

SIDELIGHTS OF THE STAGE and SCREEN

Elsinore Theater "Young April" will show at the Elsinore theater for the last time today, March 3. This is an interesting picture showing a crown prince and the attendant circumstances when he falls in love with a young lady whom he supposes to be an American. Later she turns out to be a duchess and more complications develop. Finally all works out to the complete satisfaction of all; but the conclusion is different from the usual results of such pictures. In addition to the picture, an added attraction will be Grandin at the Wurplitzer reproducing "A Voice From the Past."

On Friday there will be a fine vaudeville bill and the picture, "The Mad Whirl."

"The Storm Breakers" featuring House Peters will be the special attraction at the Elsinore theater for one day, March 5.

"The Auctioneer" will be shown at the Elsinore theater for two days, March 6 and 7. In addition to the picture the Fanchon and Marco vaudeville bill will furnish the special entertainment for the patrons.

"The Noose," said to be the most thrilling drama of the underworld written in years, will be presented here at the Elsinore theater March 9, by an excellent company of players under the direction of A. G. Wilkes and C. O. Baumann. "The Noose," which is to be the attraction at the Wilkes theater, San Francisco, when "Castles in the Air" has finished its very successful run there, is the work of the celebrated Willard Mack, one of the most prolific and successful dramatists of modern times.

Oregon Theater "The Rose of Paris" will be shown at the Oregon theater for two days, March 3 and 4. This is a story of a girl unaware of her ancestry, knowing only that her mother was dead, a beautiful French girl leads a happy life in a convent. One day to the convent a young man comes who takes his little adopted daughter, the child of a dead friend. The girl and the child were firm friends and their parting was touching. Came another day when to the convent came a woman saying she was the friend of the girl's mother and had come to take the girl away, to a room over a squalid cafe frequented by the Apaches of Paris. The woman was actuated by the money promised her by the business partner of the child's grandfather, who on his death bed pledged this partner to find the daughter the old man had disowned. Horrified by her surroundings, the girl escapes and goes to the great estate where her little convent friend lives. There she becomes a servant, but her beauty subjects her to abhorrent attentions. Through various incidents she again finds herself in the power of the woman who had taken her from the convent. Just as she decides that death is her only relief, comes greater happiness than ever she had conceived for herself.

"Risky Business" will be shown at the Oregon theater for two days, Saturday and Sunday, March 5 and 6. "Silken Shackles," will be the attraction at the Oregon theater for three days, March 7, 8 and 9.

Capitol Theater Bligh's Capitol theater will offer today and Friday a Big Double Bill program, on the stage The Hollywood Players will present the season's comedy hit "Almee's Lost Shack," in three big acts. People who think they are busy these days should learn about Elinor Glyn, famous novelist and motion picture creator, and her daily schedule while supervising a picture, such as "Love's Blindness," which shows at the Capitol theater today; with Pauline Starke and Antonio Moreno in the leading roles.

Mme. Glyn arises at 5:30 a. m. every day of the year. She never sleeps more than five hours and frequently less. She begins writing immediately upon arising, after first glancing through the newspapers. She writes all her stories in longhand, using plain foolscap paper and heavy black pencils. She does not dictate because the presence of another person in the same room distracts her.

At the hotel where she lives in Los Angeles a special sleeping balcony has been constructed in connection with her suite that permits her to sleep out under the stars every night in the year.

For Friday evening the Capitol will present Wilson's New Ladies' apparel shop in a spring style show, and also the regular Friday song contest. The numbers to learn this week are "In the Good Old Summer Time," "Moonlight on the Ganges," "In a Spanish Town."

PARENT TEACHERS HOLD FINE MEET

Vaudeville Announced for March 17; Girls' Club to Give Program

FALLS CITY, Ore., March 2.—(Special)—The regular meeting of the Falls City Parent-Teacher association was held Monday night in the high school auditorium, with a large and enthusiastic membership. Guests from out of town, who assisted with the program, were Mrs. J. S. Landers, wife of President Landers, and Miss Edna Culver, of the department of English OSNS, Monmouth, also Miss Kathleen Booth, a student who did her teacher's training work here several weeks ago. Mrs. Richard Paul led the community singing, from the song leaflet furnished by the state association, with Miss Jobses accompanying.

Mrs. Landers sang "Good Night, Little Girl, Good Night," a charming song, rendered in a charming manner. Miss Booth played the accompaniment.

The business meeting brought out several matters of interest, and considerable discussion. A communication from the children's farm home, asking for help on both building and school funds, or either one, was read. As the local organization could not finance a gift to the farm home just now it was decided to write, acknowledging the request, and pledging the financial help before the close of the school year.

Mrs. R. L. Griswold, chairman of the civic pride committee, reported the committee as ready to begin work on the high school grounds, saying the association had on hand $5.00, given back by Mrs. Lowe when she received an award from this committee a few years ago. On motion it was decided to authorize Mrs. Griswold to use not to exceed $30.00 including this $5.00 gift, in purchasing shrubbery.

