sale each club member will be expected to account for three calendars,—buying one for herself and selling two. Each individual is expected to report to her division or department chairman, who in turn will report to the central committee.

The money derived from the sale of advertising the calendar features was voted into a fund to secure a floor covering for the club auditorium.

Christmas Program at First Congregational Church

Chadwick assembly, Order of Rainbow for Girls, will have charge of the Christmas program which will be given at 7:30 o'clock this evening at the First Congregational church. A chorus of 30 will sing while others will take pantomime parts.

Additional numbers on the program will be exercises by the primary department. A Christmas tree will be a feature.

Each who attends the program is asked to bring a contribution for the "White Gift" Christmas which the church is observing this year. According to this plan a gift of food, money, clothing or almost anything whatsoever, is presented to the usher. The gifts will be distributed among those in need.

Past Matrons Enjoy Christmas Party at Godfrey Home

A Christmas meeting of the Past Matrons' association of the Eastern Star was held last Friday at the home of Mrs. James L. Godfrey on North Liberty street. Following the business meeting, Santa Claus arrived and distributed gifts. Miss Minnie Mieller took the important role.

A Christmas tree motif was used on the supper tables. When the club meets for the January session Mrs. Capper, Mrs. Shafer and Miss Moeller will entertain.

Those in attendance at the December meeting were Hazel Gillette, Elizabeth Shafer, Alice Meyers, Minnie Moeller, Marie McCall, Marian Derby, Monnie Hausler, Ida Niles, Rose Pratt, Estelle Smith, Fay Wright, Eleanor Steiner, Rose Babcock, Josephine Vass, Josie LaFore, Mrs. Reeves, Anna Petteys, Alice Coolidge, Mary Johnson, Lettie Smith and Ida Godfrey.

Mrs. Styles Presents Pupils in Pleasing Recital

One of the most delightful musicals of the pre-holiday season was that at which Mollie Styles, instructor in piano and voice, presented a group of pupils at her home, 780 N. Summer street. The program was as follows:

- Piano, "Waltz"..... Martin Frances Walker.
 - Piano, "Morning Prayer"..... Johnson Alice Young.
 - Piano Prelude..... Chopin Danse Ecossaise..... Beethoven Francis Grote.
 - Violin solo, "Liebeslied"..... Kriesler Cleo Seeley.
 - Vocal, "To You"..... Speaks "Bird in the Wood"..... Kreutzer Dorothy Browning.
 - Piano, "Minuet"..... Handel Sonatine..... Kulau Irene Lockridge.
 - Piano, "Mazurka"..... Lynes Frances Grote.
 - Violin "Intermezzi Sinfonia"..... Mascogni Cleo Seeley.
 - Piano, "Holy Night"..... Winfield Needham.
- Sung by members of the class
Recital by pupils of Mrs. Styles, assisted by Cleo Seeley, violinist.

Mrs. Johnson Is Hostess for Bridge Luncheon Club

A delightful affair of the pre-Christmas season was the bridge luncheon at which Mrs. Clyde Johnson was hostess when she entertained for her club group. Three special guests, Mrs. G. W. Johnson Jr., Mrs. W. Carlton Smith and Mrs. E. N. Gillingham were invited for the affair.

Mrs. E. N. Gillingham and Mrs. Cal Patton were the winners of the prizes.

A miniature Christmas tree, alight with red candles, centered the table where covers were placed for Mrs. G. W. Johnson Jr., Mrs. E. N. Gillingham, Mrs. W. Carlton Smith, Mrs. L. P. Aldrich, Mrs. R. C. Hunter, Mrs. Clair Inman, Mrs. Ernie Kappahn, Mrs. Chas. Knowland, Mrs. W. I. Needham, Mrs. Cal Patton, Mrs. W. J. Liljequist, Mrs. P. J. Meany, Mrs. R. W. Hans Seitz and the hostess, Mrs. Johnson.

Christmas Entertainment at First Baptist Church

The First Baptist church will hold its annual Christmas entertainment with the "tree 'n' every thing," Thursday evening, December 23, at 7:30 o'clock. The young people will give a delightful pageant, entitled "Joyful Voices," in which the choir will take part. The White Gifts for the King will also be observed.

Midnight Service at St. Paul's Church

A midnight service will be held at St. Paul's Episcopal church beginning at 11:45 Christmas eve, to which the public will be welcome. The vested choir will sing.

Members of the choir include F. G. Deckebach, director; Mrs. Nina Kahler, organist; Rhea Luper, Mr. Tatham, R. H. Neimeyer, T. J. Williams, Mrs. Hallie Hingee, Mrs. C. D. Adams, Miss Ruth Reed, Miss Irene DeLisle, Mrs. Lillian Vaughn, Miss Henrietta White, Mrs. V. E. DOUGLAS MACLEAN STAR OF COMEDY

"Hold That Lion" Show Hunting of Big Game in African Jungle

When is a cat not a cat? Answer: when it's a lion! Because he doesn't know that, in the language of big game hunters, a "cat" means a lion, Douglas MacLean becomes involved in a lion hunting expedition in the course of his thrilling and hilarious adventures in his latest comedy, "Hold That Lion."

The film opened yesterday at the Elsinore Theatre and will show through Thursday. Film fans, who feel the need of a strong laugh tonic, will find this MacLean vehicle the right kind of screen medicine. Watching the smiling funmaker trying to act romantic while minus his trousers, or attending a fashionable dance in a pair of stolen Scotch kilts, or getting familiar with half dozen hungry lions, is a sure cure for all aches and pains.

The above are a just of the few of the many gags and laugh moments in this smile-a-minute comedy, which begins in a New York sky-scraiper and ends in an African jungle. Between these two scenic extremes, MacLean chases a beautiful blonde with whom he has fallen in love at first sight. It would be unfair to relate how he proves himself a hero as a big game hunter, despite his craven fear. Suffice to say that even the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals would indorse his humane and humorous method of capturing a ferocious lion.

William Beaudine, who made such an excellent directorial job of "That's My Baby," wielded the megaphone on this one as well. Rosalie Mulhall wrote the original screen story and Joseph Franklin Poland attended to the adaptation. Constance Howard supports the star.

University Extension Course Ends Fall Term

The work of the University of Oregon in its extension division classes, which have been held in the Salem high school building, closed the fall term last week. Classes will be resumed for the winter term during the week beginning January 3.

In addition to the course in English and social psychology, under Dr. H. C. Kohler and Dr. Sherman of the Willamette university and the courses of art, education and health, presented respectively by Miss Victoria Avakain, Prof. Karl R. Douglass and Miss Lenora Thompson of the University of Oregon, the new term will feature classes in "Teaching Principles" by Superintendent George W. Hug of the Salem schools and one in "Public Speaking," especially organized for teachers, by Dr. John O. Hall of Willamette university.

These classes lead to college credits for all who have the necessary requisites, and cover the course satisfactorily, but are open to all people who desire to take the work for what they can get out of it.
