

SIDE LIGHTS OF THE STAGE and SCREEN

Capitol Vaudeville and a moving picture in one—that's the odd achievement of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer in "Upstage," Norma Shearer's new starring vehicle, which will show at the Capitol theater for four days, March 15, 16, 17 and 18.

It has all the glitter and glamor of a vaudeville show; all the laughs and thrills of the varieties—and the romance and heart throbs of a wonderful screen story, all rolled into one concentrate of entertainment.

Norma plays a vaudeville dancer—one of a song and dance team, playing "Big time" until she gets the "swelled head," when she loses her place, finally has to work in the chorus of a "girl act," and then, learning her lesson, "Comes back."

It is an intimate story of life behind the scenes; one sees the rehearsals, the setting up for acts—all the things the audience never sees on the other side of the big drop in the theater.

Bonnie Lloyd and her Four Red Hats top the bill in a "Melange of music, song and dance." Miss Lloyd is a pleasing young lady and she is backed by four dapper and talented young men in one of the poppiest revues seen here this season. Lester and Vincent have a pleasing comedy vehicle entitled "Community Service" which is a sure laugh producer and shows this charming pair of performers off to a good advantage, giving them ample opportunity to display their versatility. Jewel Ford, that dashing musical comedy comedienne, presents "Smiles, songs and surprises," which is really a clever bit of character impersonations which are bright and full of good clean laughs. Her costuming is attractive and correct for each character. The dancing Kennedys are a fast pair of hoofers and their offering is of their own original idea and one has to be agile in the extreme to outstep these nimble footed dancers. Mates Brothers, those "up and down boys," are real athletes and good examples of what careful care of one's self coupled with proper exercise will do in developing a commanding physique.

On the screen "The Sporting Chance," a fast racing picture with an all star cast. Viola Vercler Holman and Capitol orchestra will feature the latest hit "Muddy Waters."

Elsinore The following letter was received by Mr. John Martin concerning the Chinese act, "The Feast of the Lanterns": "Dear Mr. Martin: "Received your wire. We are calling the Chinese act "The Feast of the Lanterns" starring the honorable Mr. Wu and big company of Chinese artists.

"This act is a positive knockout YOUR SICK CHILD IS CONSTIPATED! LOOK AT TONGUE

Hurry, Mother! Remove poisons from little stomach, liver, bowels

Give "California Fig Syrup" if cross, bilious or feverish

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given.

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look! Mother, see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that the little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste.

When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Fig Syrup" and in a few hours all the constipated poisons, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of the little bowels without gripping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mother's can rest easy after giving this harmless, "fruity laxative" because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle. Mothers beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Fig Syrup"; then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

our engineers estimate that after we deduct that portion of the works which will be taken over by the power development, we are left on various estimates with a cost to the governments of from $100,000,000 to $200,000,000, which itself may some day be recovered from power. This is not a stupendous sum for two nations."

"There are 15 people in the act, including a Chinese jazz band that wows them, a line of six Chinese girls, a girl doing a fast hula, another girl doing the slow version, a baritone soloist, dancers, etc. The Honorable Mr. Wu, of course, heads the act and he is a very clever chap and goes over like a million.

"Sincerely yours, "Senator Theater, "F. C. Burhans, Mgr. "Sacramento, Cal."

"The Feast of the Lanterns," which shows at the Elsinore today and Monday, March 13 and 14, leading off with an artistic setting, in which the whole company is seen bowing before a huge Buddha, in prayer for the "three greatest things—heaven, earth and man"—and ending with a grand finale of the same scene, is one of the beauty romances of the orient.

The company, composed of 15 Chinese led by "the Honorable Mr. Wu," present a program of rare novelty. Everything from the modern "Black bottom," and up-to-date jazz, to the ancient Chinese tunes and dances, is presented by this company in true oriental fashion.

"Mr. Wu" is a man of many talents. He sings in a mellow oriental voice, he dances and gives a number of impersonations which are clever. The other dancers are also light and graceful. Their presentations take one to the land of colorful fancies and exotic forms.

In addition to the "Feast of the Lanterns" on Sunday and Monday, Richard Dix may be seen on the screen in "The Quarterback." This is a wonderful picture and will prove of great interest to all.

"The Nervous Wreck" featuring Al Christie will be the attraction at the Elsinore theater for three days, March 15, 16 and 17.

"The Man in Blue" will be the picture at the Elsinore on Friday, March 18, and in addition there will be a fine vaudeville bill.

Oregon Marie Prevost will be seen in one of her most delightful screen impersonations as a physician's wife in her new Metropolitan comedy, "For Wives Only," which shows at the Oregon theater today and Monday, March 13 and 14.

The story deals with a wife who is left by her husband in the care of three friends who, as soon as he disappears, annoy her with their unsolicited and unwelcome attentions. How she circumvents them affords spectators a highly diverting hour of wholesome screen entertainment. Victor Varconi is quite effective in his portrayal of the somewhat negligent husband. Others in the cast whose work won high commendation are Charles Gerrard, Arthur Hoyt, Claude Gillingwater, William Courtright, Dorothy Cummings and Josephine Crowell.

"Kosher Kitty Kelly" will be the special attraction at the Oregon theater for three days, March 15, 16 and 17.

John Barrymore in "The Beloved Rogue" will be the show at the Oregon theater for six days, beginning March 18.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR PAULINE LOONEY

Pauline Looney Daughter of Pioneers Died at Her Home

JEFFERSON, Or., March 11.—Pauline Looney was born April 9, 1845, and died at Jefferson, Ore., March 11, 1927 at the little home she loved so well, attended by friends and relatives, and her faithful companion, Mary.

She was the daughter of Jesse and Ruby Looney, pioneers of 1843, and the first child born to them on their donation land claim at Looney's Butte. She lived there for many years.

Miss Looney was a member of the Christian Science church, a Daughter of the American Revolution, and a charter member of the Order of Eastern Star, of which she was a Past Matron, and a former officer in the Grand Chapter of Oregon, O. E. S.

She had been an invalid for seven years, but prior to her illness, took an active part in social and public affairs. She served as chairman of the local Red Cross during the World war.

Growing up with the history of Oregon, she felt keen interest in the progress and development of the country as was a well-known figure at pioneer gatherings and state fairs. At the first fair held in Salem she was awarded a beautiful saddle in a ladies' riding contest.

A woman of strong personality, her home became a social center where she extended gracious hospitality to all who came within her doors.

She is survived by two brothers and two sisters, David H. and Norris H. Looney and Mrs. Frances Cornell of Jefferson, and Mrs. A. J. Fairbanks of Willets, Cal. Funeral services will be held at Jefferson, Sunday, March 13, from the Christian church, with Rev. Fite officiating. Interment in Looney family cemetery.

Christian Endeavor Bodies in Multnomah Grow Fast

PORTLAND, March 12.—(AP)—A gain of 1049 members by the Christian Endeavor societies of Multnomah county has been noted in the past year, officials reported today at the annual convention of the Portland organizations.

Although the work of the societies as a whole has shown a steady growth, it was shown, with 119 branches as compared to 110 a year ago, the junior division has suffered a dropping off. This was said by Endeavor officials to be due to lack of leadership.
