

NEWS OF THE STAGE AND SCREEN

Elsinore Theater
 What is assured the theatrical event of the season is slated at the Elsinore, for one performance only, on Tuesday evening, February 8th. The name of the attraction is "Jiggs, Maggie and Dinty," a "companion" piece to "Bringing Up Father" and based of course on the ever-popular and always diverting cartoons of the same title by George McManus. In the latest version of these famous comics, constructed for laughing purposes only, lovers of all that is best in the way of up-to-the-second humor will find the production something apart from the conventional. On the whole a rollicking, mirthful and effervescent concoction qualified to send the blues and duldrums of ordinary human existence to the tall timbers. A veritable avalanche of fun, revelry and screams, punctuated also with an original scenic equipment, a bevy of pretty young women, gorgeous costumes and other ingredients not to be found in a similar contribution. The company is large and capable and the patrons of the Elsinore who like to be entertained in a modern and wholesome manner are in for a high old time.

 unworkable in that the examinations were incomplete and superficial. Senator Marks defended the existing law and said its repeal would be a step backward.
 The bill to repeal the present medical certificate law lost by one vote. Senator Upton gave notice that he would seek to have the bill reconsidered.
 Following a lengthy debate, during which Senator Klepper branded George Cochran, La Grande attorney, as a shyster lawyer, the senate approved a bill introduced by Senator Strayer releasing property of the estate of O. G. and Blanche Hamilton, deceased, to Annie E. Hamilton. Senator Klepper said he feared that the passage of the bill would open the way whereby the La Grande attorney would obtain fees to which he was not entitled. Senator Kiddle declared the attack on Mr. Cochran was unwarranted, and probably was the result of professional jealousy.
 Approval of this bill was requested by the brotherhood of railroad conductors in order that the estate left by Mr. Hamilton might go to his widowed mother.
 At the request of Senator Eddy the senate voted to reconsider nine bills introduced by the repeal committee of the house. These bills were indefinitely postponed in the senate last Friday as the result of adverse reports filed by the revision and laws committee.

WEIRD FUNERAL FOR YOSHIHITO IS HELD

 High dignitaries of the empire, they being of a most sacred nature.
 The night was cold, but no snow fell as the great catafalque drawn by four sanctified oxen slowly wended its way between the crouching, mourning crowds in its four-wheeled journey to the funeral pyre. As it moved, the catafalque gave forth wailing music from its hubs, causing sobbing of the Japanese who regarded the procession as the passing of a deity.
 Wooden electric lanterns on pedestals and huge braziers on top of bamboo poles resembling burning-pipe pagodas, illuminated the route as Yoshihito was carried along to his burial before dawn to fulfill the tradition that the imperial spirit must go from darkness to darkness.
 Booming of distant cannon and the tolling of innumerable temple bells signaled the start of the procession, and court musicians playing weird, wailing notes from bamboo pipes accompanied it. In the cortège were imperial guides, army and navy bands, torch bearers and members of the funeral commission in ancient court dress with straw shoes and sandals. They were bearers of sacred erally sprinkled with humor, feature Fox Films latest production, "The War Horse," with Buck Jones in the stellar role, which will show at the Oregon theater Wednesday and Thursday.

 But, above all, the producers are to be congratulated on having made a picture that is a tribute to the horse and his participation in the World War.
 The story was written by Buck Jones, and if this is an example of what the great western horseman can do with the typewriter, then our advice is for him to write all the stories in which he is featured.
 "The War Horse" tells the tale of Grey Eagle, played by Silver Buck, and his adventures on European battle fields. This is a splendid tribute to his horse and as the tale unfolds both human and equine actors go through a series of adventures that are of absorbing interest. A fine romance involving Buck and Audrey Evans, played by Lola Todd, supplies the love interest, while Buck's efforts to win her despite the opposition of an officer who wants to marry the girl himself, furnishes the picture with plenty of comedy.
 All in all, "The War Horse" is the kind of picture that is certain to please every member of the family. It was directed by Lambert Hillier.

