OREGON'S GREATEST NEED

Oregon's greatest need is advertising—
Because advertising will bring all the other needs; more people for the industries on the land, linked up with more people in the industries in the cities—
Giving a solid and balanced growth of population and wealth, allowing every resource of our state to be steadily developed on safe lines.
House bill 278 was defeated by a close vote in the lower branch of the Oregon legislature a couple of days ago; but it is understood that there is to be an attempt at reconsideration, because a number of members did not fully understand its provisions—
And this should be done; and the bill ought to pass. A sponsor of the measure has made out a statement of the "Objects and Purposes of the Bill," plain and to the point, as follows:
This bill is not mandatory. It simply gives county authorities authority to levy this tax, if they so desire.
The proceeds of this tax must be spent on legitimate development and advertising, to suit the needs of the county. The levy can be for all or any portion of the rate authorized in the bill.
The amount raised by the tax is entirely within the control of the county.
All the states and communities in America that are advertising, are progressing. They are increasing their populations, bank deposits, industries and the settlers on the lands.
These states, rather than devise means for reducing taxation, are bringing more people into the state, to lighten the burden of taxation, and to spread it over more people.
Oregon's greatest need is for new people, new industries, new settlers, but she is not getting them because she hasn't adopted the same methods as other states.
Idaho, in this present legislature, is providing for a national advertising campaign, through legislative appropriation. It will advertise to attract tourists, for new settlers, for new markets for its products, and for new industries. It will be the fourteenth state to adopt an advertising by taxation policy.
Florida has brought more wealth into the state in the past three years, through advertising, than in the previous 25 years. Four million dollars is spent in advertising annually, raised by taxation.
California has a population equal to all the rest of the Pacific coast. She has not any greater natural assets, or any more advantages than Oregon or Washington, but she has populated and developed the state through advertising. California spends two and one-half million dollars a year in advertising, one-half of which is raised by taxation.
California has the same law that bill 278 will give to Oregon, and under its provisions forty-eight counties in California have taken advantage of the authority created.
Portland business men in the past years have raised $550,000 to develop and advertise Oregon, without one dollar for any other portion of the state. Every part of the state has benefitted.

THE McNARY BILL

The McNary bill passed the house last night. This is what was known as the McNary-Haugen bill. But the Haugen bill was withdrawn and the McNary bill substituted for it in the house, after the McNary bill passed the senate—
And the determined farm bloc and other supporters held the house in continuous session, without dinner, last night, in order to reach the vote that passed it. The bill now goes to the president, and if he signs it, the bill will be the law; the farm relief act; the only farm relief act that has been considered that will give farm relief—
Though whatever else it will do is problematical. One thing certain, it will work. This is admitted by the greatest living economists, though it will be an entirely new thing in the world. No such an experiment was ever yet tried on so extensive a scale. In very few words, it is this:
It is 100 per cent compulsory cooperation. Take the case of wheat. Say the United States produces 800,000,000 bushels of wheat for sale in the markets. Say this country will use 600,000,000 bushels of wheat. That leaves 200,000,000 bushels to sell outside the United States. The tariff duty on wheat is 42 cents a bushel. The board to administer the McNary law will assess every bushel of wheat sold off the farms, say 5 cents a bushel. The price will be, say, 40 cents a bushel above the world price of wheat. This will give the farmers who sell their wheat off their farms 35 cents a bushel above the world price. The surplus of 200,000 bushels will be fed into the world markets at what it will bring. The 5 cents a bushel paid into the revolving fund will be used to make up the losses on the exported wheat. That is all there is to it. If a larger surplus of wheat is grown, the whole amount sold will have to pay more than 5 cents a bushel to make up the losses on the exported wheat, if the world market is low, and the farmer will net less than 35 cents above the world price.
The bill as it is now mentions wheat, corn, swine, cotton and rice as major crops each having an exportable surplus; but this is only descriptive. The operation of the law may include ANY major crop with an exportable surplus, like prunes, apples—anything.
No one is obliged to sell anything. He may feed or plant his product on his farm, and pay nothing. But if he sells any product designated as coming under the operation of the law, he must pay the fee to make up the loss, if any, on the exportable surplus.
Volumes might be written; have been spoken in the two houses of congress, for and against the principle of the bill—

But, the above is all there is to it; it is just 100 per cent compulsory cooperation—
And the 30,000,000 farmers of the United States, almost to the last man, want it, and there is no telling what is going to happen in the politics of this country if they do not get it.

WHIPPED TO A FRAZZLE

The Cantonese armies are forging north. They will take Shanghai. Great things were threatened by the heathen war lords a few days ago—but their forces are whipped, and part of them absorbed by the Cantonese armies.
Great things are threatened by them further north, against the army of Marshal Feng, the Chinese Christian general—
But if they come up against Feng's forces they will be whipped to a frazzle and scattered to the four winds. The world never saw a better army of its size than Feng's 180,000 Christian soldiers, nor a more loyal one.
The Cantonese and the Feng armies will soon be in Pekin, and, if they can agree, as they should, having much the same objectives, there will be a new United States of China—
Which, if they can hold together long enough, will make China a great nation; the most populous and the richest in the world, past or present; not even excepting the United States.

