Salem Club, Daughters of the Nile, Elects Officers for the New Year

The Salem club, Daughters of the Nile, met on Wednesday at the Masonic Temple for the all-day regular meeting. The following officers were elected at this time: President, Mrs. Grace Crater; vice president, Mrs. Ola Miller, and secretary-treasurer (re-elected), Mrs. Adeline Dunsford.

At this time the year's work was finished and under the able supervision of Mrs. Ruby Seitz, 48 garments were finished and sent to the crippled children in the Shriner's hospital.

Meetings of the club are held for the purpose of doing philanthropic work in the form of sewing on garments for the crippled children in the Shriner's hospital in Portland.

On Wednesday Mrs. Ethel Niles, the retiring president, was presented with a piece in silver as a token of appreciation for her work.

The work for the coming season will be conducted through a group of committees. The sewing committee will be under the able charge of Mrs. Lulu Newton during the first quarter. The new entertainment committee includes Mrs. Esther Kuhn, Mrs. Velma Ellis and Mrs. Gladys Vibbert.

The personnel of other committees will be named later. Hostesses for the Wednesday meeting included Louise Patty, chairman; Ethel Hubbs, Gladys Irish, Marie Reisteigan and Alice Ewenson.

Dr. and Mrs. John Martin Canse Are Honored With Outstanding Reception

Dr. and Mrs. John Martin Canse were honored on Tuesday evening, following the inauguration exercises at Kimball School of Theology, with an outstanding reception which was one of the memorable social events in Salem during the new year.

Dr. J. D. McCormick introduced the guests to the receiving line. Those who held places of honor in the line were Bishop and Mrs. William O. Shepard of Portland, the honor guests, Dr. and Mrs. John Martin Canse, and the hosts for the church, Rev. and Mrs. Fred C. Taylor.

Great masses of Oregon grape, fern, fir boughs and pussy willows were used effectively in decorating the reception rooms which were completely embowered. Students of Kimball had charge of this feature. Many present declared that the church had never been more appropriately decked for an event of this kind.

A group of women who hold prominent places in the three Methodist churches of Salem assisted in the reception room. In this group were Mrs. Carl Gregg Doney, Mrs. D. H. Leech, Mrs. B. L. Steeves, Mrs. George H. Alden, Mrs. Willard De Yoe, Mrs. Thomas Acheson, Mrs. E. T. Barnes and Mrs. H. H. Vandevort.

Across one end of the room a long serving table was arranged. A bowl of punch was placed at each end of the table. The centerpiece was an exceedingly beautiful arrangement of daffodils, freesias, heather and fern. Shillpink cathedral candles in crystal holders stood on the serving table.

Mrs. Cecil Hawley and Mrs. Carl Abrams presided at the punch bowls during the first hour and Mrs. W. H. Hertzog and Mrs. C. M. Keefer at the second hour. Assisting them was Miss Annabelle Hawley.

The general chairman for the affair was Mrs. Ronald Glover. Her assistants in the affair were Mrs. B. E. Carrier, Mrs. J. O. Goltz, Mrs. W. H. Hertzog, Mrs. C. M. Keefer, Mrs. Ora F. McIntyre, Mrs. H. Durkheimer and Mrs. M. C. Findley.

Helpful—in every home

Household duties—social activities—and the many interruptions to the regular routine of the day make an extension telephone a necessary convenience to every busy housewife.

Precious minutes and countless tiring steps are wasted every day—running from one end of the house to the other or upstairs and down—answering the telephone bell, when there is not an extension in the home.

An extension telephone, properly placed, saves time and steps—is an aid and assurance in emergencies—and costs only a few cents a week.