TAX MEASURES OCCUPY FRONT RANK AT MEET

 Patterson idea, were discussed as to rates and exemptions and to the amount of revenue to be derived. The King-Hall measure having a high rate would produce about $300,000 to $400,000 more than the committee or administration bill.
 The opinion of the committee seemed to be that it would be best to sponsor a measure that would have a low rate and a fairly high exemption, and that the main thing was to get a measure that would pass and after an income tax has been in operation for a time it would not be such a bitter pill to swallow as it now supposed.
 Mr. Fisher said the two bills are practically the same as the New York law and having been tried were the best to follow.
 It is very likely that the two bills will be combined in a measure suitable to all as to rates and exemptions, or all bills except the committee bill may be withdrawn or reported out unfavorably, and the latter amended to suit the opposing factions.
 There will be a public hearing Wednesday evening of the various tax measures which have been introduced. It is understood that a great share of the time will be devoted to the discussion of the Patterson income tax bill and the titling bill.

 there is about $7,000,000 and a part of this could be borrowed at 4 1/2 per cent. Later when the income tax is in operation it could be paid back.
 These two moves have signified an attack upon both the governor's bills, which were regarded by the administration as means of placing the state on a cash basis.

 ponent of the bill, predicted a vote while Senator Gooding, republican, Idaho, a supporter, declared the president would sign it and said managers of the measure so understood.
 Senator Curtis, the republican leader, offered the Curtis-Crisp $250,000,000 farm surplus bill as a complete substitute for the McNary-Haugen measure. He said it got around the equalization fee provision of the McNary-Haugen bill which he declared was unconstitutional and would meet objection from the producers.
 "My substitute follows the old plan of handling surpluses," Mr. Curtis continued. "We will have corporations organized to take care of the surplus. There are seldom more than two or three years of surpluses which are followed by shortages. We will hold the surpluses for the short years and protect not only the producers but the consumers."

PRINTING GROUP HIT

Abolishment of Committee Awaits Decision of Attorney
 There is one committee of the Salem city council that never has done any work, Councilman Hal D. Patton complained at Monday night's meeting. That is the printing committee, Patton said, and it ought to be abolished and its members put to work on something useful.
 Patton moved that the committee be abolished, but Councilman L. J. Simeral raised the point that the committees were specified in the charter, and it couldn't be changed without an election. Pending.

Do This when you first Sneeze

When a sneeze suggests that a cold has started, it is easily headed off. It need never develop. But the only way to prevent it is to have the right help on hand.
 If a cold has developed, check it quickly. You can do that in 24 hours. But do more than that. Stop the fever, open the bowels, eliminate the poisons, tone the entire system. Then you will probably feel much better than when the cold began.
 The best help is HILL'S. It combines the helps needed—all of them modern discoveries. One of the world's largest laboratories developed it as the most help for colds. It is so efficient, so complete that we paid $1,000,000 for it. The use has grown and grown, until millions now employ it.
 You will always know what to do for a cold when you once try HILL'S. But don't delay. Conquer that cold by tomorrow.

 $75,000 authorized by the emergency board to pay the farmers for flax straw furnished to the prison during the year 1926 would be repaid to the general fund of the state as fast as the finished product could be sold.
 A bill providing for the creation of law library funds passed the house yesterday.
 The money for the fund is to be derived from a 20 cent additional fee being charged on filing fees of each civil suit filed in the office of the county clerk, the fees to be collected by the clerk. Each county shall own and maintain a law library at its county seat, and all litigants or attorneys may have access to it at all times.
 The repeal of laws committee had seven bills passed yesterday. One of these did away with the judicial council. There was some objection to repealing this law. Mr. Lonergran declared the council was necessary, and that some good comes from their meetings, while Mr. Henderson said it never had nor never would do any good. Mr. Lewis stated it to be a judicial reform to keep some individuals from getting repealed into the supreme court, to save the supreme court from some work.
 The committee on public institutions introduced house bill number 506 yesterday giving the board of control the power to sell land on Center street now owned by the state and to purchase land on the same street for the use of the state hospital. The money derived from the sale of the first tract shall be applied on the purchase of the second. The land to be purchased contains about 54 acres and will be used in extending the work of the hospital. An appropriation of $12,000.00 is asked in the bill, all or part of which to be used in the purchase of the land.
 After the adjournment of the joint session yesterday afternoon, Speaker Carlin suggested that the house adjourn for half an hour that committees to whom had been referred bills that day be given time to pass upon some of them.
 The house adjourned until nearly five o'clock after which it met and reports of standing committees were read and bills went upon the calendar for final passage today as follows:
 HB 114, by Hazlett—Refunding of outstanding indebtedness of irrigation districts, and issue and sale of refunding bonds, etc.
 HB 392, by Lewis—Providing additional punishment for habitual criminals.
 HB 235, by Hamilton, Burdick, Collier and Senator Upton—Requiring vendors of livestock to give vendee a lawfully executed bill of sale.
 HB 325, 326, 327, 329, by Hunter—Relating to appointments of stock and brand inspectors, shipper requirements, selling of carcasses, etc.
 HB 420, by committee on livestock.
 HB 57, by Potter—Relating to legal rates for newspapers.
 HB 341, by Bailey—Relating to homestead exemptions.
 HB 218 and 219, by German—Relating to reorganization of fraternal benefit societies into mutual life insurance companies and issuance of certificates.
 HB 136, by Snell—Known as "Rules of the Road."
 HB 220, by German.
 HB 393—Increasing salaries in Douglas county, and SB, by Norblad, and 149 by Hall.