Bits For Breakfast

Give your pledge quickly—
And it will be almost as good as giving twice—
This means today, to hearten the faithful YWCA workers for their budget to keep the institution going.
Time flies. Customs change. So do styles. The Follies of 1900 and the Follies of 1927, at the Elsinore theater Sunday and Monday, will tell you a lot. And the great Griffith circus picture, "Sally of the Sawdust," will be thrown in for more than good measure.
They had a hot time in the lower house of congress last night—nine straight hours of it. But the McNary bill passed. Senator Charles McNary, of Salem, Oregon, is the biggest man in the world to 20,000,000 people on the farms of the United States. He must be a tired senator this morning. He has stood up to two of the greatest fights in the history of federal legislation in this country.
Near-beer has limitations, but it never makes anybody try to drive between one truck.
Judge E. P. Short of San Francisco says: "I have noticed in my years on the bench that most of the women who want divorces live in apartments and have no property interests with their husbands."
New Yorkers are paying as high as $1 a box for Florida strawberries. But that's nothing. Think what Browning is paying for "Peaches."
For years White Leghorn hens have been considered the greatest egg producers of any breed of chickens, but they will have to look to their laurels, as several of the larger breeds by trapezing are beginning to make wonderful laying records. At the Fort Collins, Colorado, egg laying contest Rhode Island Whites are in the lead. At Storrs, Connecticut, White Rocks are leading and at the Puyallup, Washington, egg laying contest Barred Rocks are in the lead.
Police raids in New York City have been extended to include night clubs as well as theaters. Last night the "Three Hundred" club with its widely known Texas Guinan, whom dispatches say, was supposed to be above the prohibition law, was raided and Miss Guinan thrown in jail on three separate charges. At this rate New York's mayor and police chief are likely to get in bad with a certain constituency, at least.

SUNNY CALIFORNIA FEELS SUN AGAIN

Property Loss Heavy, Death Toll at 22, in Southern Rainstorms

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Sunshine broke through the clouds today and revealed a silver lining as southern California slowly emerged from the most destructive rain and snowstorms in recent years.
Although the property loss is conceded to be heavy and probably will run into several million dollars, orchardists and truck farmers predicted that the benefit to crops by the soaking four days' rain would overshadow the damage done by the storm.
Definite estimates of property damages still were lacking today. The death toll stood at 22.
The cost of repairs to roads and bridges in Los Angeles alone has been placed at $1,000,000 with an additional $100,000 to cover damages to homes and private property.
The losses mounted today when reports received from Escondido stated that the entire San Pasquale valley east of there had been swept by flood waters causing damages estimated at $500,000.
San Diego still was cut off from rail and highway communication tonight.
Los Angeles received six and a half inches of rain in the four days: Pasadena 9.80; Arcadia 9.05; Sierra Madre 10.24; and Mount Wilson the greatest fall 13.33.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17.—(AP)—While northern California struggled today to repair storm damage, the weather bureau predicted heavy rains for this section in the next 24 hours, with snow in the Sierra and gales, at sea as far north as Cape Flattery. The rain was forecast for as far south as the Mexican border.

CORVALLIS ORPHAN HOME BILL LOSES

Buchanan Withdraws OAC Appropriation Measures, Two Armories Lost

The entire morning session of the house yesterday was taken up in the discussion of four house bills asking for appropriations for buildings at Oregon City, St. Helens, Oregon Agricultural College and the Boys and Girls home near Corvallis. These measures were reported out of the joint ways and means committee with adverse reports.
Representative Lewis' motion to have the negative committee report on bill number 24, providing for an appropriation of $25,000 to build a cottage at the boys and girls home, was set aside and the bill placed on the calendar was voted down by a majority of 34 to 17.
Mr. Lewis in his plea for his bill said the committee had allowed many appropriations that were not as essential as the building of a cottage for orphan girls. Mr. Gordon, chairman of the ways and means committee, said that he had no desire to do any injustice to the orphans but as $50,000 had been supplied by the committee for the aid of children's homes he thought this should be sufficient.
Those voting against the motion were: Baiting, Briggs, Bronaugh, Chindgren, Clark, Collier, Cramer, Eppinger, Fisher, German, Giesy, Gordon, Graham, Hamilton, R. S. Henderson, Howard, Hunter, McCready, McPhillips, McGowan, Miller, North, Norvell, Paulson, Peirce, Potter, Russel, Schulmerich, Settlemier, Stevens, Snell, Swan and Tom.

Bills number 322 and 82 by Representatives Slevens and Allen for armories at Oregon City and St. Helens respectively, were withdrawn in view of the fact that the financial condition of the state would not permit their construction at the present time.
Representative Buchanan also withdrew his two bills asking for the expenditure of over half a million dollars on building at the Oregon Agricultural college. Although the necessity of the building was recognized by everyone familiar with the conditions at the college Mr. Buchanan said he would withdraw the bills for the same reason as the others.
