Judge Bean Home Is Scene of Interesting Meeting of Salem Writers

The home of Judge and Mrs. H. J. Bean at 917 Court street was the scene of a particularly enjoyable meeting on Tuesday when Miss Maude Covington was hostess for the Writers' section of the Salem Arts League.

The rooms were beautifully decorated with red carnations, and fern. At the conclusion of a varied program, Mrs. Bean and Miss Covington served a delicious two-course luncheon.

The program of the evening opened with a story, "The Seven Irish," by Charles J. Lisle, the section leader which the audience felt would make not only an excellent novel, or novelette, but also an acceptable screen play.

Contributing in order were Mrs. Ora F. McIntyre, Miss Ruth Lawrence, Mrs. F. G. Franklin, Mrs. Lena M. Lisle, Mrs. Gertrude Robinson Ross, Dr. Mary C. Rowland, Mrs. Ruth Fargo, Miss Renka Swart, Perry Reigelman, Lester McDonald, Miss Sarah Wrenn, and Mrs. Blanche M. Jones.

The most notable contribution on the program was perhaps Miss Wrenn's poignant pioneer "Saga of the Ages," Miss Wrenn a second poem, "In Japan."

Dr. Grenfell Distinguished Arctic Explorer Will Speak in Salem Next Tuesday

The lecture to be given on Tuesday night, February 8th, at the Armory at 8:15 by Dr. Wilfred T. Grenfell will be one of the most interesting features of the winter's lecture course. The great service done by Dr. Grenfell for humanity in the northern Atlantic waters has been a subject of the press of the English-speaking world for many years. Now Dr. Grenfell is now giving his vasty human and interesting experiences first hand to audiences over the country who are fortunate enough to have the opportunity to hear his story.

The romance of his life among fishermen in the icy waters of the polar current during the season of open water, and the thousands of miles covered with the famous Eskimo dog teams over the snows of winter, offer unlimited scope for illustration of exceptional human interest.

Dr. Grenfell's lectures for the Grenfell association have attracted hundreds of volunteer workers for his hospital, educational and welfare work, who go north from all parts of the United States and Canada, as well as England, to assist him. They have never failed to thrill audiences who are interested in their fellow-men, especially those who love the men who "go down to the sea in ships."
