CURFEW LAW CAST ASIDE FOR NIGHT

New York Cafes and Banquet Halls Ready for Happy Celebration

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—(AP)—Hotels, whose banquet halls will attract thousands of celebrators tomorrow night, announced today that all plans for the biggest and most festive New Year's observance in New York history, have been completed.

All that remains, their managers said, as they scrutinized seasonal decorations and gave the final word to the chefs, is for New York to turn in early if it wants to get a running start into 1927.

No curfew law, although it now is on the statutes, will interfere, according to Mayor James J. Walker, who announced that for this "special occasion" the three o'clock closing of night clubs and restaurants with music "is all off."

Private parties in homes, cafes, clubs and halls will contribute to the indoor feature of the celebration. The police, basing their observations on scant minglings of people in Times Square on Christmas eve, say the greeting of the New Year, which in times past took the form of firing the family musket at the moon, will be confined this year exclusively to intramural gaieties.

Ten dollars cover charges will be the standard price at the big hotels, with here and there an extra five added for an "imported novelty for the ladies," or because the dancing will be supplemented with a tableau.

Capital of Tibet May Soon Have Electricity

DELHI.—(AP)—Messages of mysterious happenings in Lhasa, the capital of Tibet, have been percolating through the wild passes of southern Tibet into Northern India. A report brought by shaggy-haired and primitive Tibetan muleteers states that "somebody who is in league with the Evil One has succeeded in creating lights which outshine the sun and moon."

The explanation seems to be that R. D. Ringang, a young Tibetan nobleman, who has been studying electrical engineering in England, has reached the goal of his ambition; to electrify the "Forbidden City" of Lhasa.

Several months ago Ringang took a shipment of electric light appliances out from England, but nothing has been heard of him since. His purpose was to harness a waterfall near Lhasa and introduce electricity into his native city.

COACHES SUGGEST HALT AFTER SHIFT

Cowell Elected as President of Football Mentors' Association

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—(AP)—In an effort to find a check-proof shift play, the American Football Coaches association today suggested to the rules committee that "after any change of position of one or more players, two or more seconds elapse before the ball is put in play."

The coaches, however, made it clear that the unfavorable reaction created is directed only at forward or lateral shifts and is not intended to prevent a player from running toward his own goal; an amendment providing that "this suggestion is not intended to amend the present rules in regard to men in motion, but applies to shift plays only."

Most of the discussion was devoted to the shift play, which many coaches declared was an effort to beat the rules and as such could not be countenanced. The rules committee of the association, headed by W. W. Roper, who is also a member of the committee making the football rules, recommended only one suggestion, that relating to shifts.

The coaches discussed the forward pass and point after touchdown but made no suggestions for changes in existing rules.

BASEBALL SCANDAL GOES IN TAILSPIN

Fred West Claims Money Wagered on Horse Race and not Ball Game

CHICAGO, Dec. 30.—(AP)—Baseball's newest scandal went into a complicated tailspin today with a declaration from Fred West, an employee of Navin field, in Detroit, that the money held by him was played on a "horse race" and not on the result of the Detroit-Cleveland ball game back in 1919, involving charges against Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker.

This is a direct contradiction of testimony West gave before Commissioner Landis to whom he admitted that money was placed on the baseball contest.

There was no statement forthcoming from Commissioner Landis' office today on this newest turn of events. Examination of the testimony made public by Landis, however, revealed the following:

"Q.—(By Landis)—There has been testimony given here today to the effect that a bet was made on that game; did you have anything to do with that bet?"

"A.—(By West)—Yes sir.

"Q.—Just what?"

"A.—I placed the money, I placed the bets."

Dutch Leonard's denial that he sold the letters written by Cobb and "Smoky" Joe Wood to the American League is in conflict with a statement made by Henry Killian of Milwaukee, attorney for the American League who admitted a week ago today that he had settled the claim of Leonard's against the Detroit club last June and negotiated for the sale of the letters to the American League.

POLICE RELEASE MURDER SUSPECT

Williams Stoutly Denies Any Connection With Slaying of Peper

HOOD RIVER, Dec. 30.—(AP)—J. P. Williams, held in jail here for more than a week and questioned in connection with the murder of R. G. Peper, Mount Hood woodcutter, was released today. Peper was shot to death on the doorstep of his cabin as he went to the door in answer to a knock. Williams was involved in the case because of letters found in the Peper home indicating his infatuation for Mrs. Peper.

Williams stoutly denied any connection with the mystery and declared it was his opinion that the murder was committed by a Canadian who, he alleged, visited the valley in August, seeking the slain man and who indicated that the murder victim had wronged his daughter.

SUZZALLO LAUDS PUBLIC SCHOOLS

PORTLAND, Dec. 30.—(AP)—America, having set aside the caste system of government, would be dependent upon chance leadership were it not for the existence of public schools, Dr. Henry Suzzallo, deposed president of the University of Washington, told teachers of the state of Oregon Wednesday. His address at the end of the first day of the general assembly of the Oregon State Teachers' association, was entitled "The Social Sanctions of the Public School System."

"In the last analysis," Dr. Suzzallo said, "the ability of any democracy to compete with other nations will depend upon its system of finding, training and using leaders."

"The public school system is America's substitute for the upper caste system of guaranteeing an available supply of leaders."

Miss Mildred Starrett of Salem was elected today to succeed Miss Vida Hammond of Portland as president of the department of classroom teachers. Miss Hammond, Mrs. Edith Falbe of Roseburg and Miss Maurine Brown of Newberg were elected vice presidents.

President Kerr of Oregon Agricultural college, speaking before the department of physical education, predicted that football will decline in favor as a college sport because of the interest it takes from study.
