

TAX ON HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE FAVORED

Committee on Taxation and Revenue Reports Favorably on Four Bills

Reporting on four bills favorably and fixing definite times for hearing on other important bills was the extent of the business done by the taxation and revenue committee at its meeting last night.

House joint memorial number 3 by Bailey and Cramer asking that a committee be appointed to confer with committees appointed from the legislatures of Washington and California, on the income tax question was reported out favorably.

The next measure to get a favorable report was house bill number 19 which proposes to tax all household furniture, domestic fixtures, household goods and effects actually in use as such in homes and dwellings. These articles have been exempt heretofore.

This will catch a lot of persons in the net who have been evading it entirely. And although the individual tax will be small, the amount derived therefrom will be large. There was some opposition to the measure, in that the tax might be hard to collect, and also might work a hardship on the younger people who were trying to buy homes.

House bill number 194 which provides that the salaries of the secretary to the governor, chief deputy to the secretary of state and treasurer and the tax commissioner shall be fixed by the men who appoint them was amended to read that these salaries shall be fixed by the board of control. The bill will be reported back to the house this morning with the recommendation that it pass.

House bill number 183 by North and Bailey giving the state board of control power to purchase all stationery, office supplies, etc., for all of the state departments was the fourth bill to be recommended for passage.

House bills number 68, 70, 71, 227, 213 and 252 dealing with taxes on intangibles, water power, millage, luxury and corporate excess were placed on the committee's calendar for definite hearing as follows:

Monday night, number 227 and 92 at 7:30; Wednesday night, number 213 and 252 at 7:30. The following Monday night at 7:30 all other measures including income tax and those embraced in the so-called California plan.

CELERY IS GOOD FOR YOUR HEALTH

It Will Aid in Keeping Up Your Appetite and Will Assist in Your Growth

Celery is recognized by the leading physicians and dietitians of the world as being an important constituent of the human diet, says a prominent Salem physician.

Contains only 1.1 per cent protein, its principal value lies in the larger percentage of vitamin B, the most stable group of so-called vitamins. As one of the strong points of a vegetarian diet, celery aids in preventing the loss of appetite and lack of growth, due mostly to its easy solubility.

When cooked, the water which boils off should be included when served, as a necessary part of the diet. Diabetic patients are urged by medical men to eat raw celery in considerable quantity.
