

NEWS OF THE STAGE AND SCREEN

Elsinore Theater
Jetta Goudal's first picture, "The Man of War," in which the exotic star is seen as a German frau...

William Boyd, the hero of "The Road to Yesterday," "The Volga Boatman" and other screen successes, played opposite Miss Goudal in the role of an American soldier who becomes a spy, shared stiffer honors with Miss Goudal.

"Her Man of War" is a delightful mixture of comedy, romance, drama and thrills. It is a war picture of a vastly different type to those ordinarily shown on the screen.

Comedy and love and rapid-fire thrills—these serve to make "Her Man of War" a most notable screen achievement. Miss Goudal was delightful in her portrayal, while Mr. Boyd was, as usual, manlike and thoroughly convincing.

A number of clever vaudeville acts are scheduled for the Elsinore Friday. One of the main attractions will be the "Sunburnt Revue" composed of three speedy maitre d' and two pretty girls.

Thomas Meighan, Paramount's popular star, arrives at the Elsinore theater Saturday in a William Beaudine production, "The Canadian."

Briefly, "The Canadian" is a tale of love and adventure in those wide open spaces above the U. S. boundary, familiarly known as Alberta.

Imagine the stirring story of an English aristocrat transplanted to a new country, and there, offering to marry the man she professes to hate. Imagine a year of effort to grow wheat and then think of the shock and remorse when a terrible storm wipes everything out!

Meighan has had strong stories in the past, but from present indications, "The Canadian" promises to outdo them all. The picture will be shown in Salem Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

Petitions Asking Pardon for Chester Kubli Coming
Petitions containing the names of a large number of Jackson county citizens, requesting a pardon for Chester Kubli, under two years sentence for aiding and abetting in the failure of the Jacksonville State bank, were expected to arrive at the executive department here today.

It was said that the petitions were signed by a number of jurors who sat in Kubli's trial, and city and county officials.

Kubli last November was reprieved by Governor Pierce until January 16 of this year. Governor Pierce has not given any indication as to what action he will take in connection with the petitions.

Friends of the governor said he probably would refer them to Governor-elect Patterson, who assumes the duties of the executive department next Monday.

tremist agitators are trying to force the fighting by such means as the demands on the British consul, drawn up by representatives of laborers, farmers, merchants, students and soldiers of Hankow, for presentation through the Cantonese government.

The demands were couched in the form of an ultimatum, insisting on compliance within 72 hours. While some press reports give no indication whether these demands have the approval of the Cantonese authorities, others announce that the demands are already in the hands of the British consulate, having been presented without awaiting the government's approval.

American volunteers mobilized, but remained in their quarters adjoining the British concession, awaiting developments.

Prohibiting Dogs Running at Large Proposed in Bill
Tightening up the laws under which dogs are licensed in the state of Oregon is proposed in a bill now being drafted by sheep owners for consideration of the 1927 legislature.

It was said that the sheep owners are behind a move to make it unlawful for dogs, other than those actually used in herding or driving sheep to run at large.

It was said that a number of dog owners would retaliate against the sheep owners by requesting repeal of the entire law providing for the licensing of dogs.

posed only of ex-officio members, including the governor, secretary of state and state superintendent of schools. It was set out in the report that the governor and secretary of state were too busy in other affairs to give sufficient attention to educational matters.

The report of the committee is somewhat in line with a fight waged during recent years by Senator Eddy to revise and improve the courses of study in the public schools. Although the committee did not incur all of Senator Eddy's recommendations, it was said that he is satisfied with the report.

Following are the recommendations of the committee in full:

(1) That school authorities of the state establish definite objective standards for desirable pupil attainment in the fundamental subjects of reading, writing, spelling, use of the English language, and business arithmetic, and that the use of carefully constructed tests for the measurement of pupil achievement in the light of such standards be promoted.

(2) That a board be created to consist of seven residents of this state, one to be appointed each year to serve for seven years (after the first members are appointed), three of whom should be, when appointed, practical educators, actually engaged in the profession of teaching, and four should be qualified persons from other walks of life.

(3) This board should prescribe the courses of study for the grade schools and high schools, select the textbooks used in all public schools of the state, supervise private schools, and make and enforce rules and regulations for the improvement of Oregon's educational system, getting such advice and recommendations from educators and others as will help in making proper decisions in these matters.

(4) The state superintendent of public instruction should be the executive officer of said board, performing any and all duties required of him by the board, not inconsistent with such other duties as are required of him by law.

(5) In view of the importance of text books in carrying out the objectives set up in the course of study for the several subjects we recommend that the act creating the state text book commission be repealed and its powers and duties assigned to the state board of education.

(6) As the board could logically perform also the duties of the board of higher curricula, we recommend that the act creating the latter be repealed and its powers and duties be also assigned to the state board of education.