The girls' sewing club, division 3, asked for permission to furnish the program and give a box social at the next regular meeting of the association, March 28, as they are planning to attend the boys' and girls' clubs summer session at OAC and want to finance the trip by money they earn. On motion it was decided to give the club girls the evening. All the ladies of the Parent-Teacher association were invited by the girls to bring a "box" or "basket" to be sold. The young ladies will furnish hot coffee.

Mrs. Hatch reported the executive committee had decided to give a vaudeville the night of March 17, St. Patrick's Day, naming those who will furnish one number each: Mrs. Ethel Miller, Mrs. R. L. Griswold, Mrs. Richard Paul, Mrs. Mabel Hatch, J. A. Reiber, Miss Dorothy Riggs, Mrs. F. J. Patton, Miss Mildred Thompson, Jane Hammel, Clyde Bancroft, Wentworth VanDenBosch, Miss Ina Graham and Mrs. H. Mather Smith. An admission charge will be made.

Miss Culver spoke very entertainingly on the relationship of the parents and teachers, relating many anecdotes of her own experience in pioneer organizations of this kind. She also explained some of the methods used and results desired in the teaching of reading and English, saying the intent was to teach the pupil to acquire a taste for good reading, and to find his own lessons from what he reads. Mrs. Landers gave two very acceptable song numbers, "Happy

ROLLICKING COMEDY REHEARSALS START

Play to Be Staged for Benefit of Building Fund of West Salem Church

For the benefit of the building fund of the Methodist church in West Salem, a play will be given on Thursday and Friday nights of next week by the ladies of the church. Rehearsals have been under way for several weeks on the production, which is called "And Old Fashioned Mother." It is written by Walter Ben Hare, who is the author of several popular plays for amateurs, and is brimful of rollicking comedy, tense dramatic scenes, and pathos. The play is under the direction of Perry Prescott Reigelman, who staged the fast-stepping farce-comedy "A Full House" at the Capitol last December. Mr. Reigelman has successfully directed a number of popular plays and is working hard to make "An Old Fashioned Mother," equal to the best. Rehearsals have been delayed on account of the flu but everything is in ship-shape order now for two delightful evenings next week when the footlights flash on and the curtain rises. The cast of the play is as follows: Deborah Underhill, the old fashioned mother whose loyalty to her children brings her almost to the poorhouse, Mrs. Ida Chapman; Widder Bill Pindle, a gossiping creature and leader of the village choir, Mrs. Elva Thomas; Miss Loviny Custard, who has been twenty-seven for twenty years, Lottie McAdams; Isabelle Simpscott, a haughty young lady, Mrs. Ferguson; Gloriana Perkins, the hired girl, Miss Bernice Wood; Sucky Pindle, the naughty little girl, Jessie Camell; John Underhill, the worst of the deacons' six, Ervin Simmons; Charles Underhill, who wants to move to the city, Ralph Sebern; Jonah Quackenbush, the officious deacon, Roy Ferguson; Jerry Goslin, who carries a lot of comedy on his shoulders, Curtis Ferguson; Enoch Bone, the tramp, Gilbert Dillon; Quintus Todd, the sheriff, Wendell Sebern.

GIDEON STOLZ CO. OLDEST BUSINESS

The Gideon Stolz Co., vinegar factory is the oldest manufacturing business in Salem which has been conducted under the same name throughout its history, members of the Salem Rotary club were told in a report by Dr. L. R. Burdette in a report at Wednesday's luncheon which was one of a series which will be presented from time to time. Started in 1879, the vinegar factory has grown from proportions comparable to the farmer's vinegar barrel for home consumption, to an output of 11,700 barrels in 1926, Dr. Burdette said. The methods today, as well as the capacity, are widely different from those used at first. The factory here supplies local trade from Seattle to Medford, and a large quantity is shipped east. This year, according to the report, not all of the vinegar produced will be sold, a part being retained as a surplus for possible years of shortage in the apple crop. Chas. K. People Should Learn Facts to Criticise

Reynolds Explains Reason for Existing Conditions People who criticize the legislative ways and means committee for recommending more expenditures than were contained in the budget made out by the board of control, should be apprised that that budget includes a number of items on which no recommendation is made, and that is the reason why the committee's total is greater. Senator Lloyd T. Reynolds explained at the Rotary club luncheon Wednesday. Oregon's financial condition is the result, first of the passage of the six per cent limitation amendment in 1916; next the income tax law of 1923, which cut down the base on which the limitation is figured, and third, the repeal of the income tax provision, Reynolds said.

the charitable and rescue work of the Salvation Army, were described at the Kiwanis club luncheon Tuesday by Ensign Pitt, who is in charge of the work here. Despite the fact that conditions in Salem were better in the winter now closing than they were the year before, a greater number of persons were given assistance by the Salvation Army, Pitt said. The Army has been operating on a narrow margin this year, due to the fact that it called off its financial campaign so as to avoid banking that of the YMCA for its building fund, the ensign explained.
