As wide as the United States; as wide as the world.

Salem is doing very well in getting new factories, and in increasing the size of old ones-

And the opportunities in this line are great.

The factories we should encourage most are the ones that will work up the raw products of our land. There are literally hundreds of such opportunities. These are the kind of widow and her servants, but withfactories that will bring new money ever year; that will put her complicity in the abductiondistant places contributing to the growth and prosperity and partly because, before these reincrease of values here.

GETTING NEW PEOPLE ON THE LAND

"Walnut and filbert growing in Oregon presents a strong appea to well-to-do- Illinois farmers. That is the conclusion of W. G. Ide. manager of the land settlement activities of the State and Portland Chambers of Commerce from some of his recent correspondence.

"With $20,000 to invest in a first class walnut and filbert farm, Eugene Hoyt, an Illinois man, awaits but the selection of a place suitable and rightly priced before making the trip to Oregon where tives pass his place at a death-dehe has decided he will make his home.

The spring of 1927 will see in Oregon another prospective nut grower from Illinois, A. L. MacLeod, who desires to invest also up to $20,000 in a farm on which he can raise Jerseys or Guernseys in flying squad of reporters detach- 6:30-7:00-KXL (400). Music.

What a charm there is in variety, yet how often it is forgotten in the service of breads on the menu. Fascinating varieties of breads are within the reach of the alert housewife and they never fail to awaken grateful appreciation at the dining table. Neither are they a lot of trouble to prepare in these days of careful recipes and regulated heat, providing dependable flour is used. A dependable flour is uniform because it is milled according to a fixed formula.

Fisher's Blend Brand Flour is a formula flour. It is not milled from just wheat-it is milled from the flour elements of an ideal wheat. This ideal is obtained by blending different varieties of wheat until the composition of flour elements satisfies the formula for a perfect all-purpose flour.

Fisher's Blend Brand Flour has become standard for household use because it is the same today, as last month, as ten years ago.