NORMAL DELEGATES REPORT FINE MEET

Membership Drive for YWCA to be Launched at Monmouth School
 OREGON NORMAL SCHOOL, Monmouth, Feb. 7.—(Special.)—Representatives of the Oregon Normal school returned from the two-day conference of the Seabeck division of the Willamette Valley YWCA held at Linfield college at McMinnville and report a very successful and instructive meeting according to Lois New, president of the Monmouth Normal branch. Miss New gives much credit for the success of the conference to Sumie Yamamoto, of McMinnville, who was general chairman of the meeting and whose executive ability makes her an outstanding officer of the association.
 Much time and discussion was given to formulating a comprehensive building program for the coming year and plans presented were met with enthusiasm. One of the most helpful discussions was on the success and failures of the past year throughout the valley smaller colleges and many of the projects accomplished and reported on gave inspiration to other delegates.
 The banquet held Saturday evening proved very entertaining as well as profitable. The themes for the toasts were the letters Y, W, C, A., Y. standing for Youth and the response to this was given by Miss Flora Haysany, one of the Monmouth representatives, and who handled the subject in a very fitting manner. Other delegates responded to the other symbolical letters with W, as worthy aims, C, conventions and A, attainments. Much amusement was furnished by the Willamette delegates giving an impromptu stunt as a takeoff on their eastern trip.
 Lois New, one of the Monmouth delegates to Milwaukee, had charge of the Sunday morning worship service.
 Miss Sumie Yamamoto of Linfield has accepted an invitation to appear before the student body of the Monmouth normal school at an early date. A membership drive will start on the normal campus on Wednesday.

Bits For Breakfast

Figure it as you may—
 Make it a $100,000-odd loss to the state in the 12 years of its operation—
 Or count the flax industry at the penitentiary worth $500,000 at the present time—
 And there are figures to prove either contention. But the state flax industry, and the other industries there, and that may be established there, are capable of making the institution self supporting—
 And that will be worth many millions of dollars to Oregon, counting in cold dollars only; to say nothing of making it a model institution, worth as such many more millions, in the reformation of men; in the many benefits to society and the untold help to the innocent victims on the outside of the prison walls, the families of the inmates; in the reduction of court costs—in ways beyond computation.
 The ways and means committee is very wise in deciding to keep the Oregon state penitentiary industries going. With good management, the time will arrive in eight years, and perhaps in four years, when that institution will be taken permanently—forever and a day—from the shoulders of the taxpayers.
 Ella McMunn, in a private letter to the editor of The Statesman, says she hopes he will hear Dr. Grenfell at the armory tonight. She adds: "I regard him as the greatest man in the world. These fellows that freeze their fool heads off getting to the Pole—just for glory, do not appeal to me; nor those who swim channels—for money. But this man gave up every comfort in the world and got neither gold nor glory. Whenever we got a little bored with our situation, we used to borrow the book from the library that tells about him, and then we didn't holler any more. There is a place that tells about how the Eskimos loved his little girl that died up North, and how they wept and wailed when there was talk of removing her little white body away from her snowy bed in the North. Dr. Mount of Silverton, I think, was once a member of the Grenfell party."
